

Thanks Service To Be Held

The Klamath County Ministerial Association will sponsor its annual Thanksgiving Service Wednesday evening, November 23, at 8 p. m. at the First Baptist Church, Eighth and Washington streets. Special arrangements for this united service are being made by the host pastor, Dr. E. M. Causey working with the Rev. Ed Lander of the Church of the Brethren who is chairman of the Ministerial Committee on Special Services.

Ministers participating in the service will be L. D. Wright of the Nazarene Church, Marshall A. McKinnis of the Congregational Church, Joel Nordlund of the Covenant Church, D. L. Frost of the Peace Memorial Presbyterian Church, and C. E. Lebeck of the Assembly of God who will bring the address.

The public is cordially invited to take part in this service of thanksgiving and praise.

Dairy Honor Roll Revealed

The October honor roll of the Klamath Dairy Herd Improvement Association was announced today by Ray O. Petersen of the county agent's office.

Top cows were Nan, a six year old registered Jersey owned by H. L. Vidrickson which produced 10,655 pounds of milk and 623 pounds of butterfat; a two year old Great Guernsey owned by Ken Waters which produced 8,230 pounds of milk and 448 pounds of butterfat; Curly a three year old Great Hereford owned by S. C. Masten and Son which produced 12,790 pounds of milk and 498 pounds of butterfat; and a two year old Great Hereford owned by S. C. Masten and Son which produced 12,580 pounds of milk and 468 pounds of butterfat.

There were 14 other cows producing more than 70 pounds of butterfat, Petersen said.

The testers report that the average milk production per cow in October was 593 pounds, and the average butterfat production was 25.1 pounds. The single owner-sampled herd produced 108 pounds of milk per cow and 39.2 pounds of butterfat.

Petersen said that the Improvement Association has grown over the past year, with 20 herds totaling 1133 cows on standard test compared to 17 herds with 815 cows last year.

Ike To Confer With Johnson

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) announced Saturday he had been called to the White House for a Dec. 13 conference with President Eisenhower and others, presumably on foreign policy.

Johnson returned to the scene of trials and triumphs as a poor boy college student to insist that both parties shun foreign affairs as a 1956 presidential campaign issue and confront the world with unity on foreign affairs.

He said there were other issues and promised to get into the debate on at least one of them at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in his honor at Whitney, Tex., Monday night.

Johnson did not expand on his announcement about the Dec. 13 conference but departed from the prepared text of his speech to make it at a point where he had said there would be future summit and lower-level meetings on foreign affairs.

The Texas Democrat, recovering from a heart attack suffered in July, spoke forcefully before a Homecoming audience at Southwest Texas State Teachers College. He grinned and said he would attend the Dec. 13 conference assuming that his and President Eisenhower's health permitted.

Administration officials disclosed in Washington two weeks ago that congressional leaders of both parties would be briefed on foreign and defense policies at the White House in mid-December.

A FAREWELL PARTY for Wesley C. Lorenz was given Friday night at the Klamath Falls Yacht Club by the employees of the Lorenz Company. Lorenz (president of the firm, which was sold recently to Adco, Inc., of Buffalo, New York) will officially relinquish direction of the company to Adco management on November 28. Lorraine Dingler, left, Lorenz's secretary, holds one of the gifts presented to Lorenz, center, by the employees. C. A. Griffin, right, a buyer for the firm, gave the farewell speech at the party.

James Harpole Presents Boy Scout Honor Awards

LAKEVIEW — James Harpole, Klamath Falls, Boy Scout executive for the Modoc Area Council, presented awards at the Lake district Boy Scout court of honor on November 16 at the courthouse.

Millard Adams, former scoutmaster for Troop 15, was presented with the Arrowhead training award in recognition of his use of good scouting practices. Harpole also presented to Adams the new charter for Explorer Post No. 115, sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Adams is adviser for the new post.

Assisting in the award ceremony were Charles Waldron, district chairman, Glenn Tyler and Douglas Fetsch, members of the council, who presented to Scouts of Troop 15 the following awards: second class, Donald Fossum, Terry Hill, Rex Byington, Melvin Smith, Curt Byington; first class, David Morris.

In Explorer Post No. 115, an aviation rating was presented to Melvin Adams.

Awards given to members of Troop 12, which is sponsored by the Lakeview Lions Club included: second class, Kenny Paxton, Dick Maxwell, Francis Estep.

Merit badges went to Charles Drinkwater for swimming, life saving, rowing and canoeing; Michael Toole, scholarship, public speaking, swimming, life saving and canoeing.

Larry Johnson won merit badges in cycling, scout life guard, public health, soil and water conservation, canoeing and rowing; Larry Decker, forestry; Jimmy McNeely, archery; Billy Gallogway, cycling; Casey Officer, cycling; Larry Waldron, scholarship.

