

Big Three, Russ Reach Accord On Geneva Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Foreign ministers of the Western Big Three reached agreement with their Soviet counterpart on procedures for their Geneva meeting and today called West German foreign chief Heinrich von Brentano into their secret strategy talks.

Brentano flew here from Bonn especially for the consultations with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay. He was expected to give them a first-hand report on the Moscow visit of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and negotiations which led to establishment of diplomatic relations between the two governments.

DeStefano Death Possibly Tied With Missing Money

CHICAGO (UP)—Hoodlum Michael De Stefano, whose bullet-pocked body was found stuffed in the trunk of his car, may have been the victim of an underworld war over circulation of the missing Greenleaf ransom bills, police sources said today.

The three Western ministers, in two secret meetings Tuesday, reached agreement on all major points of procedure for the Oct. 27 Geneva meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

An anonymous telephone call led police to the spot where De Stefano's car was parked in front of the McLaren Elementary School Tuesday. School children crowded about as police lifted the body of the ex-convict and bank robber from the trunk.

De Stefano, who held a job with the City Bureau of Electricity, was last seen Monday. His long criminal record included convictions for a Mauston, Wis., bank robbery and for setting fire to a police squad car, apparently in revenge against an officer who had arrested him.

EXPLOSIVE SEARCH
DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Interior Minister Ali Bouza pushed a countrywide search for illegal stores of explosives following the explosion in Aleppo in which at least eight persons were killed. Three others are missing and another 12 hospitalized as a result of the gunpowder blast Monday.

ITALIAN ALLIANCE
ROME (AP)—Italy's Chamber of Deputies voted 290-182 Tuesday night to endorse continuance of the Italian government's alliance with the West.

The Western ministers also proposed that the Soviet Union provide a secretary-general for the conference. Molotov said he would be glad to do this.

During the dinner, given by Dulles at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel

the secretary of state informed Molotov he had talked with President Eisenhower on Friday and that the President had planned to send an interim reply to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's letter concerning disarmament.

ably would have done so on Saturday if he had not suffered a heart attack. Dulles emphasized that no discourtesy was intended and asked Molotov to explain the situation to Bulganin. Molotov agreed to do so.
