

MR. AND MRS. GLEN FOUNTAIN, who have been vacationing for a month from Merced, California. They were in Klamath Falls in mid-August on their way north to Canada and returned September 4.

Both stops in Klamath Falls were spent visiting with old time friends—and unfortunately for Glen Fountain, several days were lost in a local hospital, where he was admitted as a patient for a 10 day stay. In fact, he hadn't recovered enough to drive home early in the week, and a Merced friend came up to drive for him.

At present, Fountain is county supervisor of Merced County; but he is a member of a pioneer Klamath Basin family. He was born three miles east of Dairy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Luther Fountain. His father farmed, taught school and was at one time county superintendent of schools in Klamath County. Also before his death here in 1927, he was a city school trustee.

Tri Taus Observe 1st Anniversary

Tri Taus are carrying their mad money in coin purses which they toiled, punched and laced themselves at their monthly meeting last Tuesday evening. Under the tutelage of Mrs. James Rodgers, members learned the rudiments of leather work. Mrs. Vern Hengl of Sprague River was hostess for the session which marked the first anniversary of the club.

During the short business meeting, Mrs. Kenneth Schneider was presented with a gift certificate for her new son and greetings were relayed from ex-member Mrs. Frank Alderson, now living in Eugene, Virginia Carr and Bonnie Kircher were introduced as new members.

Those attending were Mrs. Paul Stewart, Mrs. Lewis Hamblin, Mrs. Pat Ryan, Mrs. Ralph Bilyeu, Mrs. Sam Ramsey, Mrs. William Long, Mrs. Schneider, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Kircher, Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Hengl.

Next meeting is scheduled for the second Tuesday in October at the home of Mrs. Schneider, with Mrs. Ramsey as demonstrator.

Moose Temple, 1010 Pine Street, Tuesday night September 6, 1955.

The regular initiation meeting was called to order by senior regent, Mrs. Hazel Pulley, and turned over to Mrs. Andrus who introduced Sandra Nyback, who entertained with two songs, "Romance," and "Wonderful Day." Sandra was accompanied on the piano by her mother Mrs. A. F. Nyback.

Mrs. Andrus was called to the altar by Senior Regent Hazel Pulley who presented her with a lovely gift in token of appreciation from the chapter.

Candidates initiated in honor of the publicity committee were Betty Hyde, sponsored by Elora Bagley; Shirley Hill, by Elora Bagley; Bessie Schuster, by Maude Hollingsworth; Mary Haley, by Mable Hawkins; Zona Collins, by Mable Hawkins; and Almeda Jones, by Irene Hamel. Also Ruth Carr was reinstated at that time.

Members of the publicity committee introduced and taken to seats of honor, were Elora Bagley, Marcia Waits, Lucille Caley, Edna May Clawson and Edna Lucille Clawson.

Refreshments were served to those on the program, plus 33 members by a Loyal Order of Moose committee, Raymond Jump, N. S. Hepburn, Bert Asher and Clair Martin.

Bride's Rock Crystal Rosary Handmade By Her Late Uncle The Reverend Henry Lucks

Summer flowers arranged in heart-shaped bouquets highlighted the decor in Sacred Heart Catholic Church Saturday morning, September 3, when Bonnie Ann Fiala became Mrs. Thomas A. Arrington Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fiala of 1865 Fremont and was given in marriage by her father. Her husband is the son of Thomas A. Arrington Sr., Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Robert F. Sturges, Los Angeles.

The Rev. T. P. Casey read the 9:30 a.m. nuptial ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of gladioli.

The bride was attired in a full length gown of tulle over tulle with cummerbund effect of lace and a matching lace jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. A fingertip length tulle veil was secured to a lace covered Juliet cap. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations centered with white roses. Her jewelry included pearl earrings, a gift of her bridegroom. She carried a rock crystal rosary made by her late uncle, the Rev. Henry Lucks. Her traditional "something old," "something borrowed" was an antique ruby-set pin in an anchor, cross and heart design symbolizing faith, hope and charity. The pin was loaned by her aunt, Anne Fiala, of Odell, Nebraska. "New" was her wedding gown and her garter, a gift of Mrs. Marion Howard was blue. In her shoe was a penny coined the year of her birth.

Matron of honor for Bonnie was Mrs. Homer Brown. She wore a white length gown of aqua colored the new crystalline ice fabric fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and capped sleeves. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of chrysanthemums and wore a band of matching flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Theresa Bruner and Barbara Mauch, the bride's classmates, and Joyce White. They wore costumes identical to the matron of honor's, in varying summer colors—pink, yellow and Nile green—with matching headbands and bouquets.

Weed Rebekahs

WEED — Eleven members of the Olive Branch Club of the West Atlanta Rebekah Lodge attended the regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Clare Mulvany Wednesday night, September 7. Mrs. William Davis assisted Mrs. Mulvany as co-hostess.

Mrs. Fay Welch presided at the short business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. O. A. McRae. Members read inspirational poems for the evening entertainment.

The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Meline in October.

Five year old Ann Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey was flower girl and Pat Sari, 5 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sari, preceded the bridal procession carrying the rings.

The bridegroom's main attendant was Paul Gray and ushering were Travis Boyd, Bernard Cavanaugh and James Dittich.

John Ely played the traditional processional and recessional and accompanied the soloist, Jeanette Rochon.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fiala chose a ballerina length gown of rose-beige crepe styled with a lace bodice. Her accessories were in matching colors and she wore a corsage of carnations and stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother wore an afternoon dress of ice blue faille with a lace yoke and accessories in complementary colors. She also had an arrangement of carnations and stephanotis pinned at her shoulder.

Following the ceremony the young couple received their 260 guests in the parish hall. After they had cut the traditional first piece of their tiered wedding cake it was served by Mrs. Pat McRoney, Kathleen Vaughn and Joan Brady. Mrs. John Kennedy and Mrs. John Howard poured punch; Mrs. John Novak and Mrs. Joseph Heiderer presided at the coffee service. Mrs. Arthur Landmark and Judy Polzer were in charge of the guest book and assisting about the room were Mrs. Otto Smith and Mrs. Alex Cammack.

The bride is a 1954 graduate of Sacred Heart Academy where she served on publication staffs and participated in other school activities. Her husband served with the army airborne and the army engineers in Alaska during the Korean conflict and more recently attended Oregon Technical Institute.

Following their wedding trip to the Columbia coast, the junior Arringtons are at home at 1405 Wall Street, Klamath Falls.

Prior to the wedding the bride was feted at several parties. A shower in her honor August 16 in the Pine Room of the Elks Temple was attended by 38 guests. Hostesses were Mrs. Otto Smith, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. Homer Brown and Mrs. Michael Lavenik. That same week, Mrs. Frank Brady and Joan entertained at their home at 227 Lincoln. Decorations featured an umbrella suspended from the chandelier from which hung pink and white simulated water droplets. On the refreshment table a decorated cake was topped with a bride doll which was passed for the 12 guests to sign and then was presented to the guest of honor.

Nineteen young friends were present at a final shower August 22 in the Elks Pine Room which was hosted by Theresa Bruner, Jeanie Meddaugh and Kathleen Carrier.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS A. ARRINGTON JR., (Bonnie Ann Fiala) married September 3, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, the Rev. T. P. Casey, officiant. The wedding was of wide interest in the Klamath Basin—and the ceremony was witnessed by 260 friends and relatives. After a wedding trip to the California coast, the couple is now at home, 1405 Wall Street. (See story.)
