

Smith, Carter Meet

Champion Underdog In Scrap

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP)—Wallace (Bud) Smith, a young fellow who has yet to cash in financially on the fact he is lightweight boxing champion of the world, makes his first defense of the crown tonight against Jimmy Carter, a three-time holder of the title.

Smith, a Cincinnati, won the championship from Carter, a New Yorker, in a bout in Boston last June 29.

The bout at 9 p.m., EST, will be televised nationally by ABC. Carter was rated a slight betting favorite to become the first four-time champion in the division in history. He already is the first three-time.

Smith hasn't had a fight since he won the championship. Both men expressed confidence. Smith couldn't hurt him seriously. "I took his best shot the last time and continued to go right after him," he said.

Carter said he was overconfident in the last bout and added, "He's tough but not too tough in my book."

The Cincinnati Boxing Commission has waived its mandatory eight-count knockdown rule for the fight and also said tonight's scrap would not be stopped because of cuts. Carter suffered face cuts in the last fight that required 20 stitches to close.

The referee will have nothing to say about who wins the fight in the event it goes the route. Three judges are used in Cincinnati and the fight will be judged on a 10-point basis. The winner of a round automatically gets 10 points and the loser any number under that.

Carter first won the championship from Ike Williams May 25, 1951. Since then he has lost it to Lauro Salas and Paddy DeMarco but regained it from them in rematches.

Stanford-UW Leads Coast Gridiron Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Stanford Indians, who made a surprisingly good football showing against UCLA last week, although losing 21-13, have a chance to polish up their Pacific Coast Conference reputation against Washington Saturday.

But the Huskies, whose own light was dimmed by a 13-7 loss to Baylor, will let the Indians supply their own elbow grease. Their drives are aimed at retaining their status as co-leaders of the conference. Toward that end, Coach John Cherberg Tuesday put the Huskies through one of their roughest workouts.

Washington scouts had grim reports of the scare the Indian warriors threw into powerful UCLA.

The game at Seattle—promised to be the top one of the PCC football weekend.

UCLA, entertaining Iowa Friday night, indicated it may take to the air. Sam Brown and Ronnie Knox, whose well-publicized shoulder injury appears healed, unlimbered their passing arms Tuesday. The Big Ten Hawkeyes, who've made a weaker showing than anyone expected, are close to top physical shape for the first time this year.

Coach Forest Evashevski planned light workouts for his squad the rest of the week.

Southern California will be going all out against California Saturday, according to Coach Jess Hill, who put his Trojans through a half-hour scrimmage. So it looks bad for the Bears, although Coach Lynn Waldorf gamely commented "the defense looked pretty good" in practice Tuesday.

Washington State's Bob Iverson, quarterback who saw little action in the Cougar's 9-0 win over Idaho last week, is on the mend and may play against Oregon State Saturday.

The University of Oregon, going to Tucson Saturday to meet Arizona, is shaping its line defense against Arizona's Art Luppino. No. 1 tailback in the nation with 666 rushing yards in five games. Coach Len Casanova said right tackle Harry Johnson, sidelined by a leg injury the past two games, will play.

Grade School Athletic Study

Editor's Note: This is a report of a statewide committee for the study of elementary school athletics, physical education and health sponsored by the County Superintendents' Association. Included in the series of three articles to be published by the Herald and News will be principles and policies governing the administration of elementary school athletics in Oregon. The remaining two articles will follow this week.

This report is entitled Principles and Policies Governing the Administration of Elementary School Athletics in Oregon. The report is the result of a four-year study of elementary school athletics. The County School Superintendents' Association was instrumental in initiating the study and sponsored the formation of the Statewide Committee.

The report represents the work of the sixteen agencies and organizations represented on this committee. It was adopted by the Oregon State Board of Education at its meeting on Wednesday, September 21. It is to be printed as a supplement to the Standards for Elementary Schools in Oregon, 1951.

