J. EVERETT BARR, Yreka attorney, crowned King Spaghetti in the 1954 Weed Italian Carnivale, will reign as king of this year's celebration on September 10-11. Mel n Soletti, Weed's first spaghetti king, conceded the contest and crowned Barr last year in the presence of Mrs. Ralph Santini, chairman. She will serve as chairman of this year's festival again.

Strauss Tells Atom Progress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said last night the Atomic Energy Commission drive to harness the H-bomb's power for peaceful uses has been stepped up a thousand fold during the past two years.

Strauss was asked in a CBS radio-TV interview about the demand by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) that the AEC greatly increase its efforts in this field. Anderson heads the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

Strauss said the AEC program "is not being stinted in any way" but added that it presents "an engineering and physical problem of enormous proportions."

The AEC, he said, has in a two-year period increased by some 1,000 per cent the money and manpower devoted to seeking a controlled thermonuclear (hydrogen) reaction — a possibility discussed at the recent Geneva conference on peaceful atomic uses.

Asked how U.S. atomic know-how compared with that of Russia, Strauss said he knows of at least one field in which the Soviets are ahead. He said they have more and larger accelerators, such as the cyclotrons used in basic atomic studies.

The Russian lead in this field, he indicated, might hasten a trend which he said could eventually put Russia ahead in finding peaceful uses of atomic energy. He said this country is ahead now.

Land Bureau Plans Outing

A meeting of the 14 man advisory board for the Medford District of the Bureau of Land Management has been scheduled for September 1 according to E. K. Peterson, district forester. The meeting will be a combination field trip and business meeting. During the field trip the advisory board members will observe construction now in progress on the Calico timber access road west of Grants Pass and forest practices on one timber sale contract area.

The afternoon business meeting will be held at the Bureau's Blister Rust camp near the west end of the road construction. Among the subjects to be considered are the volume of timber to be advertised for sale in 1956 and the priority for construction of future timber access roads. Also, the District Forester and his staff will give a progress report concerning the land exchange now underway involving O & C lands and national forest lands.

Members of the Jackson County Court will attend as guests. L. L. Simpson is chairman of the advisory board. Other members are Eric Allen Jr., George Flanagan, Glenn Jackson, B. L. Nutting, Gene Tedrick and W. B. Tucker, Medford; O. K. Puckett and Tim Sullivan, Klamath Falls; F. I. Bristol, Cliff Coleman, Raymond T. Lathrop, and Ralph Moore Jr., Grants Pass; and Tom Mehl Jr., Glendale.

Woman Called By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) —Mrs. Deborah Landy, whose former Communist activities once cost her son a Naval Reserve commission, was called under subpoena for questioning today by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Mrs. Landy, a Bradley Beach, N.J., widow, is the mother of 21-year-old Eugene Landy, who graduated as an honor student this month from the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y. The Navy denied him a commission on grounds his mother had been a Communist, but now has a special three-man board reconsidering the case.

Mrs. Landy, 54, has admitted she was a Communist from 1937 to 1947. She told newsmen she quit the party at her son's urging.

Southern Democrats Seek Challenger For Stevenson

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moves among Southern Democrats toward forming an anti-Stevenson bloc appeared today to be foundering for lack of agreement on another candidate for president.

The recent announcement of Sen. Russell (D-Ga) before he left for Europe that he "definitely will not run again" apparently has removed the chief challenger around whom Dixie Democrats opposed to Adlai E. Stevenson could have rallied.

Stevenson, the former governor of Illinois who won the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952, hasn't yet announced his plans for 1956. But it is widely believed that he will try again.

Thus far no other possible opponent has emerged who seems likely to command anywhere near as much Southern support as Russell did in 1952 when he got 268 votes — only five short of Stevenson's total — on the first ballot at the party convention. All but 48 of Russell's votes came from the South.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), who topped both Russell and Stevenson with 340 on the first ballot, may make a new try next year. But Kefauver is no favorite of Dixie Democrats, as evidenced by the fact that only 41 of his 1952 votes came from the South.

These 41 included 28 from Kefauver's own state of Tennessee, where Gov. Frank G. Clement has publicly committed himself to work for Stevenson's renomination.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, who supported Dwight D. Eisenhower three years ago, has called for a Southern "revolt" against Stevenson's nomination. There is some suspicion among his colleagues that Shivers would like to be the rallying figure of such a revolt.

But Shivers' declaration that he would support "practically anybody"—including a Republican—in preference to Stevenson is not expected to endear him to Democratic leaders in Dixie.

Lately there has been talk among some Southerners about advancing Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio as a candidate who could command Southern support and pick up conservative backing elsewhere. But while Lausche has said he may seek "favorite son" designation in Ohio, many of his friends think he is much more interested in contesting Sen. Bender (R-Ohio) for a Senate seat than he is in any kind of serious run for the presidential nomination.

There are some Southern Democrats who regard Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as a more attractive candidate than Stevenson. They concede, however, that Harriman's views on the party-splitting civil rights issue are just as strong as Stevenson's.

Weather Favors Most Of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generally pleasant weather, ranging from nippy temperatures in the Northeast to early morning heat in the Southwest, prevailed today.

The early readings Monday ranged from the 40s in the northern and central New England and parts of the northern Rockies to the mid 80s in the Rio Grande Valley and the desert Southwest. Readings in the 70s were common from Green Bay, Wis., to Washington, D.C., southward to the Gulf and west through the plains region.

Showers spreading northward from the Louisiana coast reached into eastern Oklahoma. Scattered from eastern Wyoming across Nebraska and South Dakota to the extreme northwest area of Wisconsin.
