Women Blamed For Clothes American Males Now Wear

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—A recent survey of women who were interested in improving their husbands' appearances reported that the main problem they encountered was — men.

There was nothing wrong with their purchases, the women felt, but there were plenty of flaws in the reaction they got when they showed the new male wardrobe items to their husbands. The men, the survey stated, resisted change.

Army Chiefs Seek Block Of Funds Cut

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army, like the Air Force and Navy before it, is sending a mission to Michigan this week to tell Secretary of Defense Wilson why it shouldn't be hit by the administration economy hatchet.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, former governor of Michigan, and his No. 1 military officer and Army chief of staff, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, are to arrive in Detroit Tuesday on the way home from a brief Western inspection trip.

There they will see the vacationing Wilson, and probably be rebuffed by Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben B. Robertson.

Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas and Secretary of Air Donald Quarles have held similar meetings with Wilson, as the result of service worry over persistent reports that further spending cuts in the present fiscal year may be insisted upon.

CRITICISM
Robertson, pressed by questions and harried by criticism from Democratic quarters on Capitol Hill, put out a formal statement that Pentagon spending during the year ending next June 30 is "still expected to be approximately 34 billion dollars as originally estimated" last January.

Robertson issued the statement to counter widespread reports that defense spending might be cut to 33 billions to help the Eisenhower administration wipe out a budget deficit by the end of the fiscal year. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has done nothing to discourage the belief that he is pressing all government departments, with emphasis on the Defense Department, to help wipe out the estimated $1,700,000,000 deficit.

ECONOMY URGED
The Pentagon fiscal chiefs say there have been no "instructions" to cut back further, but that there have been "continuing instructions to find better ways of doing things and more economical ways of doing things."

Meanwhile, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) called on Wilson himself to clear up what the Senate Democratic leader said was "confusion" over the various reports. He said Robertson's statement did not clear up the matter.

Johnson said he favored balancing the budget, but "there certainly would be no true economy in cutting the bone and muscle from the nation's defenses solely to balance a set of books."
