HOME FROM JAPAN

LT. (jg) USNR GARY DONLON, Mrs. Donlon and their two children recently returned to the states from Yokosuka, Japan, where Lt. Donlon was assistant port director in Fleet Activities Operations Department, U.S. Navy.

He was graduated from the University of Oregon in June 1951, and enlisted in July. He was chosen for Officers Candidate School and was commissioned in October 1952. He went directly to Japan, where he served the remainder of his four and one-half years' service.

His wife, Virginia, joined him in March 1953—and both children were born in Japan, Debra Jean on July 19, 1953—and Bruce Edward, October 24, 1954.

After a brief residency in town quarters with no conveniences—not even water—there was a vacancy at the base. Mrs. Donlon found life there much as at home and also enjoyed the added luxury of a Japanese maid.

The Donlons and other officers and their families led the usual busy social life on the base—but the lieutenant and his wife are happy to be back in familiar civilian routine—renewing acquaintances with Klamath Falls and college friends. She is a graduate of Oregon State College and Donlon is affiliated with Kappa Sigma on the U of O Campus.

They left a few days ago for Portland for the children to see their paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt W. Donlon—after a stop here with maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Masten, Poe Valley Road.

KLAMATH YACHT CLUB HARVEST DINNER AND DANCE

A lively crowd of Yacht Club members and guests paid homage to Ceres, goddess of harvest, October 8—when they dined and danced in a colorful autumn setting at the club.

This year's committee for the annual event gave special attention to the hearty supper menu—and Baldy Evans' Combo set the tempo for the evening's diversion.

In the pictures—upper left, the couple outside with the bales of hay stayed out in the nippy fall air the entire time with no hint of a shiver.

Upper right, Mr. and Mrs. Orth Sisemore and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Prock, committee members. Lower left, Maury Clark, Mrs. J. Martin Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Schmidt. Lower right, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rajnus and Mr. and Mrs. Murdo Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Prock chairmanned the dinner dance—and other committee members not pictured were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pernell, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Stiles, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Currin and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kandra.
