Ross-Muhr Rites In Eugene United Lutheran Church

When she became the bride of Joseph Benjamin Ross in United Lutheran Church, Eugene, Linda Jeannine Muhr carried a hand-stitched linen handkerchief, which was made years ago by her maternal great-grandmother.

The double-ring candlelight ceremony was read at 8 p.m., September 11, by the Rev. Charles Epple. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Muhr, Eugene; and her husband, a Klamath Falls man, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ross, 1018 Washington Street, who were in Eugene for the wedding.

Escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over heavy satin, styled with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline outlined in iridescent sequins, long sleeves and a bouffant tulle skirt with chapel train and trimmed at the hip-line with rose-point lace applique. A crown of applied rosepoint lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins held her tulle veil. Her necklace and matching earrings of five point star crystals were a wedding gift from her parents. She carried a bridal bouquet of blue delphinium blossoms, pink elfe roses and stephanotis.

Her sister, Angeline Muhr, San Francisco, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of rose colored iridescent taffeta, with off the shoulder neckline and cap sleeves. Her fan shaped bouquet was of blue delphinium blossoms and stephanotis.

Sally Bangs, Eugene; and Betty Faris, Pullman, Washington, bridesmaids, wore delphinium blue iridescent taffeta similar in style to the maid of honor's. They carried fan shaped arrangements of pink gladioli.

A brother of the bride, Rickie Muhr, was ringbearer; and flower girl was Marilyn Keyes.

John Ross served as best man for his brother; another brother, David Ross, Klamath Falls, ushered with Dean Haneline, of Eugene; and Andrus Taribo, Hawaii. The blue delphinium was also used in the church flowers — mixed with white gladioli, pink dahlias and gypsophylla. White lighted tapers in white candelabra illuminated the setting.

Mrs. Phil Nordling, organist, accompanied vocalist, James Kays. The 150 wedding guests were received in the Delta Zeta sorority house on the University of Oregon campus. Another member of the bridegroom's family, his sister, Kathy Ross, was also present at the wedding—and registered the guests at the reception.

For travel when the couple left for the honeymoon trip to California and Nevada; the new Mrs. Ross wore a beige wool sheath dress trimmed in white satin; white satin hat, briarwood-brown accessories and a mink stole. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

The couple will live in Portland where the bridegroom is a fourth year student in pre-medicine.

NOW AT HOME, 234 North Second Street, are Mr. and Mrs. Patrick E. Mousseau, after a two week Canadian honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. O'Sullivan, and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

PATRICIA O'SULLIVAN BRIDE OF PATRICK E. MOUSSEAU IN SACRED HEART CHURCH RITES

In a small quiet wedding, attended by members of the immediate families only, Patricia O'Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. O'Sullivan, 234 North Second Street, became the bride of Patrick E. Mousseau at 9 a.m., September 14, in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, the Rev. T. P. Casey, officiant.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Vernon R. Baughman, San Mateo; and the bridegroom's brother, Lawrence G. Mousseau, served as best man. Brother-in-law of the bride, Vernon R. Baughman, ushered.

Paula Clark, soloist, was accompanied by organist, Mrs. D. C. Helley.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a traditional white wedding gown of lace and net over satin. The bodice and tunic were of Chantilly lace. The bodice was styled with a round-necked yoke of lace with low oval neckline effect in lace applique. The sleeves were long and fitted. The below-the-hipline tunic was finished with scalloped detail; and the full skirt of net over satin brushed the floor.

A half-cap of lace and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion; and she carried a white orchid with a cascade of white an-in streamers on a white prayer book. Mrs. Baughman wore a turquoise taffeta waltz length gown. Her matching headband was designed with a brief face veil, and her flowers were a small arrangement of pink and white flowers. The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy; and her husband attended schools in Idaho.

The newlyweds drove to Canada for their honeymoon after the wedding breakfast in the Spruce Room of the Willard Hotel. They are now at home 234 North Second Street. Church decorations were simple arrangements of white gladioli.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. R. J. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Francis Olds, Medford; and Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Baughman, San Mateo, California.
