Clark-Tillman Wedding Rites In Mt. Laki Church October 16

Yellow and amber were featured colors in the floral decor at the wedding of Eldonna Marie Tillman to John Milton Clark in Mt. Laki Church, October 16. Autumn flowers in those shades were arranged in two baskets — one in front of each seven branch candelabra at either side of the altar.

The Rev. William W. Ainley officiated at the 4 p.m. nuptial ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon H. Tillman, 1113 Madison Street, this city; to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, 122 Bush Street, Ashland. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Before the ceremony the candles were lighted by Gerry Lee and Ella Beardsley.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Earl Mack Jr., (Barbara Dickson) cousin of the bride; and Winifred Gober, bridesmaid, wore dresses identical in style — Mrs. Mack in ice blue, and Winifred in amber crystalettes. Their bouquets were of yellow gladioli and amber pompons — and they wore star shaped flower hats.

The two flower girls were Susan Welburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Welburn and niece of the bridegroom, Ashland; and Ann Orem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Orem, and cousin of the bride. Merrill Little Susan was in a melon pink nylon dress and little Ann was dressed in blue — also nylon. Gary Orem, Ann's brother, was ringbearer.

Eldonna Marie, escorted by her father, was a diminutive bride in a simple, dainty ankle-length dress of white nylon embroidered lace over white satin. The sheer nylon skirt was scalloped at the embroidered hemline. The embroidery pattern of flowers at the hemline faded into scattered buds on the bodice made with long snug sleeves and a narrow tapered stand-up collar.

CLOSE FRIEND OF BRIDE'S FAMILY OFFICIANT AT RECENT WEDDING

In an impressive candlelight ceremony in First Baptist Church Saturday evening October 15/ Christine Tucker, daughter of Mrs. Hatlie Tucker, 634 North Eighth Street, became the bride of Larry D. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Young, 5723 Altamont Drive.

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and pink snapdragons before a background of tapered ferns decorated the altar.

Ed Reece, soloist, sang "Because" and "O Lord Most Holy," accompanied by Carol Causey, organist.

The 8 p.m. double-ring service was read by the Rev. Kenneth West, pastor, of the Stewart-Lennox Baptist Church. He is a close friend of the bride's family, knowing them years ago when all lived in Mississippi.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Fred Tucker, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore an exquisite gown of lace with a touch of fine net and sparkle of sequins with pearls. The bouffant skirt was waist length with graduated tiers of airy scalloped lace flaring from the snug bodice that tapered into a modified long torso.

The neckline was framed with a stand-away portrait collar of filmy net with spaced medallions of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The snug sleeves were also of lace and pointed at the wrists. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls.

A clip-on lace-over-tulle headpiece edged with seed pearls and fine pleated tulle held her fingertip veil of illusion—and she carried a bouquet of clusters of large white chrysanthemums with sprays of chrysanthemum petals and pink baby roses.

Mrs. Kenneth Young, sister-in-law of the bridegroom was matron of honor. She wore a pink waist length gown of net over taffeta with mat-hing headband and slippers. Bridesmaids, Nola Higdon and Shelby Holland also wore waist length gowns in pastel shades of green. All wore wrist corsages—a large white chrysanthemum anchored at the wrist with others suspended on satin streamers tied at different lengths — white puffs against their frocks.

The two flower girls, Nina Faye Tucker, bride's niece, and Linda Young, sister of the bridegroom, wore aqua dotted-swiss nylon floor length dresses with matching headbands and both carried baskets of rose petals. Young Jimmy Tucker, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

Dale Young attended his brother as best man; attendants were Kenneth Young, also brother; and Don Stroud, bridegroom's brother-in-law. Ushering were Wiley Tucker, bride's brother; and another brother of the bridegroom, Dick Young.

Candlelighters were Norma Jean Jones and Sandra Nichols. Wedding guests were received in the church parlors immediately after the ceremony. The three tiered wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Alice Hershberger assisted by Mrs. Don Stroud and Mrs. O.W. Nichols. Mrs. Roy Huggins was at the punch bowl; Vera Jones attended the gift table; and Mrs. Art Leslie registered the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tucker chose a light blue wool afternoon dress with pink accessories and pink rosebud corsage. The senior Mrs. Young wore an afternoon dress of navy blue with correlated accessories and her corsage was also of pink roses.

Christine and Larry are both graduates of KUHS—and Larry is presently enrolled at Oregon Technical Institute as a student in electronics. They are now at home, 634 North Eighth Street.

CANDLELIGHT illuminated the setting in First Baptist Church October 15, when Larry D. Young claimed Christine Tucker as his bride in a double-ring afternoon service.
