Mrs. Charles Johnson announced that the rummage sale will be held October 21 and 22 in the Pelican Theater building.

Guests are welcome at the meeting.

Durante To Present Last Film Made By Carmen Miranda

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jimmy Durante, "because she would have been the first to say okay," Saturday presents the late Carmen Miranda's last performance.

The Brazilian Bombshell filmed the NBC-TV program with Durante in August. She faltered during the show. A few hours later she was dead of a heart attack.

"We know she would have wanted the millions of people who love her to see this show," Durante explained today. "And we got a telegram from her family telling us to use it."

On the program, television viewers will see that Carmen slipped to one knee at the end of a strenuous mambo routine with Durante and Eddie Jackson.

She recovered quickly, stood up and laughed to Durante, "I can't catch my breath, you take my lines."

A close-up of the tragic moment originally had been shot. But when it showed pain on her face, a covering long-shot was substituted.

NBC's first thought had been to shelve the show. But viewers "sent in an enormous amount of mail," according to Bill Harmon, producer of the program.

"We weren't sure whether it was good taste to show the film," the producer said. "But after the letters came in, and her family requested the program be used, we had a conference with the sponsor and decided to run it. We held back the show until now so it wouldn't look as if we were capitalizing on anything."

Jimmy felt if anything happened to him he'd want people to see his last show. That's true of any performer.

Durante added a "prologue" in which he assures viewers Carmen's last curtain call was being shown at the request of her family.

The Rev. Stephen Peabody of Auburn will act as moderator and Rev. McCulloch of Paradise as vice moderator.

Worship services will be led by the Rev. Chilton Christian of the Oak Park Community Church, Sacramento, and the Rev. Kenneth Peterson of Chico. The Chancel Choir of the Alturas Federated Church will give a choral concert.

Arrangements for the association meeting are being handled by Mrs. Clara Eddie of Alturas, chairman of the Modoc-Larger Parish, the Rev. Ralph Conard of Cedarville, and the Rev. Karl Olson of Alturas of the Larger Parish staff.
