

Witte Selected To PCC All-Star Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Placing five players on the all-star eleven, UCLA dominates The Associated Press' 1955 all-Pacific Coast Conference football team.

Selected by football writers of more than a score of AP member newspapers up and down the Coast, the team as announced Wednesday:

Ends — Rommie Loud of UCLA and John Stewart of Stanford.

Tackles — Paul Wiggan of Stanford and John Witte of Oregon State.

Guards — Jim Brown of UCLA and Orlando Ferrante of Southern California.

Center — Steve Palmer of UCLA.

Backs — John Brodie of Stanford; Sam Brown of UCLA; Jon Arnett of Southern California; Bob Davenport of UCLA.

A glance at the standings, win-loss column of who won from whom and overall statistics gives a good insight into the balloting of the critics.

UCLA won the conference championship with a defeat in the tie game, and with 285 points, was the second highest scoring team in the nation.

Sam Brown led the conference in rushing. Brodie in passing and total offense. Davenport as the bread-and-butter back of a Rose Bowl team and Arnett, third in total offense and first in scoring, punt and kickoff returns.

Stanford's plugging fullback, Bill Tarr, was a close contender for the first team. But aside from one guard and one tackle position, the vote was clearly defined.

And in the instance of Palmer at center, Stewart at end, and the four backs selected, the balloting was decisive.

Tackle Fred Robinson, Washington's 230-pounder, merited close attention from the experts, although shy of the support given to the 235-pound Witte, whose Oregon State mates edged out Washington, 13-7.

At guard, the race was between Jim Brown, somewhat unheralded before the season; Trojan Orlando Ferrante, and UCLA's Hardiman Cureton, a well publicized lineman before and early in the campaign.

Brown and Ferrante proved the more consistent and Cureton, in the opinion of many observers, was less so over the Bruins' 10-game schedule.

Seven seniors and four juniors are represented on the first team, the latter being Brodie, Arnett, Witte and Jim Brown.

Ends — Jim Garlich, California; and Jim Houston, Washington; tackles — Fred Robinson, Washington, and Gil Moreno, UCLA; guards — Hardiman Cureton, UCLA, and Earl Monlux, Washington; center — Joe Long, Stanford.

Backs — Bill Tarr, Stanford; Dick James, Oregon; Ronnie Knox, UCLA, and Joe Francis, Oregon State.

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the week you can have football with your turkey drumstick on Thursday and football with your turkey hash on Saturday.

This closes out the 1955 season of pigskin picking. Right now the season's figures are 332 correct picks and 121 losers for 729, including 30 winners and 11 losers last week.

The final choices:
Navy over Army: In the belief that Navy has come up with a pair of running halfbacks while Army's passing won't be up to the usual Cadet standard. The lines about a pair. The game is Saturday at Philadelphia.

Penn over Cornell: Penn hasn't won in two seasons under Coach Steve Sebo but this is it. The Quakers' determination will cut down Cornell's vaunted speed. A Thursday game.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma A&M: The Sooners have won 28 in a row and with Tom McDonald healthy should make it 29 with relative ease. A Saturday contest.

Texas A&M over Texas: The Aggies complete an unprecedented season. They finished in the cellar a year ago, are conference champs this time. A Thursday game.

Notre Dame over Southern California: It will be close, perhaps one of Paul Hornung's field goals will decide this Saturday struggle.

Colgate over Brown, Denver over Wyoming, Utah over Utah State, Virginia Tech over Virginia Military, Wichita over Tulsa, Richmond over William and Mary, Miami (Ohio) over Cincinnati.

FRIDAY
West Virginia over North Carolina State, Texas Western over Trinity.

SATURDAY
East: Boston College over Holy Cross.
Midwest: None.
South: Auburn over Alabama, Clemson over Furman, Georgia Tech over Georgia, Miami (Fla.) over Florida, Louisiana State over Tulane, Mississippi over Mississippi State, Tennessee over Vanderbilt, Virginia over South Carolina.

