

THE HONORED COUPLE

The Robert Kents and Bruce Wirths Co-host Cocktail Party For Friends of Joy Kent "To Meet" Her Fiance Robert Winters

The Robert A. Kent home, 1934 Painter, was the setting for a cocktail party, Thursday evening, October 6, for Joy Kent and her fiance, "Bob" Winters. Co-hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Wirth.

The pre-nuptial party, from 7 to 9 p.m., was one of several given before the Winters-Kent exchange of vows yesterday in Glide Memorial Church, San Francisco.

At Home in California

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HERBERT RANDALL, who will observe their first wedding anniversary date, September 25, 1956. The bride is the former Emilie Elizabeth Elliot, member of a prominent Klamath Basin family. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sidney (Sid) Elliot, 103 Washington Street—and her father gave her in marriage.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Randall were here from Ventura, California, for the 2:30 p.m. candlelight nuptial service read by the Rev. Dallas McNeil in First Methodist Church. After the ceremony, over 150 wedding guests were received in the Pelican Party Room.

The newlyweds are now at home in Mountain View, California, after a honeymoon trip to Lake Tahoe and other California and Nevada points. Story on inside page. —Photo by Guderian

Local Friends Greet Overnight Visitor

MRS. SAM COON, wife of Congressman Coon, is pictured above during the recent one night stop in Klamath Falls for the ninth in a series of debates between Republican Congressman Coon and Democratic Senator Richard L. Neuberger on the John Day Dam Bill.

Mrs. Coon has her own identity in Klamath Falls—and the picture was taken in the couple's room at the Winema Hotel—where a number of her many local friends called on "Opal."
