

PARKER-WHITE NUPTIAL VOWS IN ETNA METHODIST CHURCH

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT PARKER (The former Shirley Elaine White)

In Etna, California, October 8, the Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Shirley Elaine White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Luther White, Etna, to Robert Neil Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker, former Tulelake residents, now living in Zeno, Montana. The Rev. James Corson officiated, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the 2 p.m. ceremony, Shirley wore a white slipper satin princess style afternoon length frock with lace jacket. A band of rhinestone stars held her veil of nylon tulle, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses on a background of net.

Darlene White, maid of honor for her sister, wore a street length dress of powder blue faille and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Bridesmaids, Virginia Butler and Connie Wood, college friends of the bride at Chico State College, wore rose taffeta street length dresses and also carried white carnations.

Lee Ann Michel, cousin of the bridegroom, Yreka, was flower girl. Her dress was of pale pink taffeta and she carried a basket of petals.

Mrs. White, mother of the bride wore a navy blue crepe afternoon dress with navy and white accessories—and her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Effie Parker, bridegroom's grandmother, wore black crepe with black accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

At the reception in the church social hall, Virginia (Gin) Butler cut the cake and punch was served by Connie Wood. Nancy Young, Tulelake carried the guest book.

Sam Brown, Tulelake, served as best man; and ushering were Walter Michel, uncle of the bridegroom, Yreka; and Laddie Palmer, Greenview.

The couple is now at home in Tulelake after a honeymoon at Grater Lake and Rogue River. Parker is employed by Fryd Boyd Company.

Besides the out-of-town friends mentioned above who participated in the wedding and the reception—there were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Templeton Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Phil Templeton Jr., Redding; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Toulouse, Montague; Mrs. Frank Manseau and Joe; Mrs. Darrel Lewis, Mrs. Conley Wood and Nancy Young, Tulelake.

From Chico State College were Ordean Severud, Gary Watters, Jim Glandred and Harriet Skillen. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Corson came from Dunsuir for the wedding.

RECEPTION

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker, were honored guests at a reception given in the Tulelake Community Presbyterian Church Annex October 17, at 8 p.m.—just a little over a week after their wedding in Etna, California Methodist Church, October 8.

A program was arranged for the occasion with Mrs. A. E. Ryckman mistress of ceremonies for the evening. Included in the entertainment was a piano solo by Susan Skidmore; a recitation by Mrs. George Fischer; and vocal duet by Shirley Young and Janet Schweigert.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Manseau, Mrs. Conley Wood, Mrs. E. L. Hand, Mrs. Rudie Sialicky, Mrs. Henry Kline, Mrs. Clinton Proctor, Mrs. Vern Hemstreet, Mrs. Earl Heck, Mrs. Don Snyder, Mrs. Darrel Lewis, Mrs. Walter Clink and Mrs. Ray Ommert. They were assisted by Velva Smith at the punch bowl; and Mrs. Edith Mattoon of Coquille, cut the cake. Hostesses, Mrs. E. L. Hand and Mrs. Darrel Lewis, presided at the coffee urn and gift table, respectively.

Decorations were in the fall colors and the refreshment table was colorful with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums arranged around the three tiered wedding cake which centered the table.

Guests were Janet Schweigert, Shirley Young, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Newton, Mrs. Alice Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and Velva; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Sialicky, Mrs. Anna Kelleher, Mrs. A. E. Ryckman, Mrs. Edith Mattoon, Susan Skidmore, Mrs. George Fischer, F. H. Sternberg, C. J. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gallif, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Caswell and Jean.

Some men have good manners everywhere but behind the wheel of an automobile. Then they revert to an "every man for himself" code of behavior. A gentleman gives a pedestrian a break, doesn't sound his automobile horn unnecessarily, doesn't grab a parking space someone is trying to back into, etc. And that goes for a lady, too.

