

THEY SHALL HAVE MUSIC for Christmas and all year, when the gift for the home is a musical instrument. Fine wood grains and attractive styling make modern organs and pianos important as home furnishings as well as a source of family enjoyment. Shown, a Hammond organ.

GOOD TURN FOR THE SITTER, principally dad, at Christmas time would be a truly modern version of the comfortable arm chair, now designed on a swivel base, to make it easy to watch television. By Norman Fox MacGregor for Valley.

VERSATILE NEW GLASSWARE for "on the rocks" use—whether for cocktails, soft drinks or soup—holds seven and a half ounces. Shape holds back the ice, permits easy swirling. Pyrex treatment of glass permits heating over flame for hot drinks.

Saint Nick Plans Gifts For Family

Good old Saint Nick is ticketing some of his choicest gifts for the home to be enjoyed by all the family. Many are elegant but not extravagant. Rich materials, fine craftsmanship and careful design will enrich home surroundings and give years of enjoyment.

A handsome new piece of furniture to add beauty and comfort to a home will be the center of attention on Christmas morning. To fit the children into the family circle, one manufacturer is showing a sturdy small chair of modern design upholstered in the same fine fabrics used for adult-sized sectionals, sofas and chairs.

Certain to capture the gift shopper's eye are forward looking designs that utilize new materials. For example, a couch and chair, designed by Valentine Seaver, now going into general distribution, feature molded fiber glass frames covered in creamy beige plastic. Couch's foam rubber cushions are upholstered in a lustrous beige and white damask. Chair's cover slips off for cleaning.

Tableware and accessories spread an opulent array of lovely gifts. Gifts of silver, treasured for their heirloom beauty, take a turn for the contemporary. Some of the loveliest new patterns in flatware and hollow ware follow the simple, sculptured lines. Greater flexibility in their use is also a feature.

A stately candelabrum rises above a bowl base where flowers could float. Large bowls, covered and uncovered, double as servers and centerpieces.

For families who love music new high-fidelity phonographs, no longer costing a king's ransom, and improved new records will bring great pleasure. Slim, portable transistor radios tune in music for the asking anywhere.

Pianos are also enjoying a boom in sales and one of the latest additions to the ivories is a player-piano attachment that fits in a cabinet alongside or underneath the upright.

Imported accessories lend glamor and charm to Christmas giving. From English hand-made brass bird cages for the family's parakeet to richly bound Florentine leather portfolios from Italy, the world's finest and most famous craftsmanship comes into the American home.

Increase in home deskwork is reflected in gifts that will make letters, tax returns and record-keeping pleasanter tasks. Streamlined colored typewriters, neatly bound filing portfolios or wood cabinets, translucent marble desk sets, stamp dispensers, pencils with unbreakable points, even a card file for noting Christmas cards and gifts sent and received bid for a place under a tree.

Other practical and beautiful gifts will certainly include new bedding and towels. An elegant, snowy white blanket livened up with pretty patchwork patterns has a mixed fiber content that will take repeated tubbings without shrinkage or matting.

Huge brilliantly tinted Turkish towels offer great luxury at a modest price. Towel and sheet ensembles that run the color gamut of the spectrum can bathe bedroom and bath in the same tint.
