Stevenson To Air Policy Over ABC Radio Network

WASHINGTON (AP) — Associates said today Adlai E. Stevenson plans to accuse Republicans of befuddling foreign policy and giving big business too much voice in government.

Stevenson is expected to announce next Tuesday in Chicago he is available again for the Democratic presidential nomination he won in 1952. He will air some of his foreign policy views in a speech tonight at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville. The speech will be carried by the ABC radio network.

The 1952 nominee conferred with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, former Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman and Democratic national committee officials in an overnight stopover here.

From these and other conferences came word that Stevenson, who was reluctant to take the nomination in 1952, now is a determined candidate ready for a battle.

Friends said he plans to call on the "old pros" of politics to run his campaign while volunteers are organized for him on a national basis.

Once he is officially in the race, James Finnigan, former president of the Philadelphia City Council, is expected to be called in to take charge of his campaign. Volunteers will be organized under the general direction of Barry Bingham, editor of the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal and president of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times Co.

Friends said Stevenson can be expected to contend that the Eisenhower administration's handling of international affairs has shown too much bluster and talk and not enough accomplishment.

On domestic issues, he is represented as feeling that big business has had too great a share in shaping the administration's policies.

Stevenson already has come out for restoration of high, rigid farm price supports, as opposed to the administration's flexible support program. He apparently agrees with the party national committee that what it calls "tax favoritism for the rich" and "public power giveaways" will be big issues next year.

Stevenson's aides apparently regard Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as one of the greatest threats to their man. Harriman has said he is not going into any primaries but he is expected to seek a "favorite son" designation from New York.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is likely to be a primary contender and he and Stevenson might clash head on in some of these tests. The Stevenson camp seems confident of disposing of Kefauver on some battlefield yet to be selected.

In the South, Stevenson's associates believe they are much better off than they were in 1952, when their candidate lost four states to President Eisenhower.

They were reassured by the recent statement by Sen. Russell (D-Ga) that he doesn't see how Stevenson can possibly lose the nomination. Russell was the South's candidate in 1952 but has said he won't run again.

Gilchrist Pupils See Forest Film

Tom Greathouse, Crescent District Range, spoke to the Gilchrist High School students Wednesday on what the Forest Service is doing in the way of wildlife management and showed the movie "Wildlife and the Human Touch."

Greathouse mentioned that the three basic needs for wildlife are food, water and cover. The trees and shrubs in the forests provide cover and food. If the forests are well taken care of there is enough water.

Forest management is now practicing clear cutting in small patch to clear a space where shrubs can get to the sunlight and produce better food for the deer and other wild animals. Management of our forests helps in the management of our wildlife.

The movie emphasized that mans carelessness ruins the land and our wildlife. Fire is one of the major dangers to our forests and wildlife. Since forests offer recreation and pleasure to our people, we must conserve them for our present and future population.

DON'T show me bifocals

Examine me for Noles Blend-Vue Lenses!

Blend-Vue lenses are obtainable exclusively through Dr. Noles Optometrists at Columbian Optical company. If you have dreaded getting new glasses because you knew your next pair would be bifocals, Dr. Noles can give you the appearance of youth and freedom from bifocal discomforts through this sensational lens, which eliminates the objectionable bifocal line and unpleasant eye-jump caused by old-fashioned bifocal lenses. The new Noles BLEND-VUE lens is not to be confused or compared with ordinary continuous vision lenses, which we have dispensed for many years.

Cadillac

Beyond the Realm of Argument!

This is the season when conversations turn easily and often to motor cars.

And, in almost any gathering, you're likely to find a wide difference of opinion about the relative merits of the year's automotive offerings.

Until the talk turns to Cadillac!

Here is one car concerning which most motorists have a meeting of minds. And never before has Cadillac left so little room for argument as in 1956!

Certainly no one could behold the new Cadillac without recognizing it as the "car of cars". Its beautiful, graceful, flowing lines . . . its regal bearing on the highway . . . and its long, low silhouette are simply too significant to misunderstand.

Surely no one could ride in a new Cadillac and not agree that it is the Standard of the World. Its new fabrics and leathers are rich and luxurious almost beyond belief . . . and its interior appointments have been crafted with a jeweler's skill.

And we doubt if anyone could drive a new Cadillac and not understand that it is the finest-performing motor car of all time. Its great new engine is a revelation in power and performance . . . and its new Hydra-Matic Drive is incredibly smooth and responsive.

Truly, the evidence on the side of Cadillac has never been more apparent than it is today.

Why not come in soon—and see for yourself?

We'll be delighted to introduce you to Cadillac's great new styling . . . and to arrange a demonstration at the wheel . . . and to acquaint you with the new Sedan de Ville and Eldorado Seville.

You'll agree, we're certain, that Cadillac for 1956 is beyond the realm of argument!