from here to maternity before and after the big event. La Pointe's has everything for you and baby. From the inside out, you can get anything you need at 507 Main. There are panties, fluffy slips just like less lucky girls wear, and Camp maternity garments if your doctor recommends them. The Camp corsets in regular sizes are not the old ironides like your mother wore—they're nylon and lastex without stays, to give support with comfort. Really a fashion piece is the new one-piece dress originated by Dorothy Maguire. Ingeniously gored to contract or expand, this comes in a number of different materials, to dress it up or down, and should be seen! Dresses for expecting start as low as 10.95, and you can pet more if you wish. Orion and cotton makes a two-piece party frock which is permanently pleated and hand washable. The pin-striped gray suit with long torso effect in the jacket (rear view) has a big pussy cat bow at the neckline and will keep your secret as long as you can. If yours is an expanding family, a visit to that wonderful store is a must!

the frustrated young who want party frocks of sophistication can find them at Bon Bazaar. There the new Shirley Lee Junior pettes are planned especially for young people. Cut from exclusive patterns for slightly younger juniors, these are dresses for special occasions and start at a low 10.95 in price. One beguiling brown and gold has golden stars woven into the full skirt, which flares from a dropped waistline. The bodice is of brown alone. A black velveteen jumper can have either a pink or blue acetate crystal blouse. Fluted edging trims its Peter Pan collar and cuffs. All of these little gowns come in sizes from nine to fifteen and some have times enough that the older women of junior size may wear them with confidence. One such is of acetate crystal with ruffled long torso line and rhinestone trim, in green, gray or navy. You'll enjoy seeing the new Shirley Lee juniors coming in almost daily at 4480 South Sixth, the

"lickum" good

It is! The fresh fruit syrup at Carter's Fine Foods made from wild mountain blackberries by Dickinson's of Portland is advertised as having the "most tempting flavor you have ever tasted." Martha's family tried this new syrup on waffles, first, and it vanished—well almost like lightning. Of course, it's good on pancakes, too, and marvelous on ice cream. Dickinson's is now in the third generation of its preserving business, and besides the wild mountain blackberry syrup, preserves, jelly and fruit for desserts, makes 30 other varieties of custom-made jellies and preserves. Whether you try any of these 30 or not, (and wait and see—you will) you should try the fresh fruit syrup—add it to milk to make a beautiful drink, or to soda water with a dash of lemon for a refreshing beverage. You won't go wrong if you pour it over hot, buttered biscuits. Get it at 1420 Espinade.

"the children—oh, don't forget the children!" And who could, with the good choice of children's books for Christmas giving now on hand at Shaw Stationery Company. A Gilbert and Sullivan song book, containing the best know melodies from the operettas of these composers, with easy-to-play piano accompaniments, was especially interesting to Martha. You might be more intrigued by the new Giant Golden books, which are, as always, beautifully printed and illustrated. The Hallmark decorations for children's parties, announced during the Hallmark presentation of "Alice in Wonderland" on television last Sunday, are also on sale at 729 Main. These include coordinated centerpiece, invitations and candy cups which may be assembled by juveniles—or their parents—without the use of scissors. They come in three themes, "Merry-go-round," "Alice in Wonderland" and "Play Faces." November party decorations for all ages may be seen at Shaw's, too. Card-board squirrels and autumn leaves in all sizes, gummed turkey-gobbler stickers and paper napkins decorated with bright-tinted leaves and acorns, or wild ducks are included in a large assortment at

with the arrival of Terri Lee plastic dolls at Marvin's the children's store downstairs at 520 Main looks a veritable house of dolls. Exclusive Terri Lee headquarters is here. With Terri Lee, her brother Jerri, her little sisters, and all their clothes and furniture in full stock, mothers and fathers and all potential Santas should choose soon the one sure thing to make any little girl happy. Any doll can be put away until Christmas at this shop where complete stocks of Terri Lee dolls and accessories are kept the year 'round. Connie Lynn, the new 20-inch Terri Lee doll with sleepy, long-lashed eyes can be bathed all over without injury. Soft, pliable Baby Linda, who is proportioned like a real baby, will put stars in a little girl's eyes for only 2.98. The price goes up according to clothing—such wardrobes you never saw before—and furniture. Baby Linda, for example, has a cradle which plays her to "sleep" with "Rock-a-Bye-Baby." Small "mothers" will be comforted to know that a Terri Lee hospital is maintained to treat any Terri Lee doll that meets with accident or disaster. Wigs can be replaced or retouched here. Accidents to Terri Lee's are not likely, however, for each doll is guaranteed to last a lifetime. Terri Lee, herself, can have most any color of hair, she's 16 inches tall and her basic cost is 10.95. Connie Lynn is 20 inches long and costs 12.95 and up. Another famous line of dolls at Marvin's is the Sunch Vogue doll, for 1.98 and up. These are also of unbreakable plastic with eyes that close and heads that move. Ginette, a new baby doll by Vogue, feeds from her bottle and needs diapers. This doll costs 2.98. What price dreams? See Vogue dolls and the Terri Lee family at her Klamath fashion rivier.

