JUDITH LYNN, left, in her party finery celebrated her fifth birthday anniversary October 20, one day after the official date. With her, is younger sister, Deborah Lane, who shares her sister's anticipatory interest in the "doll" birthday cake. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Lane Cornell, 419 Delta, where the party was given for the celebrant and her 15 guests. Festivities started at noon—and lasted until about three—when the little guests disbanded after they had played games, eaten and received various party favors. The sisters are granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Cornell, Seattle; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Herlihy, Springfield, Massachusetts. Paternal great-grandparent, Ulysses Cornell lives in Grand Haven, Michigan; and maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Georgia Herlihy, Summit, New Jersey. —Photo by Kettler

OES Manzanita Chapter No. 172

A regular meeting of Manzanita Chapter No. 172, OES, was held Friday evening, October 21, in the IOOF building, Thelma Fink, worthy matron and Ray Gams, worthy patron presided.

Huge baskets of manzanita foliage decorated the chapter room. Jacob F. Goring, worthy patron of Rose Croix chapter No. 148, Portland, Oregon brought greetings from his chapter and invited No. 172 to visit No. 148 Rose Croix, the only daylight chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star in Oregon, meets in the afternoon at the Masonic Temple in Portland. He spoke of the needs a daylight chapter fills and its various advantages.

Obligations were renewed and a very appropriate addendum, giving the official reasons for many of the customs of the Order of the Eastern Star, was portrayed by past matrons, Virginia Brown and Vera Prisch and officers Lorene Grant, Doris Wallin, Dorothea Buck, Lorene McCollum and Letitia Dunn.

Further arrangements were discussed for the proposed move of the chapter to the new Scottish Rite Temple on Walnut Avenue.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Georgianna Clark, Lois Murphy, Lorene McCollum and Marion Grant.

BETHEL NO. 51 NEWS REPORT

Velma Green, Portland, grand guardian for International Order of Job's Daughters in Oregon, made her official visit to Bethel No. 51 at the Bethel's regular meeting, October 7.

New members initiated were Marilee Breithaupt, Beverly Moffitt, Julie Anderson, Dorothy Dillard and Rita Carr. Visitors other than grand guardian Velma Green were past grand guardian Phyllis Poole; past guardian, Cole Brown; guardian, Refa Boudon; associate guardian, George Boudon; Lynda Robertson and Sorothly Borlis.

Grand guardian Velma was presented with a charm for her charm bracelet, and a decorated cake was served in her honor after the meeting.

At the next regular meeting, October 17, in Mt. Laki Church, fall flowers decorated the rooms by courtesy of Judy Woodruff.

During the business meeting members voted to have a home cooked food and Christmas wreath sale in December. One of the Bethel's current projects, chairmanned by Patty Buck, is making table mats for the Masonic and Eastern Star home, near Portland. Piano solos were played by Barbara Reed and Mary Wells; and after the meeting, refreshments were served.

Reception At Mark Hopkins Follows Winters-Kent Rites In SF Glide Memorial Church

White stock and stephanotis were the floral decorations for the marriage of Joy Kent, member of a well known Klamath Basin family, and daughter of Mr. Glenn Kent, 1945 Leroy; to Robert Winters Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Winters, Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

The wedding in Glide Memorial Church, San Francisco, October 15, is of wide local interest—and included in the guests were a number of former prominent Klamath Falls residents, now living in the Bay Area.

The candlelight service was read by Dr. John R. Kenny at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Joy was given in marriage by her brother, Earl Kent, who escorted her down the aisle which was marked with arrangements of the same white stock and stephanotis on alternate pews.

Her wedding dress was an exquisite combination of fine pleated tulle with intricate lace insertion on the full ballerina length skirt. The bodice was designed with a drop shoulder effect and was softly molded to the bride's slender figure, accenting the small waistline above the billowing apron overskirt.

She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white orchids and bouvardia. Her only jewelry was an interesting open heart pendant of platinum set solid with diamonds on a slender platinum chain.

Mrs. Carroll Keep (Nanette Burton) was matron of honor; and bridesmaids were Gloria Winters, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Robert Kent, bride's sister-in-law. All of the attendants wore Alice blue ballerina length dresses with draped off-the-shoulder necklines. Their satin slippers were dyed to match—and each wore a tiny snug contour crown of Alice blue plush dots. Flaring from the crown were very brief nose veils edged in the same plush dots. They carried nosegays of yellow gold carnations with singles tied on streamers.

Garrett Peavy, Pasadena, served as best man; and Stanley Lichtenstein, San Francisco, and Robert Kent, bride's brother, Klamath Falls, ushered.

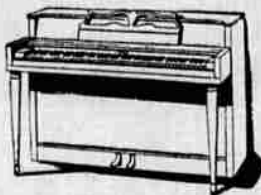

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kent chose a blue lace dress; and the senior Mrs. Winters wore pink taffeta. The bride is a graduate of Stephens College, Missouri, and Oregon State College. She is affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority. Her husband was graduated from Wayne University, Detroit, Michigan.

The couple will be at home in Grosse Pointe after their honeymoon at Pebble Beach and points in Southern California.

Guests from Klamath Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kent and children, Mrs. Laurence Shaw, Mrs. Fred Lekberg, Barbara Brostehous, Mrs. Glenn Kent and Earl Kent.

Former Klamath Falls residents now living in the Bay Area were Mrs. Wesley McNeer Sr., Mrs. Harry Peltz Sr., Mrs. Fred Schalloch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Royal Shaw, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLaughlin (Nancy Bennett), Mrs. Walter West, Mrs. Julia Van Emon, Mrs. Frank Hirst, Mrs. Ruth Wheeler, Mrs. Peter Albertson and Mrs. Carl Reymers. The reception was in the Mark Hopkins Hotel Peacock Court.
