STOCKS

NEW YORK — The stock market advanced a little Thursday with plenty of areas refusing to participate in the rise. The railroads were prominent on the upside of the market while the steel was in the forefront of the losing element.

Prices went from 1 to 3 points higher to between 1 and 2 points lower.

Volume was good at an estimated 2,800,000 shares for the day. Wednesday's total was 2,570,000 shares.

East Woman Refuses Red Questions

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Mary Knowles of Plymouth Meeting, Pa., refused Thursday to say whether she was a Communist and challenged the right of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to question her.

The slender, dark haired woman, whose employment in the Quaker village has aroused controversy among the townpeople, swore she is not now a Communist.

She testified that "for many, many years" she has had no connection whatever with any organization or the attorney general's subversive list.

But she declined to answer when asked if she ever had been a member of the Communist party. In doing so, Mrs. Knowles did not specifically invoke her Fifth Amendment protection against self-incrimination, as she had done when she first appeared before the subcommittee in 1953.

Instead, Mrs. Knowles challenged the jurisdiction of the subcommittee.

She said she had no knowledge of any matters concerning national security, subversion, sabotage, espionage or anything else coming within the purview of the 1950 Internal Security Act or the subcommittee set up to police the administration of the act.

In view of this, she said in a quiet, barely audible voice, and in view of the fact that she is a private citizen employed by a private institution, operated under the care of a religious organization, she felt the subcommittee lacked the power or the jurisdiction to question her.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) told Mrs. Knowles the subcommittee did not recognize the reasons she gave for declining to answer questions. He directed that she answer.

Mrs. Knowles simply sat silent. Jenner was the only subcommittee member present and was acting as chairman in the absence of Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.). The subcommittee has adopted a rule authorizing one-man hearings.

After adjourning the hearing, Jenner told newsmen he felt Mrs. Knowles was in contempt. He said he intended to take up the matter with the full committee.

White House Aide Replies To Demo Governor's Charge

DENVER — The White House hit back Thursday at a Democratic governor's contention that an "ugly underworld" in the Republican Party would take President Eisenhower "captive" if he were re-elected.

Murray Snyder, Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, replied to criticism of the President by Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania in a San Francisco speech Wednesday night.

Snyder, substituted for former President Truman at a $100 a plate Democratic dinner.

"All I have to say is that the pinch-hitter struck out," Snyder told newsmen.

The press secretary made the statement after saying that he had received a request for comment on Leader's talk.

Snyder had before him The New York Times account of Leader's address. The governor was quoted as having said in his prepared text that Eisenhower is "not the nation's indispensable man... not the best man for the country, not the best man to seek and keep the peace."

"For Dwight Eisenhower... is not a great President. He is not a leader. He reigns, but he does not govern."

"Were he to win the office again, carrying with him a Republican Congress, the hard and ugly underworld in the Republican Party would again reveal its measure of control, again make the President and the nation their captive."

Snyder was asked for comment on Leader's use of the word "underworld." He suggested that newsmen ask Leader about that, but then referred again to the account of the governor's speech and noted that it said that an aide to Leader had explained that the governor's reference to the underworld "meant certain minority groups within the Republican Party and was not to be construed in the usual sense."

When a reporter pressed Snyder for comment on use of the term, the press secretary replied: "I am aware of an underworld that has opposed the Republican Party in various elections." Snyder then asked the reporter who put the question.

"Did you ever hear of Frank Costello?"

Costello is a New York underworld figure who recently completed a jail term.

Snyder declined to elaborate on his reference to Costello.

Westinghouse Workers Defy Union Leader's Work Order

PITTSBURGH — (Westinghouse electrical workers in Pittsburgh defied an order from high union officials today and refused to end their strike.

James B. Carey, president of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said he was confident some 33,000 members in 26 plants would support the strike.

Local 601 at the East Pittsburgh plant, which has about 10,000 members, defied the order. It started the walkout Aug. 8 after 2,300 day workers quit work to protest a company time study of their jobs.

Last Sunday, CIO-UIE locals at the other 26 plants left their jobs in sympathy.

After a strike-ending agreement announced by Carey last night, the time study question was made a part of the bargaining talks opening today. Previously the talks were to have been confined to wages only under the current two-year contract.

Westinghouse officials, expressing surprise that Local 601 would not go along with the pact signed by Carey, declared:

"We have an agreement with the union and it is up to the union to keep its house in order. The agreement was signed by both management and union and one maverick local is not our concern."