Southwest: Baylor over Rice, Texas Christian over Southern Methodist, Texas Tech over Hardin-Simmons.
Far West: Colorado over Colorado A&M, New Mexico over Brigham Young, Tempe, Ariz. State over Arizona, Nevada over Fresno.

Spartan Mentor Honored

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UP)—He took his lumps with a grin last year when the Rose Bowl champions he inherited lost game after game.

He beat his critics to the punch by saying, "We proved we could lose gracefully, but I guess we overdid it."

It was his first season as head coach. He had taken over a football dynasty, only to see it crumble in his hands.

When the dust settled, he picked up the useable pieces, added some promising but untested material and built his own football powerhouse.

He's the United Press Coach of the Week. Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty of Michigan State, whose team ended its 1955 season last Saturday with an 8-1 record and a summons to the Rose Bowl, beating Marquette 33-0.

It was one of finest comebacks ever staged in college football.

Daugherty gives the credit to his coaching staff and his players: "The coaches were a year older and a year wiser," he said. "As for the players, the seniors worked like eager sophomores, and the sophomores came through like veterans."

BOWL CLASH
Daugherty declined to predict the outcome of Michigan State's Rose Bowl clash with UCLA.

"But we'll do our best to carry on the great record of Big Ten teams in past years," he said. The record includes a Michigan State victory over UCLA in 1953 when Biggie Munn was head coach.

What's the outlook for Michigan State next year? Will it suffer another relapse similar to the 1954 disaster which came on the heels of a Rose Bowl triumph?

"I feel we should have a fairly good team," Daugherty said.

"We'll miss one of the greatest bunch of seniors I've ever seen, but we'll have a good number of juniors and sophomores returning. And we've got a representative freshman team this season."

Senior quarterback Earl Morrill brilliant ball-handler, signal-caller and most successful passer in Michigan State history with a career record of 2,904 yards gained. He'll be among the missing. But Daugherty has three promising successors for him.

HAILED
Daugherty is being hailed on the Michigan State campus as "the comeback coach of the year."

Last week, a few hours before the victory over Marquette, he gave a $1,000-a-year raise. Happy alumni flooded him with congratulations. More than 2,000 students turned out to cheer him at rally.

"I don't know why you're cheering me," he said, "I didn't play a minute all season. This was a team made by the coaches."

He kidded himself and a group of alumni recently about the sudden change in Michigan State's football fortunes.

He started to refer to the 1955 Spartans as "my team," but quickly corrected himself. "I forgot," he explained, "this team belongs to you. Last year's squad was my team."

Sam Brown, John Brodie Snare Honors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Turning in impressive performances in their final games, Sam Brown of UCLA and John Brodie of Stanford carried off running and passing honors in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Statistics released by the PCC Wednesday show that Brown finished the season with 829 yards rushing and Brodie led in passing, with 76 completions for 1,034 yards.

Brodie was first in total offense, with 1,054 yards, and Brown was next with 1,011.

Stanford was 4-3 in the pass reception department. John Stewart caught 23 for 296 yards and teammates Paul Cameron had 22 for 330 and Gary Van Galder 19 for 230.

TIME OUT

"Too bad about the broken jaw, arm and collar bone, kid, but don't you worry... we'll have you back in action in no time!"

Cherberg Center Of Revolt

SEATTLE (UP)—Two groups of 1955 football letter winners at the University of Washington have made formal protests against the coaching regime of Johnny Cherberg, it was learned today.

Harvey Cassill, the school's athletic director, said he had met with two groups of players but declined to name them and would not reveal who their spokesmen were.

"I have no conclusive idea regarding this situation at this time," Cassill said. "I have heard the players' complaints and they will be given the fullest consideration. However, this is primarily a matter for the coaching staff to resolve."

Of the two groups who have aired their complaints, one is composed of seniors and the other of sophomore and juniors. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer reported two of the senior class spokesmen were left halfback Mike Monroe and quarterback Sandy Lederman.

