

Twelve States Enter Annual Pacific International Show

The largest livestock show in the history of Portland's 45 year old Pacific International Livestock Exposition opens Saturday.

A record number of entries from exhibitors in 12 states and two Canadian provinces will just about fill the P.I. plant to capacity for what may be the final show in the present building. Extra stalls had to be installed to take care of the influx of entries, but Manager Walter Holt assures that all animals will be comfortably housed.

Exposition directors are hopeful that next year's show can be held in Portland's Exposition-Recreation Center, to be constructed in Delta Park.

More than 2,000 head of fine livestock will be awaiting a turn in the show rings when judging begins Monday, October 17, in the open-class show. In addition, more than 500 head of 4-H and FFA stock have been entered in the Junior show, to start Saturday.

A record large dairy cattle show of 721 animals of all major breeds will be featured by a Jersey show with nearly 200 entries, including animals from most of the Western states, Connecticut, Missouri, Arkansas and British Columbia. Strong shows also are in prospect for the other dairy breeds, with Brown Swiss especially showing a big increase in numbers.

The sheep show also will be the largest ever staged in this region, with some 712 animals competing. Increases from last year also are shown in the swine show with 425 head, and in dairy goats with 148 head. Angora goats with 49 head are about the same as last year.

Rounding out the show is the 475-head beef cattle show, featuring the American Hereford Association's annual register of merit show. The Shorthorn show will be the largest in several years, and Aberdeen-Angus broodets will stage their usual strong show.

The annual fat stock auction will be Wednesday, and two sales of breeding cattle also are scheduled. Pacific Coast Aberdeen-Angus sale will be Tuesday night, and the American Hereford Association sale will be Friday afternoon.

Growth of the region's commerce and industry will be mirrored in the livestock show's companion feature, the Lewis and Clark Exposition of Progress, in the main exhibit hall. It will include an entertainment program featuring the famous Hoosier Hot Shots, Frankie Carle, Doubledaters and Payo & Mai.

Exhibits from 19 Oregon counties and commodity groups will provide a show window for agriculture.

A NEWCOMER but a topnotcher in the field of Western music is Billy Gray who will appear at the Klamath Falls Armory Saturday night with his orchestra and Lefty Frizzell, former vocal star of "Grand Ole Opry." The aggregation of entertainers was booked for the Klamath Falls engagement by Baldy Evans. Frizzell is the only Western singer to ever appear in the Hollywood Bowl.

TOM SMITH, has been installed master counselor of Modoc Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at Alturas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Smith of Willow Ranch and succeeds his older brother, David, in the post.

MOP-UP

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — More than 1,000 British troops have landed in force in the jungles of Johore State to mop up 800 Communist guerrillas who are raiding estates and murdering civilians.

The former underworld figure, released Sunday from McNeil Island Federal Prison after serving three years and eight months for income tax evasion, said he has several persons interested in backing him in a restaurant endeavor.

He originally said he planned to open a bar and grill but liquor officials promptly declared no liquor license would be issued him because of his record.
