WALL STREET
NEW YORK (AP)—A strong recovery movement in the stock market was boosted ahead by twin rallies Tuesday to regain a substantial portion of Monday's extensive losses.

News of the President's heart attack tumbled the quoted value of securities Monday on the New York Stock Exchange nearly 13 billion dollars.

Brokers said the selling was emotional, and many felt that it had been overdone.

There was a great rush of buying Tuesday that sent prices up between 1 and 5 points at the best. Much of the time was spent with prices up 1 to 3 points. Some losses went beyond a point, but not many.

Volume came to an estimated five million shares for the day. This compared with the 7,720,000 shares traded in Monday's turbulent market. That was the highest total in more than 22 years.

GRAINS

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans and wheat slumped on the Board of Trade Tuesday while an irregular trend ruled throughout the rest of the market.

Soybeans dropped several cents at one time, largely on profit taking after their recent very sharp advance. In wheat the July contract sold off most, reflecting additional moisture in the Southwest.

Rye was quite firm at times while corn also recorded small gains. An estimate of a larger fall pig crop aided corn. Oats eased on mild liquidating pressure.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 2 cents lower, December 2.03 1/4-1/2; corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, December 1.35 1/4-1/2; oats 1/4 to 1 cent lower, December 1.12 1/4-1/2; soybeans 2 1/4-1/2 lower, November 2.42 1/2; and 1/4 to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, October 10.75-10.77.
