

California Senate Probes State Fair

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A California Senate investigating committee turned its attention to the Department of Finance today in its probe of concessions and contracts at the California State Fair.

Scheduled to testify in the third day of the hearings was Fred W. Links, assistant director of the Finance Department.

Links was called following testimony that managers of the fair modified several contracts to concessionaires after they were signed.

Sen. George Miller Jr., chairman of the Senate committee, charged yesterday that some concessionaires made "windfall profits" because of the "lavish operation" by fair officials.

Most of the first two days of the hearing centered around a contract granted Crafts Big Shows to conduct the midway at the 1955 fair.

Confederate Banner Flies From Carrier

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The Stars and Bars waved in the blue off this port yesterday as a ceremony was held aboard the carrier Ticonderoga honoring Robert E. Lee and the new 30-cent Lee stamp.

It marked the first time the Confederate flag has flown from an American warship.

The skipper of the Ticonderoga is Capt. Andrew Jackson—a native of Mississippi.

PTA NEWS

KLAMATH COUNTY COUNCIL OF PTA

By Mrs. John W. Inasley
Klamath County Council of PTA held its first regular meeting of the year 1955-56 in the Juniper Room of the Willard Hotel, presided by a no-hostess luncheon.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Art Moore, president, who welcomed those present and requested that unit presidents mail either to her, or to the secretary, Mrs. Nell Black, the names and telephone numbers of their officers, and the day and time meetings are held.

A note of appreciation was read from Mrs. Ellen Dell Bieler, National Field Representative, wishing the Klamath County Council continued success in our PTA work. Mrs. Bieler gave many ideas and much encouragement during the workshop meeting held in Klamath Falls, July 20.

The new Twyla Ferguson School has been issued a welcome to join PTA, and a committee from council is to be formed to meet with representatives from the school.

The budget for the year was read and accepted.

Medford PTA Council has issued an invitation to a workshop to be held Thursday, October 6, from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. The Medford Y will provide baby-sitting service at the nominal cost of 75 cents. Mrs. Moore asked that the names of those planning to attend be handed in at the next regular meeting.

Through the courtesy of Perebee Studio, pictures of unit officers will again be taken, the deadline for this being October 31.

The president stated that at a recent meeting of the Inter-Agency Council, Mayor Paul Landry expressed the hope that PTA groups would assist in integrating the new six personnel, and it was suggested that unit hospitality chairmen make personal calls inviting them to visit PTA.

Arnold Gralapp, superintendent of city schools, called attention to the growth in the Klamath Falls school population, both high school and elementary schools, and stated that some very definite additional building growth would have to be met. He also expressed the thanks of the members of the Board of Education for the immediate response of several city organizations when the school attorney recommended that an election be held to purchase a new school site.

Carroll Howe, superintendent of county schools, said, "We have just finished redistricting 370 youngsters. The smoothness with which this was done was remarkable and the cooperation wonderful. We are faced with the greatest problem in imbalance since 1948 and expect more redistricting in another year."

Members were asked to give their support to the United Fund, this year.

Mrs. Hagan Moore, savings stamps chairman, stated that almost $10,000 worth of stamps had been sold in Klamath County last year, and expressed the hope that units would again participate in the program this year. The post office has suggested staggering the days for stamp purchases for better service.

Mrs. Gordon Loomis, program chairman, suggested the following ideas for programming: boosting the National PTA magazine by program; any current problems on legislation; juvenile protection—it is expected that the state PTA chairman may be in Klamath Falls next spring and will be available for meetings; tuition scholarship—exchange of ideas from units needed; youth problems. Mrs. Loomis will welcome any further ideas.

Gralapp advised that the White House Conference on Education convenes this fall and would be ready for programming in January or February.

Officers for the year 1955-56 are: president, Mrs. Art Moore; vice president, Mrs. D. L. Dunkeson; secretary, Mrs. Nell Black; treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Zigler.

Committee chairmen for the year are: savings stamps, Mrs. Hagan Moore; magazines, Mrs. James Swanson; hospitality, Mrs. Robert Abbey; publications, Mrs. Axel Carlson; Founders Day, Mrs. D. L. Dunkeson; program, Mrs. Gordon Loomis; publicity, Mrs. John Inasley and Mrs. Richard Melum; historian, Mrs. Cecil Finney; parliamentary, Mrs. Eldred Hansen.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for October 4 at Shasta School.

Lumber Suit Lawyers Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Attorneys for various factions in the Miller and Lux case conferred privately yesterday, apparently in an attempt to reach a compromise settlement of their differences.

The conferences were considered important enough to warrant a delay in a hearing originally scheduled for 2 p.m. today before Superior Judge Herman van der See. It will be held Monday at 10 a.m. instead.

A settlement, if reached, would pave the way for united prosecution of a 100 million dollar fraud suit filed by present trustees of the estate of the late cattle baron Henry Miller.

The faction of heirs that instituted the suit is represented by attorney C. Ray Robinson of Merced. It consists of four great-grandchildren.

Opposing various legal actions taken by this group is another group of three great-grandchildren represented by attorney John Francis Neylan. Allied with Neylan are attorneys Reginald Vaughn and Varnum Paul, who represent two grandchildren, who are life tenants of the estate.
