PHILADELPHIA (UP) — With a backward glance at baseball and the annual "assault" on Babe Ruth's home run record, it was pointed out that Alan Ameche of the Baltimore Colts is running well ahead of the single season ground

AP Honors Hardy As Best Back

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Quarterback Bob Hardy, the Duke of Paducah who kept Kentucky's Wildcats purring against Rice last week with a clutch performance that set up the winning touchdown, today was named the Associated Press Back of the Week.

A bargain basement crowd of backs showed up with outstanding individual performances in college football last Saturday, but none could outshine Hardy, who twice cleared the Cats from behind in the 20-16 victory.

The payoff drive was a beauty. With a little more than 6 minutes left and Rice ahead 16-13, the 6-1, 194-pound Kentucky co-captain guided the Cats 46 yards in nine plays, scoring the winning TD himself on a 12-yard run and then kicking the extra point.

Hardy, a senior, carried the ball six times in the final push, including an 18-yard pass completion on a fourth-down-and-10 situation that mended the drive just as it seemed to crack. The pass put the ball on the Rice 24 and when two plays carried to the 12, Hardy carried himself, circling left end on a keeper and shaking off two ankle-high defensive studs to score standing up.

It was his second TD of the game (in which he scored 14 points) and climaxed a splendid one-man show. Hardy carried 10 of 17 passes for 123 yards and rushed for 33 yards on 11 carries. He completed three passes in the first touchdown drive and played 56 minutes, 7 seconds.

Ranking right behind Hardy were quarterback Paul Hornung of Notre Dame, who scored once, passed for one TD and intercepted two passes to help beat Navy; halfback Jim Swink of Texas Christian, who ran for 158 yards against Baylor; fullback Tom Berry of Oregon State, who scored both touchdowns in a 13-7 upset of Washington; halfback Leon Burton of Arizona State (Tempe), who took off on scoring jaunts of 90, 79 and 67 yards; fullback Dick Borstad of Minnesota, who scored twice, blocked kick in upset of Southern California; and halfback Jimmy Brown of Syracuse, who despite bad leg landed Orange in 49-0 rout of previously unbeaten Holy Cross.

Robinson Said Candidate For Vancouver Job

NEW YORK (UP) — Add another runner to the winter baseball guessing game: Jackie Robinson will call it quits with the Brooklyn Dodgers and take a job as manager of Vancouver, B.C., in the Pacific Coast League.

A Vancouver newspaper, The Province, published the report as "a possibility" Tuesday.

Robinson thought the idea of "any right proposition" about that line, would be fine. But as yet he heard nothing from the Vancouver club itself.

Brick Laws, the club owner who moved his PCL franchise from Oakland to Vancouver last September, wasn't available for immediate comment, but his wife thought "he's a real 12" will be glad to know" Robinson's getting the job.

Jackie, who hasn't yet signed a contract for 1956 with Brooklyn's world champions, told The Associated Press from his home in Stamford, Conn., that "as far as I know right now, I'll be playing with the Dodgers again next year."

The 36-year-old veteran, first Negro to break into organized ball, insisted he had heard nothing from Laws himself, but explained that would be "tampering" anyway. "They'd have to contact the Dodgers first."

Buzzy Bavasi, Dodger vice-president and the man who would have comment on the matter, was en route to Brooklyn from a league meeting in Chicago.

The Province quoted Robinson as saying in a telephone interview he is "certainly interested in listening to such an offer." The newspaper said Robbie added:

"I spent the happiest year of my life in Montreal in 1946 and always have treasured the wonderful treatment I got from Canadian fans. My wife and I have spoken often about this and always have hoped someday to return to Canada."

Arnett Tops PCC Offense Departments

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Halfback Jon Arnett of Southern California dominated Pacific Coast Conference statistics today for the second week in a row.

The Trojan junior tops PCC players in total offense, scoring, kickoff returns and punt returns. Arnett is second to fullback Bill Tarr of Stanford in rushing.

In team statistics, Oregon moved into the total offense lead while Washington retained its leadership in total defense.

Arnett has 634 yards in total offense. Close behind him are Sam Brown of UCLA with 519 yards and Joe Francis of Oregon State with 408. The rushing battle is a tight race among Tarr who has 520 yards net, Arnett 502, and Brown, 496.

Stanford quarterback John Brodie is the top passer with 36 completions in 70 attempts for 490 yards and one touchdown. Bob Iverson of Washington State has 32 completions for 405 yards while Ronnie Knox of UCLA has 30 completions for 390 yards.