The State Department of Education has requested that the Statewide Committee, which was responsible for the development of these principles and policies, continue as an Advisory Committee to the State Department of Education in the administration of his phase of the elementary school activity program. The State Board of Education indicated that these principles and policies were to go into effect immediately.

PART I

It has long been recognized by educators, health, and medical authorities that boys and girls of elementary school age have a need for vigorous physical activity to promote proper growth and development. Schools have assumed the responsibility for meeting this need through physical education classes, intramural activities, and interschool athletics.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION: The first consideration in meeting the activity needs of elementary school children is a broad, varied, and graded program of daily physical education for all children under the direction of competent instructors. Such a program includes instruction and participation in basic skills, rhythms, games and sports, relays, and self-testing activities. (See handbook "Physical Education in Oregon Elementary Schools," 1953).

INTRAMURALS: An important supplement to the physical education program is the intramural program. It should grow directly out of the instructional program, and should provide further opportunity for children to use their skills in controlled, regulated activities.

The intramural program and the instructional program should motivate each other. The intramural program provides competition, in games, sports, and other activities which have been taught in the physical education class. It is a voluntary program in which all pupils are invited to participate. Competing groups are from the same school.

PAT Important, But Ball Costs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bert Bell, all knowing commissioner of the National Football League, was being queried about various rulings Tuesday at a weekly sports luncheon.

Sportscaster Bosh Pritchard, a former Philadelphia Eagles halfback, asked Bell:

"Suppose we're trying for the extra point and the ball, after it is kicked, bursts in the air, half of it going over the crossbar and half of it under. What happens?"

"You're out $17.50," replied Bell.

UP Honor Given To Cal Jones

By CHARLES KROUSE

United Press Sports Writer
IOWA CITY, Iowa (UP)—All-American Cal Jones, 210 pounds of bone-crushing guard, was named United Press Midwest Lineman of the Week today for 60 minutes of outstanding play in Iowa's 30-20 tie with Purdue.

Jones was in on an estimated 50 per cent of the tackles in the rugged Big Ten contest. Press box observers hailed his defensive work as the best turned in by an Iowa lineman since the 1939 "Iron Men" roamed the pastures of Iowa stadium.

Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski said "Calvin played as good a game at guard as I've ever seen." The husky Iowa captain from Steubenville, Ohio, made the first tackle of the game on a Purdue back returning the opening kickoff. After that he bottled up the middle so effectively that the biggest Purdue gain through there was 14 yards.

Several times he refused to be taken out of plays where the Bolleymakers needed only short yardage for a first down to nail the Purdue runner short of the mark.

The cat-like guard was also the inspirational leader of the Hawkeyes. One observer said "Calvin held the line together. You can always count on him for the needed tackle or the block to get that extra yard."

Jones, a first team All-American selection last year, is a year ago, was heralded as one of Iowa's best all-time line performers, ranking with Duke Slater, Fred Becker and Mike Enich.

Other nominations: Rod Hanson, Illinois, who caught two passes against Minnesota and played a fine defensive game; Ken Vargo, Ohio State center, standout linebacker for the Buckeyes against Duke.

Lionel Stisman, Michigan tackle, recovered a Northwestern fumble to set up a Wolverine touchdown, and stood out on defense. Emory Robinson, Michigan State tackle, intercepted a Notre Dame pass to set up a Spartan touchdown.

Jimmy Moran Breaks PCL Fielding Mark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jimmy Moran, San Francisco second baseman, set the only new fielding record in 1955 Pacific Coast League action, final statistics showed Wednesday.

Moran fielded at a .992 pace to break the old mark for second baseman of .99 set 12 years ago by Roy Hughes of Los Angeles and equaled in 1953 by Moran himself.

The new Coast League record was compiled on only 6 errors in 764 chances. Moran played in 153 of the league's 172 games. San Diego and Los Angeles battled for the team fielding crown right down to the wire, the Padres finally winning the honor in a tight finish by .9764 to the Angels' .9763.