and KEEP a friendship by selecting one of the new knives by W. R. Case and Sons Cutlery Co. A complete supply, which has just come in, is for sale at Roberts Hardware. Everything, from tiny paring knives to great big cleavers, is here in the famous Case hollow ground steel blades. New is the chromium-plated French slicer with ebony-black handle, and the Case Free-Cut which slices through solidly frozen foods in seconds, and completely eliminates frozen food waste. Individual steak knives with Rosewood handles may be had singly or in sets of six. Serving spatulas have their shape and angle improved. And the pocket knives! A two-bladed affair is only two inches long, but the hunting knife with folding blades and horn handle is five and a half inches long. Boy Scout knives with two cutting blades, awl, cork-screw and bottle opener are included in the pocket-knife section, as well as most any other size and type that you could—or couldn't—think of. The location, as if you didn't know, is 2890 South Sixth.

every woman knows that green plants and bright flowers bring life and warmth into a room. She's known this ever since man first built a roof over her head. Brass to catch the gleam of fire-light, copper for the collector or sooty black of wrought iron to focus the attention are all available in new planters at Klamath Flower Shop. Every size and shape imaginable, from wee prices to as much as you'd like to spend, are included in this new collection. A jargoniere of solid brass with encrusted design about the top and three "craw" feet took Martha's eye. A pair of clear-lined iron wall holders for semi-circular brass containers, and circular iron planters with built-in candlesticks, which may be had singly or in pairs, are unusual and reasonably priced. An entire table of new dish gardens, from simple arrangements to elaborate, are also on display at 1211 Main.

or Oriental sheath—Town Shop has bewitching materials in late-day dresses to bewilder the person for whom you're dressing. This glistening stuff of parties starts with a tab as low as 12.95 and you can spend as much as your pocketbook will let you. Stunning red lace is beautiful in a dress which boasts covered shoulders and low, scalloped neckline by Miss Jane Jrs., a new brand at 509 Main this fall. Johnathan Logans and other "names" also feature dresses for junior sizes though not necessarily junior age, in sizes seven to 15. Tens to twenties are also available in the racks of new dresses which have just come in. One brown and black plaid taffeta has a jacket to cover up its bare shoulders if you wish. Bronze and black damask makes another beauty. A black velveteen sheath is teamed with a quilted gold metallic-cloth jacket. The jacket would coordinate successfully with a more formal full-skirted gown of the same quilted lame. Jewel tones in velveteen are available here. A velvet sheath in tiny multi-colored stripes trimmed in restrained fashion with graduated sizes of rhinestones is the "most," and is only 24.95. Satin and brocade—all the fabrics to create the aura of parties—should be seen at

What's in a bath?

to the uninitiated, a bath is a bath is a bath! Soap and water does it. But to those who appreciate the niceties, a bath embraces many little flourishes that transform that daily duty to a perennial pleasure. Currin's for Drugs has Jean Nate (pronounced Nat-ay) bath preparations, which for 25 years have furnished those flourish to the devotees of the bath. "Friction pour le Bain" (after bath lotion) is available in an eight-ounce plastic bottle for 1.75, and a larger 16-ounce size is 2.75. Bath crystals, chartreuse-tinted, are 1.75 for 18 ounces. Bath bubbles, tale, French-milled soap and bath powder are also at the Ninth and Main street store. All have that light but tangy Jean Nate scent. Hand Tone gives a soothing treat to hands and rough spots at 1.10 for four ounces. The Travel Kit which includes Friction and soap in plastic containers, an after shave lotion for men and the Men's Travel-Pac will be seen to be appreciated at