Noted Masons Get Honor

In addition to the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite bodies the top members of the organizations are the honorary 33rd degree Masons.

Arthur W. Schupp and Paul O. Landry are the only two members of this body in Klamath Falls. There are about 48 members of the degree in Oregon.

Between the 32nd degree and the honorary 33rd degree are the Knights Commander, Court of Honor. This court of honor is a recognition given Masons for outstanding accomplishment in Masonic work or for their achievements in public life.

The Klamath Consistory of the Knights Commander, Court of Honor includes Harold O. Brandenburg, Benjamin F. Douglass, Raynor D. Eller, Herman Givold, Don Hensley, Ralph T. Howard, Leo N. Huls, Clarence A. Humble, H. Edwin Jones, Sanford C. Selby, Jack H. Schulze and Bernace Wilson.

Paul R. Winter, Floyd A. Boyd and Oral E. Thompson are designated to the court of honor. They will be invested in the court either in Salem December 10 or Portland on December 6.

NEW SAW SHOP
LAKEVIEW — Frank L. Royce, formerly with Darn Diesel Company, has opened the McCulloch Saw Shop on the Klamath Highway and 10th Street. Mining equipment, pumps and McCulloch chain saws will be stocked, said Royce. The shop will also handle auto and diesel truck repair.

Southern Rite Jurisdiction One Of Oldest In Nation

Klamath Falls Scottish Rite officials, explaining the origin of the body, said that the Southern Jurisdiction of the body is the oldest in the U.S.

The Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, consisting of 33 degrees, is an outgrowth and amplification of the "Rite of Perfection" which was organized in Paris, France in 1754. It is governed and administered by bodies of the 33rd degree called "Supreme Councils." Such a council governs the Southern Jurisdiction of which the Klamath Falls lodges are members.

Scottish Rite Freemasonry is the most widely extended of the Masonic bodies. Everywhere, except in the U.S., Great Britain, Canada and China, the Supreme Councils administer all the degrees from the first through the 33rd. In the countries named the Supreme Councils do not claim jurisdiction over the first three, or Blue Lodge degrees, leaving these to be administered by the various Grand Lodges.

The different degrees are complete in themselves, teaching by allegory great truths of justice, philosophy, history, science and religion, yet taken together from the first to the 32nd, they constitute a harmonious whole, each leading up to the other.

The degrees of the Scottish Rite are both practical and philosophical. Practical in that the lessons they teach are fitted for, and worthy to be taken into the everyday life of each member and used as rules for the government of his conduct.

The philosophical teachings deal with a phase of existence, which in its last analysis each must solve for himself. It has been said, "These teachings are not as easily digested as the primer and catechism for the children."

The leaders of the lodges emphasize that the teachings require patient study and profound reflection in order to be comprehended and it is not expected that any initiate will become an adept or savant by sitting through one reunion, taking the obligations and hearing the ramified philosophies of the degrees unfolded.

The efforts of the workers are directed at inciting in the initiate a desire to learn; to arouse in them a determination to delve into those matters which the degrees suggest.

Worden Farm Work Starts

Work has started on a new machine shop at Tulana Farms at Worden to replace the building which was destroyed by a lightning-caused fire several months ago.

Contractor on the job is Duncan Construction Co., Klamath Falls, and the new 90 x 100-foot structure will cost approximately $65,000. Completion date has been set for January 1, 1956.

Structural engineer who drew plans for the building is William Wales Jr., 4512 Clinton Avenue.

An unusual feature of the building, according to Duncan, will be two Colar reinforced concrete mezzanine decks supported by concrete columns and beams.

The one-story building will have a reinforced concrete frame, curtain walls of glass tile, steel-trussed roof with steel roof decking and steel rolling doors. Sprayed-on Thermacoustic will provide insulation.

Plumbing work will be done by Friesen-Wellman Plumbing Company; electric work by Lacey Service Company; masonry by H. C. Lane; glass and glazing by Loomis Glass and Mirror Company and steel work by Medford Steel Company.

Lake Ranchers Get Elected

LAKEVIEW — R. C. Burgess, district range manager for the Bureau of Land Management, announces the election of three cattlemen and one sheepman as representatives to the Bureau of Land Management district grazing advisory board.

Elected at the annual Lake County Stockgrowers Association meeting on November 15 were Frank P. Grohs Jr., Bonanza, cattle representative from precinct 1; J. C. Clark, cattle representative, precinct 3; Hugh Cahill, Adel, cattle representative, precinct 4; Henry O'Keefe, Adel, sheep representative, precinct 4.

Out of town visitors at the meeting were William J. Anderson, from the BLM state office at Portland, range conservationist, and Phillip Foss of the University of Oregon's political science department who is attending advisory board meetings in the state for work on his project, "Administrative Aspects of Grazing on Federal Range."
