

Two Fires Keep Volunteers Busy

WEED—Firemen of the Long-Bell Lumber Company and Weed Shastina Volunteer departments were called to fast action Sunday amid high winds and extinguished two fires located in separate areas of Weed.

Quick action Sunday afternoon prevented severe fire in a four apartment one-story frame building north of Weed, just off Highway 97. When a fire started in the attic of an apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charles at 1:30 p.m., Charles had a fire in the wood cooking stove at the time and the fire was believed to have started near the fire.

The building owned by Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hilliard and contents of one apartment were covered by insurance. Other apartments evacuated were occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hilliard.

A solid firebreak prevented the fire spreading to the other apartments, firemen stated. The attic in the Charles apartment was gutted and the interior suffered water damage.

At 7:30 a.m. Sunday the two departments were called to the Pilgrims Rest Motel where a fire in a double mattress was believed caused by two hunters who had checked out at 5 p.m. and apparently left burning cigarettes in an ashtray on their bed.

Tenants in the adjoining unit noticed smoke pouring from the unit at 7:15 a.m. and turned in the alarm.

The flaming mattresses were extinguished and removed. The heat and water damage, confined to the one unit, was covered by insurance. Mr. and Mrs. William Kumburg, motel owners, stated that this was the second time in 20 years that a fire in their units had been caused by smokers' neglect. The units are of cement wall and floor construction.

PEARSON TOURS

MOSCOW (AP)—Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson flew in a Soviet plane Tuesday to Stalingrad for a tour of that city before flying on to the Crimea. There he will be an overnight guest of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Khrushchev at the latter's vacation home.

A WARNING AGAINST Russia was issued by Dr. Walter Judd, Minnesota congressman and noted surgeon, when he addressed the Klamath Falls Knife and Fork Club on America's foreign policy. Dr. Judd (center) is shown with the Rev. Galen Onstad, (right) president of the club, and Fred Southwell, club secretary.

Dr. Walter Judd Lauds Administration Policies

"This is the first time in history that inflation has been checked after it has continued for some years," declared Dr. Walter H. Judd, Republican U. S. Congressman from the 5th Congressional District in Minnesota, speaking Monday afternoon over KBE-TV at Medford.

"In other countries where inflation has continued as long as the 26 years it has been with us, the nation has gone through the wringer and had to start over again. In just over two and one-half years we have stabilized the economy of the United States. This administration's policy of taking less and giving more is proving successful," Dr. Judd continued.

"The nation's farm surplus problem and the power situation in the Pacific Northwest were the chief subjects of the television interview. Appearing with Dr. Judd was Frank Jenkins, publisher of the Herald and News, who had spoken before the Jackson County Republican Women's Club at a Monday noon luncheon.

Asked if he believed in government development of power in the Klamath Country, Jenkins declared: "We have waited 40 years for the government to develop the power potential in the Klamath River area if we want federal projects here, we'll have to wait another 40 years, so we have to do it ourselves. The time to do it is when somebody comes along with the cash to pay for the development."

He added that the power potential of the Klamath River is one million kilowatts a year, the equivalent of two Bonneville or one Coulee Dam.

Consumption of what we produce was the solution suggested by both men to the current farm surplus problem. Dr. Judd, who is a member of the Foreign Affairs Committee in Congress, reviewed what he called the "brilliant success" of the wartime program of converting all possible land into productivity to feed our nation, our troops and our allies. He indicated that the farms of the nation must work now converting that surplus land back to pastureland in order to cut production to coincide with demand and eliminate stockpiling.

The elimination of over-production is already underway, Dr. Judd said. He had high praise for the policies initiated by the present administration, especially the lessening of governmental control and decreasing of administrative expenditures.

Quoting figures from the Great Lakes area, he said that rural savings accounts continue to increase and the value of farm land continues to rise.

"Farmers would not buy more land at higher prices if they figured they would go broke just that much faster," Dr. Judd commented.

The 30-minute interview was sponsored by the Val Rogue Camera Shop of Medford.

Parent, Patrons Plan KUHS Meet

The Parents and Patrons of Klamath Union High School will hold its first fall meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in KUHS.

The officers who will serve during the 1955-56 school year are Ford Kimpton, president; Mrs. Charles Larkin, vice president; Mrs. Jim Olson, secretary; Mrs. Orval Alley, secretary; and Homer Ellis, treasurer. All Parents and Patrons are urged to attend this first fall meeting.

USAF Recruits Fly To Parks

Tech. Sgt. Don Adams, U. S. Air Force recruiter for this area, announced today the enlistment of three Southern Oregon men in the USAF.

The three are James R. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M.

DOG QUARANTINE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All dogs in city and county yesterday were ordered quarantined by the city health officer for at least a year because of the rabies situation. There have been 67 rabid dog reports since Jan. 1, most in 19 years. The order requires dogs be confined to owners' premises except when on a leash not more than five feet long.

Larson, 2425 Hope Street; Patrick J. Lilya, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Kenaston, 3916 Alhambra Drive, and Arthur D. Polley, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Brooks, 273 E Street South, Lakeview.

Carter and Lilya attended Klamath Union High School prior to their enlistments. Carter was a member of the local National Guard unit and Lilya was active in the Civil Air Patrol. Polley attended Lake County High School prior to his enlistment and was a member of the Lakeview National Guard Unit.

The three men, who all enlisted for four years, were flown to Parks Air Force Base, California from Portland where they will undergo 11 weeks of basic training.

They will be reassigned to other USAF bases upon completion of basic.