Cherberg's Huskies finished this year with a 5-4 mark but suffered a severe mid-season slump and Cherberg was hung in effigy at one stage of the campaign.

Cherberg has repeatedly denied a rumor he slapped reserve left guard Gene Pedersen during the recent UCLA-Washington game which UCLA won 19-17 in a thriller.

"That's a dirty lie," said Cherberg. "In 21 years of coaching I have never abused a player."

He said the slapping incident was misinterpreted and came about in the dressing room after the game when he chuckled Pedersen under the chin and told him to put his head up and forget the loss.

Lederman, reportedly one of the protesting seniors, was dismissed from the Washington squad just before the Baylor game and many fans felt the move had much to do with Washington's mid-season slump.

Cherberg is hired on a year-to-year basis as are his assistants John Baker, line coach, Bud Kerr, end coach, Jim Sutherland, backfield coach, Don Doll, assistant, and frosh coach Bill Marx.

Cherberg would not comment on the reported rebellion.

Pointing Supplies Problems

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer

Jim Trimble of the Philadelphia Eagles and Jim Lee Howell of the New York Giants are two National Football League coaches who believe a team is asking for trouble if it points for any particular opponent.

Trimble and Howell are particularly aware of this problem because the Eagles and Giants have been chasing the Cleveland Browns for the past five years in the Eastern Division.

Beating the Browns has become almost an obsession with other Eastern Division clubs. As a result, they frequently play poorly before or after brilliant efforts against Cleveland.

The Eagles pulled one of the top rallies in league history to beat the Browns two weeks ago, 33-17, and then played poorly while losing to New York last Sunday, 31-17.

"The only way I can explain our poor showing against the Giants was that our boys had a letdown after beating the Browns," Trimble said. "But that's no excuse."

The Giants have taken delight in defeating Cleveland and boast the only shutout ever scored against the midwestern team. But while New York has made some good showings against the Browns it also has been whipped regularly by the Pittsburgh Steelers in recent years.

The Giants appeared to have a long drill and skull session Tuesday but Howell denied his club was making any special preparations for Sunday's visit by Cleveland.

"The movies of our last game were just late in arriving so it took us longer to get finished," Howell said.

"We've already lost two games to the Steelers this season. As far as our players are concerned, the Steelers are the best club we've played."

The Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers, who meet in their traditional Thanksgiving Day game, have less time to prepare for their game than the other teams have this week.

The Lions (2-7) are picked to defeat the Packers (5-4) at Detroit. Sunday's selections with worst-loss records in parentheses: Bears (6-3) over Cardinals (3-5-1) at Chicago; Browns (7-2) over Giants (4-5) at New York; Rams (5-3-1) over Eagles (3-5-1) at Philadelphia; Forty-Niners (3-6) over Colts (4-4) at Baltimore; Steelers (4-5) over Redskins (6-3) at Pittsburgh.

Basin Boxing Fans To Pay Token To Weiser Thursday

Klamath Basin boxing fans will pay tribute to the memory of Ralph Weiser, the late Beatty Bomber who met his death in the armory, squared circle last December, when the curtain opens on the second annual Ralph Weiser Benefit boxing card Thursday evening at the armory.

Doors open at 7:30 with the first match slated to answer the bell one hour later. Tickets for the benefit ring program are on sale at Dick Reeder's Store for Men.

Promoter Mack Lillard has lined up what promises to be one of the best cards ever with 34 scheduled rounds of boxing topped off by a sparkling 10-round main event featuring Scatell's YoYo Lewis and Dick Jones of Klamath Falls-Phoenix fight circles.

Bright are the prospects of a sound kickoff of the boxing season, and bright too is the outlook of the Weiser Committee for in the Weiser Children's Benefit. All of the net proceeds of the Thanksgiving evening fight card will be placed in a trust fund for the five children left fatherless by the tragic death of the Beatty Bomber.