Arnett has scored 77 points on 11 touchdowns and 11 conversions. Brown has 52 points and Jack Morris of Oregon has 47.

Other individual leaders are: Interceptions: Sam Wesley, Oregon State, six for 61 yards; receptions: Roger Ransmeyer, California, 17 for 209 yards and Arnie Pelluer, Washington State, 16 for 211 yards; Punting: Ray Westfall, Oregon State, 17 for a 40.2 average, punt returns: Arnett, 13 for a 20.4-yard average, and Kickoff returns: Arnett, 9 for a 32.2-yard average.

Oregon has a total offense game average of 323.3 yards compared to 323.1 for UCLA and 319.3 for Stanford. In total defense, Washington has 212.1-yard average, UCLA 218.3 and Southern California 248.1.

Oregon is the rushing leader with a 243.7-yard game average, followed by Southern California 215.4 and UCLA 199.7. Stanford leads in passing with an average of 135.6 yards. UCLA is second with 123.4 and Idaho third with 119.

UCLA is the rushing defense leader, yielding only 142 yards per game on the ground. Washington has a 144.6-yard average and SC 150.3. In pass defense, Oregon State is the leader with a 66.3-yard game average. Washington follows with a 67.8-yard mark and UCLA 76.3.

Other team leaders are: Interceptions: Oregon 13 for 214 yards and Oregon State 13 for 189 yards; punting: California, 40 for a 38.2-yard average; punt returns: SC 28 for a 17.9-yard average; and kickoff returns: SC, 21, for a 29-yard average.

"I don't care as long as they hang the dummies and not me," a rough scrimmage as Cherbeg experimented with several line combinations.

Cherbeg joined the effigy club Monday after Washington's 13-7 loss to Oregon State. Waldorf became the season's charter member three weeks ago, before California's losses to USC and UCLA.

Al Kircher of Washington State, whose effigy figure hung in a tree at Pullman Tuesday after a fifth defeat by College of the Pacific, laughed it off.

"I don't care as long as they hang the dummies and not me," a rough scrimmage as Cherbeg experimented with several line combinations.

Happier news for Kircher was the return of ends Lew Turner and Russ Quackenbush and center John Clark off the injury list as he drilled his Cougars for their homecoming game with Oregon.

Coach Skip Stahley of Idaho, who meets Oregon State at Corvallis, said sophomore Nick Uglestien may start at quarter against the Beavers. Howard Willis, first string quarter, hurt an ankle against Oregon last week.

Powerful UCLA goes outside the conference this week against College of the Pacific at Stockton, coached by UCLA alumnus Jack "Moose" Myers.

SF Garden Made For TV Fights

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Television, which has changed the entertainment habits of the world, will get credit for the new home of boxing in this area when fight promoter Bennie Ford opens his San Francisco Garden next month.

The $175,000 edifice, possibly the first building constructed in the U.S. specifically for fights since the end of World War II, will be the home of regular Monday night cards — plus possible national TV shows on Wednesdays and Fridays.

"This is going to be a cozy little place," says Ford with pardonable pride. "We have built it to seat about 2200 fans — with every seat a ringside seat. We have kept in mind that in this age of television and that big crowds at ringside are a thing of the past in the fight game except for big-name battles — usually ones involving only a champion."

UP-TO-DATE

It is Ford's belief that this will be one of the finest little fight clubs in America — and definitely the most up-to-date.

"In most fight clubs the television cameras are placed on scaffolds on a temporary basis; and the smoke is so thick that the cameras have trouble picking up the action," Ford points out.

"But here we have taken care of that. We have built a special television booth. And we have installed an $11,000 ventilating system that keeps the arena completely empty of foul air and smoke."

Ford also has not overlooked the one item that keeps many fans from going to a baseball game — parking facilities.

"We have enough room to park cars for every person the house will hold," he says.

NEW AGE

This is a new age in the fight promotion business — the age when many fans like to watch the battle at home with their feet propped up and sitting in an easy chair.

"But they will find things just about as comfortable at our arena," says Ford. "Everything is new, including all the seats. And from everyone of the seats you are practically sitting right up against the ring. The price for the regular shows will be only $1, $2 and $3."

"This is a cozy place and I think the fans will enjoy coming out to watch us develop young fighters on Monday nights. Of course, we'll have some name battles too."

"But we've constructed this with the idea that this is the age of television and we recognize the fact."
