

COMPETENT INSTRUCTORS ARE a must in the success of any high school music program, and the following instructors are one of the reasons why Klamath Union High School's music department has rated so highly on the West Coast. (left to right, standing) Mr. Don McKenzie, instructor of orchestra and boys' Glee Club; Mr. Stephen 'Steve' Stone, 'B' Band, Mixed Chorus, and theory classes; Mr. Freeman Young, Klamath Falls elementary schools' bands; Mr. LaMar Jensen, concert, 'A' Band, and girls' Glee Club; and Mr. Kristian Gippo, orchestra and strings in Klamath Falls elementary schools. (left to right, seated) Mrs. Betty Thornton, secretary to Mr. Loney; Miss Ruth Lobaugh, Klamath Falls elementary schools' vocal supervisor; and Mr. Andrew Loney, Jr., music department head for the Klamath Falls School System. 'News Beat'

By LINDA GREGORY

At the beginning of each school year, many clubs of Klamath Union High School have conducted the signing of new members and induction ceremonies. Also they have begun making plans for activities for the coming school year.

Officers for Art Club have been elected: Jerry Stewart, president; Jerry Frye, vice president; Betty Wright, secretary; Penny Raught, treasurer.

Girls League presented an interesting program recently in Pelican Court during activity period. Officers for this club are: Beverly Overen, president; Susan Derby, vice president; and Marilyn Hersey, secretary-treasurer. After the business meeting concluded, Gail Nersest sang two songs, accompanied on the piano by Judy Hadley. Then a skit entitled, "The Love Psychiatrist," was given by Zaida Scubbes, Naomi Parker, Barbara Brand, Nola Higdon, Royann Plass, Ann Calder, and Dortha Geary.

Mixed Chorus officers have been elected for the year. Glenn Moore, president; Jerry Minchinton, vice president; Betty Jean Clifford, secretary-treasurer; Suzanne Brouillard and Eva Blilups, secretary-librarians.

Delta Chi had a party and installation for new and old members at the First Christian Church last week.

Ski Club dues are to be paid to Mr. Howard Bailey, Nancy Clark, Paula Cook, or Joe Linnman. The dues are $3.50 and must be paid by November 1.

Student pictures were distributed last week and moans and groans could be heard about how horrid I looked. Edwards Photography Studio, photographic service for students, took pictures of all the students of KU.

Any of you deer hunters who have old deer hides lying around, just contact Paul Adams for a Speedy pick-up. His phone number is 3517. The hides are to be turned over to DeMolay.

Hey kids! November 18th is the date planned for the "K" Club Carnival, an annual presentation of the "K" Club. Remembering the success of last year's carnival, this year's show promises to be even bigger and better.

Many students of KUHS can be seen sporting the Klamath Pelicans Buttons. If you're a KU fan, you should have one. These buttons are being sold by the Pep Peppers for 15 cents. Be sure and get yours!

We mustn't forget last Friday night's football thriller with Reno. The students were really behind the team. If you haven't attended any of the football games thus far, you're really missing a good time. There is only one more game left so get with it!

Girls who worked in the Book Store during noon for the week of October 19-21 were: Beverly Barke, Lee Merkin, Pat Barron, Rita Stiel, Madeline Coleman, Martha Blessinger, Sue Derby, Frances Drake, Sharon Dewing, Gail Morrison. These girls are members of the SOS Club, the moneymaking club for Girls League.

News Nugget recently had a food sale which brought in $33.05. It was held on the corners of Perry and Main. Staff members who sold were Jan Murphy, Glenda Johnson, Fred Heard, Beverly Doran, Lois Shepler, Sharon O'Neil, and Carole Horne. Food was contributed by the News Nugget staff and members of beginning journalism classes.

'Editorial Admonition'

By JOYCE HOWARD

The crutch parade added a new member as of Monday, October 17. Arlen Jackson, one of the boy twirlers, fell down the stairway leading from the band room to the main hall and sprained his ankle. Some rowdy people enjoy making life miserable for other people through such unexcusable rowdiness. It always seems these are the people who blame others for their pranks. In this crowded high school rowdiness is a form of showing how adolescent high school students can be. It doesn't take any more time to be respectful; in fact, in the long run, you won't have to pick up so many books, if you are courteous.

