LITTLE GIRLS look "pretty as a picture" when their hair is softly curled with a new Tonette home permanent. Now easier and faster, the kit also has "fresh-air" waving lotion which makes it a pleasant experience, too. The dresses are by Tiny Town Togs.

Family Reunion Held In Yakima

MALIN—Mrs. Conrad Johnson, Malin, left by train August 25, to attend a family reunion at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rink, Yakima.

All of their children were with them for the occasion, including their three daughters, sons and families. One son, who lives in San Diego, who just recently returned from a European tour, had not been home for some time. The others all live in Yakima.

Conrad Johnson and Conny drove up September 2 to join the group and to bring Mrs. Johnson back. Another event of the busy reunion week was the wedding of one of the Rink children's cousins, which all of the family attended.

ST. BARNABAS GUILD MEETS

LANGELL VALLEY—The Guild of St. Barnabas Church met at the parish hall August 25, with Edith Walsh as hostess. The meeting was conducted by Grace Dearborn. After a short business session the members sewed for the coming fall bazaar. Beverly Roberts won the special prize. The next meeting will be September 22, with Virginia Thomas hostess at her home in Bonanza.

Refreshments were served to Mattie Cznowski, Elfreda Lindsay, Beverly Roberts, Carolyn Dearborn, Lois Monroe, Mary Noble, Donna Gift, Dale Smelter, Margaret Ann Whitlatch, Jeannette Stewart, Virginia Thomas, Mildred Cunningham, Madge Monroe, Ethel Jones and Grace Dearborn.

BONANZA PIONEER 78, AUGUST 28

BONANZA — Mrs. Maude Pool, Bonanza pioneer, celebrated her 78th birthday anniversary August 28, at her home at Redding. She was honored guest at a dinner given by her children and other relatives.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Sy Pool and Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kenney, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Marshall all of Redding.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. (Dock) Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parrish and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Prough and Craig all of Klamath Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Elva Maxwell of Bonanza, Georgia Guild of Raymond, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Kerby Giannotti and family of Westwood, and Idella Dyer and Dianne Thilkey both of Grants Pass.

... FOR THE HEADY NEW FALL SEASON!

When Dad and sons a-hunting go
The folks at home will want to know That safe from danger they will be.
"Oh, please don't take a shot at me!"

So moms and gals, just still your fears
Take sons and husbands by the ears
To sign the pledge on Red Hat Day.
"I'll then be safe. Hurrah! Hurray!"

bittersweet

and flaming leaves and frosty mornings spell autumn to many of us. The good news at Flowers by Bill and Rita is the real bittersweet which has just come in from Wisconsin. It's the featured item in the Budget Garden this week at 69 cents a bunch. If you haven't heard about the Budget Garden you should go in to 430 Main and take a look. Bill and Rita always have their green foliage plants included in the Budget Garden, as well as many small plants. On a "pay and tote" basis the regular high quality of flowers and plants are always available here. Each week cut flowers will be featured, and this week there are gladioli at 79 cents a bunch. So—extravagant or economical, Martha can always find what she wants at sounds lovely but sometimes it's just plain parched from sun and wind. Currin's is featuring Dermetics for these dry complexions, during September only. This is the once-a-year time when Dermetics super-rich beauty oils cost 33 1/2 per cent less than usual. $8. A (for Soil Adsorbing) Super-Rich for cleansing is now 1.65 in the four ounce size; three dollars for 8 ounces. They are regularly 2.50 and 4.50. Super-Rich Dress for under make-up protection, as well as Nite Super-Rich for conditioning are two dollars for two ounces and 3.35 for four ounces. Plus tax, of course. Another autumn special in limited supply, which Martha saw at Currin's is Desert Flower hand and body lotion by Shulton, 8 ounces for a dollar. Usually this dreamy stuff, which really smooths the rough places, costs a dollar for 3 1/2 ounces. You'll find it at the 9th and Main headquarters of a warm embrace that calls itself a jacket is the "greatest" at LaPointe's this week. In a scoop shape that tapers at the bottom, this washable, nylon fleece necessity is very high fashion for only 8.98. It's trimmed with a margin of cotton ribbed knit, has a matching knit monk's collar which converts into a hood, lots of buttons and the new longer line. Comes in a wide range of colors, too, cued to your new fall casual wardrobe. Though featured in "Seventeen", Martha thought it a must for girls of all ages. That place at 507 Main—it's a wonderful store.

