Godfrey's Ship Wobbles On TV Despite Crew Loss

NEW YORK (UP)—Arthur Godfrey's storm-tossed ship, suffering from three new losses in its crew, wobbles onto TV channels tonight in the face of reports that more heave-ho's may be on the way.

Godfrey, the fiery-tempered emcee of the airwaves, applied the ax to three members of his "Talent Scouts" crew Tuesday — producer Larry Puck, musical conductor Jerry Bresler and announcer George Bryan.

The dismissals followed the surprise pattern of other Godfrey oustings of such performers as Julius La Rosa, Marion Marlowe, Archie Bleyer and the Mariners. The firings came without notice while Godfrey was preparing for tonight's TV program at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in Harrisburg.

There were reports that singer Lu Ann Simms might be the next victim of Godfrey's wrath. Miss Simms, who took six weeks leave from the Godfrey family after giving birth to a daughter, has not received definite word from Godfrey that she'll be back on his show.

Miss Simms' husband, Lorring Buzzell said: "Her vacation is up on Nov. 1, but we haven't heard from Godfrey yet. We should know one way or the other by next week."

There were reports, too, that the McGuire Sisters, a singing trio with the Godfrey menage, might be endangering their position by their extensive entertaining activities outside the show.

One source close to the Godfrey show said that Puck had set the pot to boiling last December when he became engaged to Miss Marlowe. Puck, once the right-hand man of Godfrey, had his duties whittled away after that point. He and the titian-haired Miss Marlowe were married on May 6, a few weeks after Godfrey fired the sultry singer.

The source stated that Bresler was fired Tuesday because he had acted as piano accompanist and arranger for Miss Marlowe during night club engagements in New York and Boston early this year.

"Bryan was the innocent party in the firing," the informant added. "He was kind of a smokescreen as the Mariners were in the Marion Marlowe firing."

Godfrey, who still suffers from an ailing hip, has seen his ratings slip this year. Ironically enough, one of the principal causes of his Wednesday night audience troubles is that he has lost a major share of watchers to a friend of his, Walt Disney, whose "Disneyland" overlaps the Godfrey time slot.

Diem Proclaims Viet Republic

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (P)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem today solemnly proclaimed South Viet Nam a republic and became its first president.

Diem, who came to power in the midst of chaos and despair last year, won 98.2 per cent of the vote in a referendum Sunday. The action deposed ex-Emperor Bao Dai and made Diem the new chief of state.

A constitution is scheduled to be adopted next month, and soon after a general election will name the nation's first legislature.

Berber Seeks Exile's Return

RABAT, Morocco (P)—Thami el Glaoui, the Berber chieftain from Marrakech, has thrown another loop into Morocco's political tangle by proposing to put back on the throne the Sultan he helped depose.

El Glaoui, long recognized as the leader of the mountain-dwelling Berbers, announced in a statement yesterday that Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, should be returned from his exile in Madagascar and set back on his throne.

Frenchmen and Moroccans who heard the proclamation, read by El Glaoui's son from the steps of the palace of the French resident general, could not have been more astonished.

El Glaoui, now in his 80s, listened to the reading with a smile. There was no explanation of his abrupt about-face.

Briefly, this is the knot-by-knot confusion into which El Glaoui cast yet another twist:

1. Two years ago El Glaoui joined with the French in rallying Berber country chiefs to a parley and engineering the ousting of Sultan Ben Youssef on the grounds he was too intimate with extreme nationalists, mostly city - born Arabs.

2. Ben Youssef was replaced by the aging and politically inexperienced Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa.

3. Extreme Nationalists began a campaign of terrorism and twice tried to assassinate Ben Moulay.

4. Last month the French government decided to remove Ben Moulay and set up a regency council as a substitute for him. El Glaoui bitterly opposed this, and so did most of the 300,000 Frenchmen in Morocco.

5. Nevertheless Ben Moulay was exiled to Tangier, the regency council was finally created, and the nationalists were promised that Ben Youssef would be returned to France — but not to his throne — from his exile in Madagascar.

AF Slates Radical New Saucer Craft

By CHARLES CORDDRY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force will send up at any time now radical new aircraft sure to be mistaken for flying saucers.

One day soon you may see a flame spouting jet craft zoom straight up from the ground and dart away at supersonic speed. It may be shaped like a disc or a triangle.

But it won't be a flying saucer —one of those weird objects that have been reported dancing across the skies for the past eight years.

The Air Force said in an exhaustive report Tuesday night that flying saucers are the bunk. The number that cannot be logically explained is approaching the vanishing point, the service said in making public a study of 5,000 saucer sightings since mid-1947.

At the same time the Air Force took some of the wraps from aircraft that "will be a new phenomenon in our skies and under certain conditions could give the illusion of the so-called flying saucer."

Apprehensive about public reaction, Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles said the new planes will not be "supra - natural or mysterious." They will be manned, if manned at all, by "normal" earthmen. They will obey natural laws. The public will be informed about them within security limits.

Two of the new planes are the Ryan vertical take-off and landing jet and the disc - shaped jet built by Avro of Canada. The Ryan plane, having delta or triangular wing, is due to fly at any time from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The Avro plane, long dubbed a flying saucer, is under development and no flight time is known.

Quarles emphasized that other countries also can develop such planes, distinguished chiefly by their ability to rise and land without runways.

As for those mysterious saucers, the Air Force said in a 316-page scientific study that "no evidence" of the existence of such things was found. Investigating methods are so good now, it said, that only three percent of this year's sightings are unexplained.

Quarles said that no objects like those popularly called saucers have flown over this country. None of the so - called saucers "were in fact aircraft of foreign origin." He was sure the unknown three per cent were conventional phenomena or illusions.

SCS Displays Activities

SILVER LAKE—Displays, maps and photographs of activities of Conservation District will be featured at an open house in the SCS office in the school building here Friday afternoon, October 28. This is the afternoon of the power celebration marking the energizing of the Midstate Electric Cooperative lines in the Silver Lake area.

Eston Porter, chairman of the board of supervisors, and Duane Crane and Jack Gillette of the SCS will explain conservaton problems of the district and show typical ranch plans.

Visitors to the power celebration are invited to view the SCS displays from 2-4:45 p.m.

NBC PREDICTS

TOKYO (P)—The president of the U. S. National Broadcasting Co. today predicted live television programs will be beamed from America to Europe within five years, and to Asia within 10. "A chain of Microwave stations spanning the oceans should make this possible," said Sylvester L. Weaver Jr.
