Auburn, Maryland Post Wins

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Halfback Ed Vereb scored three touchdowns and passed for another as second-ranked Maryland slashed North Carolina's defenses Saturday and continued undefeated with a 25-7 victory in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game.

Thirty thousand fans watched the terrific Terrapins continue rolling towards the Orange Bowl by holding the Tar Heels to only 18 net yards rushing. Prior to Saturday's game, Maryland led the nation in rushing defense with a 45.2 average per game.

It was Maryland's 10th consecutive win and North Carolina's third loss against one victory this season.

Vereb, a hard-running, 185-pound senior from Pittsburgh, Pa., scored one touchdown from the six and two others from three yards out.

In the second quarter, he flipped a nine-yard pass to halfback Howard Dare for another touchdown.

ATLANTA (AP)—A magnificent band of Auburn Plainsmen, led by Howell Tubbs, an underrated quarterback, and Jimmy Phillips, a sensational sophomore end, upset unbeaten Georgia Tech 14-13 Saturday to end a football famine of 14 years.

No major breaks figured in the battle of Southeastern Conference giants. Auburn simply whipped Tech in the line and their fired up backs more than matched Tech's talented crew.

The victory put the once-tied winners into the lead in the conference standings.

The winning touchdowns came early in the final quarter with Tubbs' passes eating up 71 of the 89 yards. Tubbs hit Phillips with throws of 7, 12 and 20 yards, the last play moving the Plainsmen to Tech's 5. After fullback Joe Childress smacked the Tech line for four yards, Tubbs sneaked over. Childress kicked both conversions and they proved the difference, giving Auburn what looks now like a stranglehold on the SEC championship.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—West Virginia marked its homecoming Saturday with a bruising 29-13 football victory over William and Mary, as six different Mountaineers scored touchdowns.

The victory was the 15th straight in Southern Conference competition, and appeared likely to continue the Mountaineers' position as national leaders in total offense, rushing offense and scoring in addition to its 10th place in the AP poll.

FLORIDA (AP)—Florida's long-distance touchdown specialists, Jackie Simpson and Jim Rountree, went 62 and 60 yards for a pair of scores Saturday and the Gators fought off a late Louisiana State rally for an 18-14 Southeastern Conference football victory.

It was the first time in history Florida has beaten LSU.

Chiloquin '11' Halts Bonanza

Chiloquin's Panthers flashed the power which makes them strong favorites in the County B-League race Friday afternoon polished off Bonanza by a lopsided 39-0 Bonanza scored once on a 40-yard dash with a recovered fumble, but a penalty nullified the run.

In the first half, two touchdowns by Stu Ridenour and a sole tally by Gordon David gave the Panthers a 20-0 lead. Ridenour scored on a 10 yard tackle play and a one pass lateral, David's TD came on a pass-lateral play that went from Dick Siemens to Mammie Ochoa to David for 50 yards, Siemens scored both extra points.

Two third quarter scores came as Siemens went 25 and 40 yards on end runs. In the final period Ridenour collected his third touchdown of the afternoon with a 19 yard off-tackle slant to pay dirt. Vic Sisson kicked the extra point.

Ducks Display Fleet Backs, Run Over Cal

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Oregon's fleet backs ran panting California into exhaustion here Saturday night and scored a 21-0 victory, their first Pacific Coast Conference win of the season.

Fullback Jack Morris, a 10-second 100-yard dash man, raced to two touchdowns and his replacement, Fred Miklanic, plunged over for the third.

California never posed a serious threat. The visitors once penetrated to the Oregon 22. But that came on a drive that took 11 plays to go 20 yards, and the march spluttered to a halt there.

At the start, it appeared that neither team would get going. They went through almost the entire first quarter without a first down and exchanged punts seven times.

But a 24-yard California punt gave Oregon the ball on the California 26 and Oregon seized the opportunity. Four plays moved the ball to the 14, and from there Morris took a pitchout and rambled around left end to a touchdown.

