"DENNIS THE MENACE"

"CAN I SEE THE FIRST PENNY YOU EVER EARNED?"

Ann Woodward Released From Hospital; Questioned

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. William Woodward Jr., haggard and tearful, went through a three-hour police quiz last night after leaving a hospital for the first time since Oct. 30, when she shot her millionaire husband to death.

The 39-year-old widow, Ann, broke into uncontrollable sobs three times during the questioning. She stated again that the shooting was a tragic accident.

After the interrogation, authorities unofficially let it be known that it still looks like an accident

De Carlo Weds Stunt Man

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (AP)—Movie actress Yvonne De Carlo is honeymooning in this historic old mining town today with a Hollywood stunt man, Robert Morgan.

The 33-year-old actress and a 40-year-old stunt man, Morgan, were married yesterday at the Episcopal chapel. Actor Rory Calhoun gave the bride in marriage and Charles Hayward was best man. The couple have to be back in Hollywood later this week for film work.

Miss De Carlo, one of Hollywood's most traveled performers, was also one of its most eligible spinsters. Her name had been linked romantically with many men, including a German baron, an industrialist, Moslem Prince Aly Khan and Peter Townsend, recently rejected suitor for the hand of Britain's Princess Margaret.

Miss De Carlo acquired an 8-year-old stepdaughter by the marriage. Morgan is a widower.

Miss De Carlo said she decided to desert the spinster ranks "because now I know what I want from life with a man who will be my life's partner."

Red Chinese Warn SEATO Countries

TOKYO (AP)—Communist China today warned the southeast Asian treaty nations that intervention in any fighting in Laos, Indochina, "will not be tolerated by China and all peace-loving nations that support the Geneva agreements."

The Red radio, quoting an "observer" in the official Peiping People's Daily, attacked the United States and blamed the Laotian government for taking U. S. advice.

The dispute is over handling of remnants of the Pathet Lao Communist fighting forces.

Republican Conservatives Try To Hold 1956 Race Open

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican conservatives are discussing ways to keep the 1956 GOP presidential contest wide open until President Eisenhower announces his political plans.

They fear that if Mr. Eisenhower decides not to run again and then delays his announcement the GOP convention next August might be left with little choice but to nominate whoever is favored by the President or his principal party supporters.

A highly-placed Republican told the United Press Monday that he knows the subject is being discussed. But he added that he is unaware that any organized plan is being developed.

He said sponsors of any such plan are extremely wary of launching it as long as they think Mr. Eisenhower possibly might seek a second term.

If Mr. Eisenhower should withdraw because of his heart attack two months ago, some Republicans, such as Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland, want the announcement early enough to give other potential candidates time for a pre-convention campaign.

On the other hand, the all-out Eisenhower partisans have protested against putting pressure on the President for an early decision. There has been a recent upsurge of hope among these Republicans that he will run again.

Discussions of ways to keep the contest open, pending an announcement by the President, has centered on the proposed entry of "favorite son" candidates from a number of states. However, the prospective favorite sons are reluctant to step out as long as Mr. Eisenhower's plans are unknown.

Meanwhile, the newly-merged AFL-CIO said in a special announcement that it has invited both Mr. Eisenhower and Democratic presidential aspirant Adlai E. Stevenson to address its first convention in New York next month.

In 1952, both the AFL and CIO endorsed Stevenson, who campaigned on a pledge to repeal the Taft-Hartley Law in favor of new labor legislation. Mr. Eisenhower campaigned for Taft-Hartley modification rather than repeal.

The AFL-CIO, whose convention opens Dec. 5, said Stevenson agreed to speak on Thursday Dec. 8. The White House, it said, has special message... instead of appearing personally.

AN ACT TO REGULATE COMMERCE

Both Are Modern!

Your rights and privileges as an American citizen are protected by the Constitution, a unique and magnificent document whose principles are as sound today as when written, over 150 years ago.

Through the years, amendments have been added to keep the Constitution up-to-date.

The same is true of the regulatory powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Congress has enacted more than 150 amendments to the Interstate Commerce Act since it was passed in 1887, completely overhauling it twice.

In principle, present ICC regulations governing the various transportation systems are pertinent, constructive, and modern in concept. Under these principles, we have developed the greatest competitive transportation system in the world!