LA POINTE'S

a thing of beauty

is a joy forever. Keats never saw the Hallite utensils at Roberts Hardware but he had words for their design and elegance. When you know they're made by Wear-Ever you know they'll last. The covers of this new line are copper colored and can't tarnish. Transparent leaf hangers are included with each article to hang it decoratively and conveniently on the wall. The open, gently rounded corners and rivet-free inner surfaces make them easier to keep clean. That appealed to practical Martha. If you have a 25-year-old Wear-Ever pan, enter the contest sponsored by Roberts and you might win a Hallite Honey Moon set. You can see this best looking best cooking wear at 3890 South Sixth.

pizza with prawns

and other meatless pizzas will be ready at Sari's Friday. But don't wait that long to go out to 5327 S. Sixth Street. If you like to eat, this Italian restaurant runs the gamut from family style meals to anniversary celebrations. Open from 5 to 11 p.m. each day except Monday, luncheons for large parties may still be arranged by calling 8123 a few days in advance.

easier than trick bicycle riding you can be a do-it-yourself architect with a California Model Architect Kit that Martha found at Shaw Stationery Company. If your hopes for a new home are near, or far, you can help make them tell, and have fun at the same time, with this fascinating device which costs 4.95. Dream houses are all very well, but let's be practical and learn how to read blue prints. The kit includes instructions for this. Best of all, it enables you to visualize your house in three dimensions. With the aid of a board cross-grooved to scale, which represents the land on which the new house will be erected, and a stockpile of "building materials" you can build and tear down houses until you find just your arrangement. Take a look at the kit at 729 Main.

riddle me this what's warm as toast and cool all over? The imported lamb's wool sweaters at Herman's are real cool, men. They're V-neck pull-overs in sizes 36 to 46 and will fit boys from 15 to 50 for only 11.95. Billed sports caps to match the sweaters are available for 2.98. The color range is extensive and includes the new charcoal shades. Martha was intrigued by a sweater made of yarn from Klamath Cape in a tone called Golden Gate Fog. Herman's also has White Stag's "original" 4-Season Jacket in all available colors, sizes 34 to 46, for 10.95. They're machine washable, glory be, or dry-cleanable if you prefer. The address where you see all this, as if you didn't know, is 825 Main.

hit the jackpot

figuratively and literally by buying your petrol at Fortune Gas Station, South Sixth and East Main. The free tickets for the new Ford sedan given away every sixty days at this friendly gasoline emporium are also good for the jackpot series being held there. Every Thursday night at 8 o'clock a drawing is held for the jackpot. A seven-day period is allowed for ticket holders to check their numbers, and if the winner has not claimed his prize by the following Thursday, the amount of the jackpot is allowed to rise, and the total is the award for that night. The jackpot tickets are still good for the next Ford sedan to be given away October 26. Martha likes the "Gasoline that smiles at Miles."

swerve is the name of the new sweater pump at the Model Shoe Store. These kid-lined suede pumps in black or brown with illusion heel are elasticized around the top for close, neat fit and hug the foot. Made by Naturalizer, you know they require a minimum of breaking in and are entirely flexible, points this manufacturer insists upon. You could swerve with ease in these slippers, they feel so good. Another style at 717 Main by the same maker is "Cindy," in sooty black suede only. It has a strictly handsome buckle on the toe and the new "trim" heel, which is locked to the shoe and can't break off. Like all Naturalizers, it has a steel shank for support of the arch, and leather soles. You may drag in but you'll dance out if you buy footwear at the

to be caught in the rain would be wearing one of Bon Bazaar's raincoats or stadium coats. Sizes 8 to 18 are available for these nippy days, and will pack a lot of power on the high school or college scene. One alpaca lined stadium coat is three-quarter length, water repellent and crease resistant. It has no-draft knit cuffs. Another has a zip-out lining for thermostatic control, and the coat, itself, is washable. Some of the full length all-weather coats with matching hats have insulated linings. You'd never want to come in out of the rain in the trench coats. The colors: an artist's palette. The prices: from 10.95-19.95. Opening of the better dress shop at the Bon is hoped for this coming week. The cherry and gray color scheme will furnish a subtly glowing background for frocks which will range in price from approximately 19.95 to 69.95. Don't forget to shop the Bon, next door to the Oregon Food Store.
