PLANNED SETTINGS

"I'd like to give my home a lift . . . do something distinctive and unusual."

There's scarcely a week passes that someone doesn't make this remark to us. Our answer is always the same: You can do it . . . easily and inexpensively. The first ingredient required is imagination. With fresh, new color styling, an old rundown room can be given a completely new lease on life; this, plus an attractive "planned setting," and presto! you've changed an ugly duckling into a glamorous swan.

Note how the wide wallpaper panel in the dining room sketched gives dramatic accent to the table and chair group. The background of the wallpaper matches the dove-grey painted walls. Fine lines which form the filigree pattern in the paper are Bermuda pink . . . which is repeated in the floor covering.
