

500 Guests Attend Miller Family Party At Reames Golf and Country Club

IT WAS A MILLER FAMILY PARTY at Reames Country Club, November 10, when Mr. and Mrs. Dick B. Miller Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Dick B. Miller Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Miller, were hosts to some 500 friends invited to the 7 to 10 p.m. social event—one of the largest of the fall season. Missing from the receiving line was the junior Mrs. Miller—who was recuperating from major surgery—not incorporated in the party plans.

Also assisting the hosts were Mrs. Marvin Lucas, Mrs. William Hagelstein and Mrs. George A. Myers, at the coffee table—and at the punch bowl, other than Mrs. Darrell Miller, were Mrs. James Howard, Mrs. H. O. Juckeland, Mrs. Gordon Erlandson, Mrs. John Houston and Mrs. W. Ray Lamb.

Around the Globe Trip Inspires Bon Voyage Party

MRS. CLARENCE WARD indicates on the globe one of the major steps she will make during her 8 months trip abroad. The picture was taken at the no-host bon voyage party given for her at the Pelican Party Room November 18, and includes, seated from the left, Mrs. Orville Hamilton and Mrs. L. R. McLaren. Standing in back, same order, are Mrs. Merton Ferebee, Mrs. H. Marion Gallup and Mrs. Marguerite Ward.

Arrangements for the luncheon party were made by Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Ferebee and Mrs. Gus Vlahos. Approximately 50 friends arrived at 12:30 p.m. for the luncheon. An after-luncheon interlude of extending good wishes for the trip and the presentation of a gift—lasted until 3 p.m. The gift to the traveler was monetary and all in pennies. Presented in a miniature suitcase covered with travel stickers—the individually wrapped pennies were for Mrs. Ward to "buy something for herself"—which might be a memento of the trip and the bon voyage party.

The theme of the party was "World Travel"—and travel posters from all over the world decorated the walls—and table décor featured miniature boats, airplanes and trains—with a sprinkling of travel folders, etc.

Mrs. Ward sailed from Seattle November 25, on the Japanese liner M.S. Hakawa Maru for her first around-the-world stop in Japan.