Following Weiser's fatal fight in the armory ring last year, a committee was formed and the benefit fight card originated to help give the youngsters of a game and popular prizefighter a brighter outlook to their future. Since the first Weiser Benefit last December 21, the five children have received about $800 in aid from the fund. Police Judge Frank Blackmer is the committee's treasurer and overseer of the fund.

The sports world was rocked last December on the news of the weird ending of the Ralph Weiser-Teddy Hall armory battle. Weiser was awarded a first round KO over his Seattle foe, but in his mind he believed Hall's story that he had been confused by referee Wally Moss' count. And the fight continued. In the ninth round Weiser was dropped and never again did he rise. Moss and fate had tolled him out for the final time. What turned into a prime showing of sportsmanship on the part of Weiser, eventually cost him his life.

A sportsmanship award in honor of the battling Beatty Bomber was established and will be presented between the semi-windup and the main event of tomorrow evening's program. Some athletes of the Klamath Basin will be recognized for his display of sportsmanship over the past year, with other factors such as achievement and character also being considered. The choice has already been made after a thorough search of the entire area of Klamath County, but will be kept secret until award time Thursday night. Hall's Sport Shop donated the individual trophy to be presented to the award winner.

Jones has been rattling opponents and popularly polls in Arizona fight rings for the past few years and will make his first Klamath Falls appearance against one of the leading welterweights in the Pacific Northwest when he tangles with Lewis.

In 19 fights since turning pro, Jones has won 18 while losing only one, that a close "point decision" to Eddie Williams the Southwest Welterweight champion. Lewis on the other hand is one of the very few fighters to claim three important "most popular fighter" contests within one year. The crowd-pleasing boxing of Lewis gained him popular fighter awards in Tacoma, Spokane and Vancouver, B.C.

On the supporting card Lillard will have five bouts including two six-rounders, three four-rounders and topped off by a "paperweight" match to raise the curtain. Boggie Gallagher and Larry Lewis of Chiloquin, two 35 pound, five-year-olds will battle in the evening's opener in a feature that has stolen the hearts of boxing fans both here and in Medford on several occasions.

Donnie Picard and Porky Jimenez of local fight walks will face six round bouts, while Curt Stanton, Louie "Corky" Gibbon, and Pummie Wright are all slated for four rounders. Seattle fighters will comprise the remaining positions on the card as Buzz "Papa" Brown, Chief Warrior and a fighter yet to be named will all appear on the Weiser program.

After Saturday's contests, only the Bowl games remain. Just as soon as the card is completed (I haven't heard from the Wash Bowl yet), you may expect a full report from your reliable scribe.

My early Bowl special is Oklahoma over Maryland by three touchdowns.

It has been a pleasure to send you this scintillating scientific list of predictions from week to week during the waning season. I haven't totaled my victories and defeats for a final batting average. A-herr, um-ku!

You know how it is! Figures don't always tell the story! Now go on with the forecast for Saturday:

Army 21, Navy 21
Boston Col. 27, Holy Cross 12
Notre Dame 17, So. California 7
Oklahoma 27, Okla. A. and M. 0
Auburn 20, Alabama 7
Rice 16, Baylor 7
Miami 14, Florida 7
Georgia Tech 26, Georgia 6
La. State 14, Tulane 7
Mississippi 14, Miss. State 6
Virginia 19, So. Carolina 13
Tex. Christian 21, So. Methodist 7
Vanderbilt 20, Tennessee 4
Colorado 27, Colo. A. and M. 7

Nearly every member went home with a ham or a turkey despite low scores caused by poor visibility.

When Jim Ellis, former Michigan State star, played in his first game in 1951, he intercepted three passes against Oregon State.

THE SECOND ANNUAL Weiser Benefit boxing card will be held Thursday-evening to pay tribute to Ralph Weiser, above, the Beatty Bomber who lost his life in the armory ring last December. The popular battler was a favorite of local fight fans, and displayed outstanding examples of sportsmanship through his final bout.