Lumberman Says Production Up

PORTLAND — Douglas fir lumber production for the first eight months of this year was considerably heavier than in 1954, when there was a summer-long strike, but slightly less than for the same period of 1953.

Harris E. Smith, secretary of the Western Coast Lumbermen's Assn., said Thursday the 1955 figure was 6,621,151,000 board feet, compared with 5,576,098,000 last year and 6,072,788,000 in 1953.

At the end of August the industry had an unfilled order file of 766,700,000 board feet. Gross stocks totaled 848,777,000.

Pendleton Roundup Under Way

PENDLETON — Between 7,000 and 8,000 persons were expected to watch the opening show of the Pendleton Round-Up Thursday with some of the nation's outstanding cowboys scheduled to perform.

Casey Tibbs, Ft. Pierre, S. D., No. 2 money winner on the rodeo circuit this year, was to ride in the bareback event.

Other big names are listed to get into action Friday.

Skies were cloudy and it was cool but no rain was forecast for the afternoon show. However, possible night showers were predicted.

Top cowboys entered in the rodeo, which offers more than $25,000 in prize money, include Jim Shouder, Henrietta, Okla., the No. 1 money winner; Short Webster, Leupach, Okla.; Eddie Akridge, Hesperia, Calif.; and Jack Buschhorn, Casaville, Wis. There are arena shows three afternoons as well as Saturday night.

The richest event is call-roping with a purse of $5,075.

The Round-Up schedule was opened Wednesday night with the Happy Canyon Pageant. Despite chilly weather a capacity crowd of 4,500 was on hand.

The pageant, which recreates happenings of the Old West, was marred by two accidents.

An Indian maiden, Delores Harrison of Toppish, Wash., fell from a horse. She was shaken but walked off the stage.

Ward Spence, 15-year-old Pendleton Indian, was trampled by a horse while taking part in a rodeo on a covered wagon. He was taken away in the wagon, not seriously hurt.

Dennis Day, movie and television star, will be marshal of the annual Westward Ho! parade Friday. He and Jeff Chandler, another movie star, are expected to be present for both Friday and Saturday events as are Gov. Paul Patterson and Rep. Sam Cook.

Dam Bids Call Goes Unanswered

PORTLAND — A call for bids for sub-surface studies at the Hills Creek Dam site three miles southeast of Oakridge went unanswered, the Army Engineers reported Thursday.

The engineers have $310,000 with which to continue planning and to start construction on the 33 million dollar dam, a unit in the Willamette River Basin Project.

Because of lack of bids, the sub-surface investigation will be started under direction of the engineers.

Dock Workers Begin Moving Piles Of Backlogged Cargo

NEW YORK — Dockers tackled the huge task today of moving the 300 million dollars worth of products that piled up along the New York waterfront during their eight-day strike.

The walkout, which also hit several other East Coast ports, was called off yesterday by the independent International Longshoremen's Assn.

The ILA hailed as a victory the setting up of a voluntary citizens fact-finding committee to bear its grievances against the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission.

Industry sources termed the ILA's acceptance of the committee formula a "face-saving" device adopted to preserve local jobs in some cities failed to heed the strike call.

Now comes the huge cargo cleanup from more than 150 ships — practically all freighters. Most passenger liners were not seriously delayed by the tieup.

The 170-member New York Shipping Assn. figures the strike cost the employers a million dollars a day.

The back-to-work movement by some 30,000 longshoremen here has failed to halt legal machinery set in motion as a result of the strike. A contempt citation against the ILA by the employers is scheduled to be heard in the State Supreme Court Sept. 22.

And the shipping association thus far has not deviated from plans to sue the union. Its leaders and membership for 10 million dollars in damages for alleged violation of a no-strike pledge.

Justice William C. Hecht Jr., in Supreme Court yesterday, granted two motions for temporary injunctions — barring waterfront stoppages — against the union. They were sought by the Waterfront Commission and the shipping firms.

The ILA strike was aimed directly at the commission. The union has accused it of harassment, discrimination, and general abuse of its powers. The commission has denied all allegations, calling the ILA "just plain lawless."

Godfrey Schmidt, lecturer on law at Fordham University, issued a statement on behalf of the fact-finding committee, saying:

"The idea was simply to end a strike by providing a forum... Nor does it matter if this committee saves someone's face. If we save our port and our country from further serious loss the incidental saving of face is unimportant."

"Finally, this is not an attempt to interfere with an authorized agency