The individual league leaders by position, announced by statistician William J. Weiss, were: Ed Mickelson, Portland, first baseman .996; Dick Myers, Sacramento, shortstop, .973; Milk Smith, San Diego, third baseman, .971; Al Felt, Sacramento, outfielders, .963; Myron (Joe) Ginsberg, Seattle, catchers, .990, and Charles (Red) Adams, Portland, pitchers, 1.000.

DON'T WAIT until the snow flies to Winterize!

Actually it's not too far off and we certainly don't want to rush it... but... certain things should be checked in preparation for it.

- POLISH—Wax protects paint
- RADIATOR—Any leaks, plugged up, or rusty?
- ANTI-FREEZE — Are you protected... need more?
- MOTOR—Start good on a cold morning?
- WINDSHIELD WIPERS—Blades good... work properly?
- TIRE CHAINS—on snowdust tires?

NOW—We have the famous "Kelly" line of tires. We believe they're the best!

Planutis Nabs AP Selection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fullback Gerry Planutis of Michigan State, who plunged for the winning touchdown against Notre Dame last Saturday, was selected as The Associated Press Back of the Week Wednesday by a narrow margin over Navy's George Welsh whose forward passes crushed Penn State.

It was a contest between two leads from the anthracite region of Eastern Pennsylvania with Hazelton's Planutis topping Coaldale's Welsh.

A national television audience saw Planutis overpower the Notre Dame line with savage line bucks as the Spartans moved to their winning TD in the third period. Not only did Planutis go over for the winning touchdown, but he set the stage for MSU's final TD in the Spartans' 21-7 triumph by recovering an Irish fumble on the Notre Dame 16 in the last quarter. And he converted all three points. After the game he was awarded the ball by his teammates for his tremendous work.

Welsh took to the air as he sparked Navy to a 34-14 triumph over Penn State. The 22-year-old midshipman set the Nittany Lions crazy with his flips. Altogether he completed 15 of 20 passes for 283 yards, a Naval Academy record. Planutis and Welsh were not the only backs to be nominated by sportswriters and broadcasters in the AP poll.

Fullback Joe Childress of Auburn was praised for his work in Auburn's 14-12 upset of Georgia Tech. Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen of Duke, who tallied the winning TD against Ohio State, was praised, too, was Don Watson, who scored twice in Texas A & M's 19-16 upset over Texas Christian.

Inventory of Interference

"Do you know anything about any other games besides football? If you do I wish you'd write about them and leave football alone," is the plaintive plea I have just received from one of my admiring readers.

Egad! So it! In my half-century as compiler and spectator, I have started in or covered every sport known to civilized man, and a few played by the uncivilized. Har-rumph! I invented curling, though my early years were spent in a swamp and we had no ice. We curled in mud. Years later the sport was popularized on ice, in fact is classed now under the cognomen of "bowling on ice."

I held the 100-yard hopping record—13 1/8 seconds. I am a former champion at chinning the bar with one hand (13 times) and set a record punching the bag for 72 hours and 11 minutes.

I held the Owls Club international sack race record for three years, 100 yards in something like 14 seconds, or perhaps minutes—my memory has lapsed on minor details.

Once I made a 266-yard high dive in the Solomon Islands, but I never counted that among my major accomplishments because I was pushed.

Now go on with my peerless gridiron forecast:

Kiner Named GM Of San Diego '9'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Former National League slugger Ralph Kiner — his home run hitting days over — now must connect at the gate in his new job as general manager of the San Diego Pacific Coast League club.

Kiner, 32, yesterday signed a one-year contract as front-office boss of the Padres at a reported salary of $25,000.

He promptly hired his old Pittsburgh teammate Bob Elliott, 39, to be field manager for the second year. Elliott piloted the Padres to second place in the standings in 1955.
