

BRA-STRAP CUSHIONS of softest foam latex will protect the shoulders from red marks left by too-tight straps and will prevent straps from slipping. Made by Califoam, Inc., Chicago, the cushions come in tearose or white, are washable and are simply snapped onto the strap.

It's New

Every woman wants to keep her shoulders beautiful. But often the clothes we wear make this something of a problem. Bra straps leave red marks, frequently because on the most gracefully sloping shoulders they must be drawn tight to be held in place. The strap mark problem has been well solved by a new product called Califoam Bra-Strap Cushion. This softest cosmetic foam latex pad snaps on the bra at the shoulder.

The girls with sloping shoulders will find their straps will no longer slip out of place, and they'll no longer need to wear their bra so tight. For those with a full figure which needs firm support, there's now no need for red marks that tell tales when donning a strapless dress or bathing suit. Mothers-to-be will appreciate this innovation, too!

The Califoam cushions come in white or tearose and are attached simply by snapping them to the straps and sliding them into place. What's more, they can be washed by dipping them in mild suds. The cushions may be found at notion counters in variety and department stores.

By Bessy, the Basin Bossy
Variety is the modern "must", whether in fashion, fun or food.
That's why, I'm sure, milk is gaining a bigger and better popularity day by day. More and more people are drinking milk every day than ever before in history. And more older folks very wisely haven't given up their milk habit just because they passed 21.

And the younger set — showing its built-in wisdom the parents are prone to brag about — has made it the "smart" thing to do to keep right on drinking milk through teenage and up.

No other refreshing drink brings you so much health and flavor for so little cost. And no wonder, for an entire industry of men, machines and animals works feverishly to bring fresh, grade "A" milk right to you.

As an example of the variety milk offers, here's a new recipe called "Orange Buttermilk Treat":
You'll need a cup of orange juice, 1/4 teaspoon of grated orange rind, 1/4 cup sugar, 3 cups of cold buttermilk. Put ingredients into a shaker and shake vigorously for a few minutes. Serve with crushed ice — servings for three.

ChocolateFizz — For each serving blend 1/4 cup chocolate syrup with 1/2 cup milk. Chill. Add 1/2 cup soda water. Top with scoop of vanilla or chocolate ice cream.

Just a couple of examples. You know them by the dozens. I'll bet. Take it from me, this little variation in milk offerings will just increase the family demand — and the family health, too. Bessy.

LAYERED PEACH AND CHEESE SALAD is a pretty luncheon entrée which may be served with finger sandwiches, hot tea or coffee. The salad of cherry red gelatin, ripe yellow peaches and white cottage cheese is truly handsome and delightful to eat. Photo and recipe courtesy General Foods.

APPETIZER

A justly popular appetizer is this one — Pineapple Stuffed Celery. Soften one 3-oz. package of cream cheese and mix with 1/4 cup of crushed pineapple and 1 teaspoon horseradish. Stuff crisp celery with this "mix" and serve with black or green olives.

Summer Theme

This recipe will serve six to eight persons and, of course, can be made with either canned or fresh peaches, but the fresh ones are so good on the market today — and the season is all too short.

SALAD

1 package cherry - flavored gelatin
Dash of salt
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons cold water

1 1/2 cups sliced fresh peaches
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese, finely sieved

Dissolve gelatin and salt in hot water. Add 1/2 cup cold water. Add sugar and 2 tablespoons cold water to peaches. Let stand about 15 minutes. Then add to 1 cup of the gelatin. Pour into 1 1/2-quart ring mold. Chill until firm.

Meanwhile, chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Fold in cottage cheese. Pour over firm peach gelatin in ring. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with salad greens. If desired, fill center with cottage cheese and sliced peaches. Serves 6 to 8.
