

PLAIDS are for play this season. This school girl wears the colorful Black Watch pattern in flannel slacks. Girl-town tailors the min-washable wool and ties to each garment the Sanforlan tag which gives accurate washing directions for hand or machine washing.

THE SHEATH is the thing this year. Ultra slim look is effected in this skirt by flat sewn pleats at right front. Button tab slightly above kneeline releases pleats for added width for walking action. Styled in washable Sanforlan flannel in charcoal gray, brown or menswear gray.

By Bessy, the Basin Bossy
If you haven't begun, better start now, eh? I'm talking about getting ready for next week's big feast... Thanksgiving.

There's turkey to buy, to dress and to stuff.
There are traditional Thanksgiving time desserts, salads, trimmings and drinks to prepare. It's a wonderful time of the year.

And it's certainly an occasion to which we all too often forget to give full significance. It is a day set aside for one specific purpose—to give thanks to the Maker for our well being. All the eating, games and the holiday we receive because of this day are all based on that one thing... "Thanks!"

Make it a theme this year with thankfulness the keynote.

Stress it to your family—especially the youngsters—during those days when interest builds up to the big, final day. Appreciation of our well-being is one of the finest elements of good character.

And come Thanksgiving, top the day with a pre-meal invocation—a grace, or prayer, of gratitude. For, after all, look about you. There is little doubt, to be really truthful, that you are actually well off. Sure, there are good times and bad... and this may be not one of the better ones.

But it is a good time.
So take it from your old friend Bessy, sincere words—plus feeling—of gratitude for what we have will go a long way toward giving us much more.
Bessy.
