Moose Begin Toy Campaign

"Operation Santa Claus," Christmas cheer program sponsored by the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge, No. 1109, Klamath Falls, was kicked off at 10 a. m. today with distribution of "toy barrels," to merchants in Klamath Falls.

Between now and Christmas shoppers are asked to buy an inexpensive toy for deposit in a barrel. The Moose committee asks that the gift be wrapped at the store and the age and sex of the child be clearly marked on the outside of the package to prevent error and duplication.

Santa Claus will call in person on the evening of December 23 to distribute gifts to all children in the community who otherwise might be overlooked.

Anyone knowing a needy family is asked to call the Moose Lodge or a member of the "Operation Santa Claus Committee," as soon as possible. All names will be cleared through the Christmas Clearing Bureau.

F. E. Mitchell will again chairmen the gift distribution project that last year furnished gifts for more than 300 children.

Mitchell will be assisted by co-chairmen Russ Fairchild, "Chappie" Chappel, Dave Thomas and the Women of the Moose.

Jay Kroksh, manager of Consolidated Freightways, and employees of the transportation unit will assist with the distribution of the toys, using Consolidated trucks. All toys contributed to the Moose program go to needy children in Klamath Falls this holiday season. None are kept in reserve for another year and none are sent out of the community.

Woman Held In Knife Case

A 48-year-old construction worker was in Klamath Valley Hospital with a knife wound in his chest and a 29-year-old nurse was held in the county jail on drunkenness charges Tuesday following a cutting affray in a house at 651 Highway 97.

The wounded man is Frank Ealey. He was found in a bedroom of the house shortly before 8 p. m. Monday. He was taken to the hospital in a Kaler Ambulance.

A short time later, Sheriff Murray Britton and State Policeman Dick Pinnell arrested Barbara Fleicher of Spokane, Washington. Britton said the nurse had been drinking with Ealey.

Attendants at the hospital said an artery in Ealey's chest had been severed and the knife victim suffered great loss of blood.

The Fleicher woman refused to make a statement after she was booked at the county jail on a charge of being drunk in a private place. She was to be arraigned late Tuesday before District Judge D. E. Van Vactor.

Road Plans Outlined By Engineer

William Canton, Klamath County engineer, was elected president of the Oregon State Association of Surveyors and Engineers last week-end in Portland.

The election took place at a meeting of the Association of Oregon counties which was attended by Canton, County Judge U. E. Reeder, commissioners Ed Gowen and Jeffrey Rajpus, and County Clerk Charles Delap.

The association adopted a resolution submitted by the roads and highways committee urging a compromise in current proposals for the federal highway construction program and requests that appropriations be made when congress reconvenes in January.

Canton said failure of Congress to appropriate funds during the last session means a decided slow down in the county road program this year. However, he said, if congress takes favorable action this year, the program will go into "high gear" next year. Canton said the county is 10 years behind schedule in its road program.

He outlined the present federal road program, in which the federal government pays 60 per cent, the county and state each 20 per cent of the road cost.

Klamath County has allocated all available federal funds for four projects: the townships line road from Worden East to the Lower Lake Road; a new bridge at Wilson Dam near Drew's Reservoir; a new bridge on the proposed Ward Street cut-off and a wide bridge on Homedale Road over the "A" canal.

Canton said it is to the county's advantage to build bridges with federal funds and reserve county funds for road building since the county is better equipped to engineer roads.

He added that road improvement this year topped the county's previous record. Fifty miles were improved in 1955.

Firemen Answer Minor Blazes

Two minor fire calls were reported in the 24 hours ending at 10 a. m., one each by the Suburban and Klamath Falls fire departments.

The suburban call at 4:10 a. m., was for a burning grease trap in a stove at Rita's Cafe, 4831 South Sixth Street, operated by F. Murray. There was no damage, firemen said.

The city call, at 8:04 p. m. yesterday, was for a burning auto seat in a pickup truck parked on a filling station lot at Eleventh and Main Streets. The truck, owned by George Leonard, 4724 Summers Lane, was damaged inside the cab, firemen said.