Two California tacklers met him at the 5, but Morris had full speed up and he simply pushed them back with him into the end zone.

That was on the first play of the second quarter and by halftime, Oregon led a 14-0 lead.

The second score came on a 78-yard drive right after California had made its move to the Oregon 22. It took just six plays with Morris reeling off a key 14-yard run to the California 3. From there Miklanic punched over.

The final score came at the start of the third quarter. Oregon took the opening second half kickoff and moved 63 yards in 11 plays to a touchdown. Once again Morris provided most of the yardage in the march, climaxing with a 45-yard dash to the end zone.

Broncs Stage Second Half Surge, Win 50-0

Boise Junior College's gridiron machine, sixth-ranked in the nation, was held to seven points in the first half of their non-league intercollegiate clash with Rex Huskies' Oregon Tech Owls Saturday night, but surged back in the last frames to overpower the Mile High Campus crew by a 50-0 count on Modoc Field.

Coach Lyle Smith's Broncos were a rough herd that rode roughshod over the Owls in the third and fourth quarters. The Idaho team, somewhat astonished at the OTI first half offensive, returned to the field to chase over three touchdowns in the third quarter, and then added four TDs in the last stanza.

First half play favored the Owls, whose lone scoring threat of the evening was a 77-yard march that died on the Boise three-yard stripe. Oregon Tech racked up eight first downs in the first half to one for the invaders.

Boise's weight advantage and rough brand of football began to take its toll on the lighter Owls, who were still smarting from their 60-7 loss last week to Compton.

The Broncos' first score came with 9:25 remaining in the second quarter Dave Thomas, receiving a bad pass from center, punted poorly or 13 yards to the Boise 48. George Kon, a 190-pound rambler from Sandpoint, Idaho, rumbled center for seven yards on the first play, and Dale Chatterton, who was a 160-pound thorn in the Owls' side all evening, spun and slithered his way through the entire OTI team for the 44-yards to paydirt.

His kick for the point was good, and the score stood 7-0, when the half ended five minutes later.

Smith's pep talk during the half-time intermission must have been exhorting. The Broncos, apparently shaken by the OTI team's fire and outstanding line play, notched their second touchdown with 10:55 of the third period remaining. Eight plays after the second half kickoff, John Cranston snared halfback Jim Warner's 15-yard aerial, and waltzed 20 yards into the end zone. The try-for-point kick was wide, but Boise held a 13-0 lead.

On the following kickoff, Tech's Frank Dunn returned the leather ten yards to the OTI 25. Thomas, who lost 12 yards on the first two plays, tumbled on third down, and Boise end Lonnie Park recovered on the Owl five. The third Boise tally came on the ensuing play with George Kon crunching the five yard distance with 6:44 of the quarter played. The try-for-point again was wide, and the visitors led 19-0.

Ron Zarbansky's 68-yard punt returned for a touchdown, the longest individual run of the night, accounted for the Broncos' fourth score. After taking the ball over on downs the Owls lost on two successive downs, and Thomas punted to the Boise 38. Zarbansky gathered in the pigskin and outran the entire OTI team to the goal line with 1:15 remaining in the third frame which ended in the Boise team's favor, 25-10-0.

Coach Smith, substituting freely during the second half, inserted Babe Anduzia at the start of the final quarter, and three plays later the 163-pound speedster crossed into touchdown territory for Boise's fifth tally with only one minute of the period played. Anduzia had packed the ball for 25 yards on the previous play. Bob Brulotte's placement split the uprights to turn the score to 32-0.

Boise's sixth touchdown came with 10:16 remaining. Cal "Sugar" Smith, who replaced Dave Thomas at quarterback, fired a pass intended for Charles Eccleston, but Gary Haney who played a bang-up game for the Broncos at left end, leaped to intercept the pass. The alert wingman with a burst of speed eluded the Owl defenders, and romped 35 yards for the tally. The try-for-point was wide, and Boise's lead rose to 38-0.

