GOP Leaders Study Tactics

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican state chairmen, sobered by an expert's warning they can throw away the 1956 election despite the popularity of President Eisenhower, boned up today on how to win.

In the second day of a four-day campaign school here, they called in one adviser after another for counsel on such techniques as precinct organization, purchase of TV and radio time, door-to-door fund raising, and how to make best use of the candidate's "advance men."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, addressing the group at lunch, was expected to add his plea for a hard-hitting GOP campaign, starting now, more than a year before the election. Nixon also was expected to reassure the state party officials on what they most wanted to hear: That President Eisenhower — in his opinion — will run.

Without an exception the party officials seemed firmly committed already to that assumption. Only under prodding by newsmen would they even discuss other candidates and generally they also had taken the view they would not need to worry much about getting the President re-elected.

That, warned campaign expert Murray Chotiner, is the kind of thinking that elected Democrat Harry S. Truman in 1948, when Republican Thomas E. Dewey was considered a shoo-in.

Chotiner, a Los Angeles attorney who successfully managed Nixon's campaigns for the Senate in 1950 and for vice president two years later, told the group Wednesday Mr. Eisenhower is the best qualified and most popular candidate they could pick. He said an Eisenhower ticket unquestionably will win — provided they do their part in organizing a campaign aimed at picking up every possible vote.

Geishas Protest Tax Collecting

TOKYO (AP) — Three thousand cabaret girls and geishas paraded to a downtown meeting hall today to protest a new government tax collection system which goes into effect Nov. 1.

The new law requires the girls to turn in receipts showing their profits from an evening's work. It is bound to cut sharply into their income. They have been able to avert a high tax by declaring small incomes. Now, they'll have to make their declarations and daily receipts jibe.