PEL-I-SCOPE Platter Patter

By "BEV" DORAN

I have gotten all your "LOVE LETTERS" and "I CAN'T BEGIN TO TELL YOU" but "IT'S ALL OVER NOW." So "DON'T BE A BABY." "AFTER ALL," I was only a guy with "BELL BOTTOM TROUSERS" "IN LOVE IN VAIN." "IT'S BEEN A LONG, LONG TIME" since we took that "SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY" and fell "IN LOVE ON A GREY HOUND BUS." "OH WHAT IT SEEMED TO BE." Since then I've fallen in love with a "GAL IN CALICO" named "NANCY." "YOU'LL NEVER KNOW," what a "KISS GOODNIGHT" can lead to.

Detention Set On Tardiness

By CAROLE HORN

To prevent tardiness before school and between classes, a system called "noon detention" has been inaugurated since the second week of school. During the first week of school there was an average of 121 students tardy, but during the second week only 31 were tardy.

The purpose of noon detention is to make the students pay for their tardiness and it also reduces would-be tardy students a day.

Detention is held in room 300 from 12:20. Currently there is an average of six to eight students a day.

Mr. Dwight French has charge of the project, and in turn he assigns each faculty member a three-or-four day period to be in charge of the room.

New High Set By 'El Rodeo' For Fall Sales

By LOIS SHEPPLER

"Since so many students have purchased the 1956 El Rodeo, we will have the money to make it a larger, more colorful, superior yearbook than last year's," stated Mr. Robert Buelow, yearbook adviser, when asked if he had any comments on the '56 El Rodeo.

At the present writing the total sales has reached 1,076, while 176 more annuals sold than last year. There probably will be another 20 or 25 sold to new students and latecomers.

Seniors were third in sales with 250. Juniors were second with 268. Highest class for yearbook sales were the sophomores, who chalked up a total of 264, just one more than the juniors. The freshmen were last with 239 purchases.

Marlene Stiles won a free annual for selling the most subscriptions. Marlene sold a total of 178 yearbooks.

Football pictures are scheduled to be taken this week, and by October 25, the juniors' photographs will be completed. The seniors' photographs were begun this week.

Editor's Scrapbook

On October 26, 1825, a great event in the history of our country took place in the Northeastern portion of our country. It marks the date of the first boat trip down the Erie Canal. The Erie Canal was built for the purpose of connecting the East to what was then the West.

Little do we realize the significance of such an event. The building of the canal cost about $7,500,000, but has paid for itself many times over. It provided a route where people and manufactured goods could flow into the West, and raw materials could pour into the East. The canal helped New York City develop into the greatest financial center in the country.

We have heard songs, verses, and stories about the Erie Canal since our childhood. The next time you hear it, just stop to think of its importance to the growth of our country.

The Grapevine

By BEV DORAN

Here it is time again for another issue of our News Nuggets' "Grapevine." Some of you kids haven't been doing much or saying what you have done. Your name can't appear in this column unless you have done and told something interesting.

Marilyn Metler was found sitting on the floor at the after-game dance, when we played Reno. Jo Ann Geiss and Charles Gray displayed a very fine exhibition of the Vega Bop brought to KU by Charles from Las Vegas, Nevada.

Oregon Avenue was the scene for two very fine illustrated dances. There were the Bunny Hop and Can-Can done by Joyce Howard and Jerry Minchinton. What happened to your plans to do it at Sixth and Main after the Reno game?

Again we find sophomores and freshmen walking down the junior senior walk. If this tradition-breaking habit continues by our latest group of underclassman possible educational admittance from the K Club will be forthcoming. Remember: "fools rush in where angels fear to tread." (In case you don't know who wrote this famous couplet, it was Alexander Pope.) That is all of the gossip told to the staff this week. If you kids hear about something be sure and tell it to one of the staff. It will be very much appreciated.

Faculty Jintypes

By LOIS SHEPPLER

Mr. Pete O'Toole has been an American History teacher at Klamath Union High School, since September of 1949. He was born in Juntura, Oregon. Mr. O'Toole received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Oregon and since then has taught at Vale, and Burns, Oregon, prior to coming here.

This American History teacher wrote his own study material for a course of world culture he was scheduled to teach here. The state was interested when they learned of this new approach to instructing. The State Department of Education has included this material in a state-wide course for teaching of World Culture. What he has written is a cultural approach to the study of world history, with six basic cultural aspects of civilization. These include: religious; the need for religious expression; economic; the need for making a living; social; the need for social organization; political; the need for law and order; intellectual; the need for knowledge; and aesthetic; the need for self-expression. Under these topics Mr. O'Toole has written a course for World Culture, but currently only instructs world history. Mr. James Dermody is presently teaching the cultural course.

Mr. O'Toole likes all sports, hunting and fishing included, while he dislikes only tardy students. "Ours is a wonderful school, and I have a fine group of students this year," Mr. O'Toole stated, when asked what he thought of KUHS.