The next Bronco touchdown came with six minutes remaining in the game. The judges ruled it a previous play. Bob Brulotte's placement split the uprights to turn the score to 44-0.

Plunkett's enlivened the one-sided battle after the ensuing kickoff. Stan Smith, who was a bulwark on defense for Rex Huskies' weary warriors, was ejected from the game on the kickoff following Bob Bulotte's kickoff after the 176-pound letterman guard, who had battered the behemoth opposition all night, decked one of the Broncos with a neat uppercut.

The Owl's attempt at an incomplete pass attempt, were penalized 15 yards from their own 25 back to the ten. On the first play, Dave Thomas tumbled on a savage Boise tackle, and Larry Elliott, a 200-pound center from Sweet Home, pounced on the loose pigskin in the end zone for the Broncos' final six point. The try-for-point missed the uprights, and the final scoreboard reading favored Boise, 50-0.

Blunkenship kept the air-ways clicking for Weed as he hit brother Dick Blankenship and Thomas for two more touchdowns via passes.

Dunsuir's two scores came on a two yard run by Saren Murray and a 30 yard pass to Mitchell Crowe, halfback for the losers.

Hornets Tie Mustangs 6-6
Maine, the pre-season favorite to win the B-league football chase this season pushed the Henley Hornets, the country's A-2 team to a 6-6 deadlock Saturday afternoon at Henley.

Al Fairchild's Hornets scored first in the initial period on a three yard back by Gary Cunningham. The conversion missed. The Henley scoring play was set up on a 60 yard run with halfback Jerry Longshore carrying the mail.

Maine's lone tally came in the third quarter on a 60 yard jaunt by Ray Johnson off-tackle. The run for the extra point was stopped by the Henley forward wall.

Henley scored once more in the final quarter as Dick Seary raced into the end zone, but a penalty called the play back.

Bylines from the SIDELINES

IT SEEMS TO BE SHAPING THAT Klamath Falls lost its sports appeal with the falling of the Klamath Gems several years back. That is as far as professional baseball is concerned.

We finally received word from the party who earlier in the year was all fired up on the idea of bringing pro baseball back to the Basin. And from the looks of it, the idea went for naught.

The picture turned from a rosy pink to a thundering black according to Frank Herron, business manager of the Spokane entry in the Northwest League, of which Klamath was reported to have a good chance of gaining entry. Herron was one of the persons involved in trying to help the people gain back the nation's favorite sport. After talks with baseball men and businessmen of our community, Herron isn't quite sure the sport will carry in Klamath Falls.

To us this sounds funny after the way people of Klamath Falls supported the Gems and the Far West League.

According to Herron, he was informed that the city might be big enough to carry a team but there were not enough surrounding communities to carry the load. Again we wonder, who ever informed Herron of the failure of the lack of support coming from the outlying towns of the Basin, must not have seen the turnouts for county high school and independent athletics. For the size of population, it would be hard to find towns that back up their high school or athletic teams like Malin, Merrill, Chiloquin or any of the others.

The Gems' best season, according to statistics was in 1950 when they drew over 62,000 fans through the gates. Herron indicates Class B ball would have to draw about 80,000. That may be true, but Klamath held better in the FWL than Eugene, and Eugene was the second or third best drawer in the Northwest League. Here are figures that may disprove Herron's estimate somewhat, but nevertheless the picture seems dark, as we said once before.

Wenatchee drew 79,421 fans to lead the league. Eugene was second this year, the first season in NWL for the Gems, with a total of 76,823. Salem was next at the 66,441 mark, and from here on down, the attendance at Klamath's Class D games was better than that drawn this past year by Tri-City, Spokane, Lewiston and Yakima, which incidentally drew a total of 36,344 fans. Stopping to think, that is just a little bit better than 50 per cent of the Gems 1950 mark.

When thinking of these 1955 attendance figures of the Northwest League one has to remember that in the last three or four years, the national picture of sporting events attendances has been on the increase. A few years back major league baseball was hurting, but look at the 1955 records. Everyone and his second cousin made increases at the box office.

Our own opinion why baseball won't go in Klamath Falls is this: There are a few businessmen who are in a position to financially lend a helping hand, but they won't and everyone knows, as Herron points out, that a minor league baseball team is just as good as the hometown's businessmen make it.

The NWL directors met yesterday with president, Babe Hollibaugh and what they settled is unknown at this time. Whoever was consulted here about baseball's return evidently didn't give a good report. So, that's the way the squared ball bounces.

It's a shame, but if the people who are able refuse to make the initial step for the Basin's people, there won't be any advancement for either of the two parties.

TONY TRABERT'S SIGNING to tour the nation as a professional tennis player gives the United States Davis Cup committee a good old-fashioned headache. What and where will the talent be found to recapture the coveted trophy?

The only hope for the American officials eyeing to sneak the cup away from the world down under, Australia, is that Lew Hoag and Ken Rowland also make the jump into the money business instead of maintaining their amateur status. And even then it will be a tough job.

Vic Seixas, as was shown in this year's tennis play can't be counted on to carry the load, Ham Richardson is a competitor, but still has his weaknesses that will lose valuable points, and there are no brilliant young stars ready to put on the man-sized shoes left vacant by Trabert's move to pro ranks.

And who is going to blame Talented Tony for his switch? If you or I were offered a chance at $100,000 for a brief tennis tour throughout the nation, would we turn it down? That's more money than Trabert must have been getting while working under amateur status.

Money isn't everything in life. But it sure helps as the railroad hum said to the passerby.

A PROPOSAL HAS BEEN PRESENTED to school districts throughout the state of Oregon to do away with the grade school tackle football program up to the ninth grade and established policies on other elementary education athletics.

Starting this coming week, the Herald and News sports department will carry a series of three articles containing the exact wording of the proposal made to the state's school boards, for action on the matter.

We did some digging into the matter late this week and quizzed persons involved with grade school athletics in the city system and

Beavers Lose To COP, 13-7

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Fullback Lynn Swanson plunged two yards for the winning touchdown three minutes before the final gun Saturday night as College of the Pacific defeated Oregon State, 13-7.

Swanson's game-winning push came at the end of a 15-play, 72-yard march by the Tigers who were playing before a Homecoming Day crowd of 22,500 at Pacific Memorial Stadium.

Oregon State scored the game's opening touchdown 15 seconds before the halftime gun on a 14-yard pass play from fullback Joe Francis to wingback Dick Mason, who was all alone in the end zone.

Sam Wesley booted the conversion.

Pacific tied the tally in the third quarter when fullback Ken Swearingen ran a punt back 40 yards to the Oregon State 29. Eight ground plays later, quarterback Junior Reynolds went over from the one. Swearingen converted.

Oregon State failed to score after gaining a first down on the Tigers one after a second-period pass interference ruling. The Beavers drove into the line three times unsuccessfully, winding up on the COP six, and then a field goal attempt by Ted Searle was blocked.

Huskies Win Over Tulelake
MERRILL — The Merrill Huskies Friday night overcame a first quarter 15-point lead and drubbed the Tulelake Honkers 25 to 13.

Tulelake jumped to an early lead when Carl Creswell carried the ball 43 yards to paydirt on an end sweep, and then plunged over the line for the conversion. The Honkers made it 13 when Tom Proctor went through tackle from the three yard line after a 15-yard pass play had set up the score.

The Huskies came back in the second quarter to tie the game at 13-all by halftime. The first score came on a pass from George Hodges to Dale McCulloch which was good for 55 yards, with John Haskins making the conversion.

A second tally was racked up when Hodges went off tackle for four yards to climax a 50 yard ground drive.

From there on, it was Merrill's ball game, with McCulloch scoring from the six in the third and Tom O'Neil, in a starry-book finish, running up the middle for 63 yards with but minutes remaining in the game.
