KF Garbage Collection Rule Revealed

The new downtown commercial garbage collection ordinance will go into effect on December 1, announced the Klamath Falls City Council at its regular meeting Monday night.

The ordinance specifies that each business establishment will be required to provide a covered container for its garbage cans. The law, which was passed by the council September 6, also requires any business not having such a container must keep the garbage inside until just before the time of collection.

A fine will be levied for noncompliance with the ordinance, said Police Judge Frank Blackmer.

In other business before the council, condemnation proceedings were initiated by the council against the property of Eugene D. Potts and C. R. Potts, Grants Pass. Their property consists of lots 7 and 8 in block 206 of Mills Addition at 1644 East Main Street.

The condemnation action was begun following a report from Fire Chief Roy Rowe and City Building Inspector Vern Schortgen on the deplorable condition of the house and four out-buildings.

Last month Potts had agreed to remove the building and clean up the property but according to city officials nothing had been done.

At the request of the council a list of the garbage collection rates charged commercial establishments was submitted by the Klamath Disposal Company to the police judge's office.

The first and second readings of an ordinance providing for the issuance and sale of improvement bonds in the amount of $1,761.78 was heard by the council. The bonds are for the paving of an alley in block four of Canal Addition.

The office of Building Inspector Schortgen reported that $84,450 in new building permits were issued during October.

Acting Mayor Oliver Spiker, chairman of the council, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mayor Paul Landry who is attending the convention of the American Municipal Association in Miami, Florida.

Cascade Gives Wage Increase

LEBANON, Ore. (UP)—A wage increase affecting more than 800 employes of Cascade Plywood Corporation's plant here was announced today by company and union officials.

A. E. Anderson, Cascade vice president, and Keizer Cox, business agent for local AFL plywood and veneer workers, said the wage boost ranged from 5 to 15 cents an hour, effective Dec. 1.

The contract, approved by plywood workers in a weekend ballot, also provides that all wage and contract negotiations between the two groups will remain closed until April 1, 1957, with a provision that wage negotiations can be opened by either party Nov. 1, 1956.

GPP Purchases Oregon Plant

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Consumers Cooperative Assn. of Kansas City, which operates in nine states, has sold its lumber mill and timberlands at Swisshome, Ore., to the Georgia Pacific Plywood Co.

Howard A. Cowden, president and general manager, said the cooperative's mill, logging equipment and 5,000 acres of land represented an investment of about $2,500,000. The sale price was not disclosed, however.

Oregon Educator To Speak At KF Child Guidance Meet

The speaker for the annual dinner meeting of the Klamath County Child Guidance Advisory Council, Tuesday, 7 p.m., in the Willard Hotel is to be Joy Hills Gubser. The topic of her talk is to be "The Community's Responsibility for the Mental Health of Its Children."

Mrs. Gubser is the director of the Special Education Division of the Oregon State Department of Education. The category of the emotionally disturbed is not the only one claiming the attention of the special education departments of the state of Oregon and the Klamath Falls public schools.

Among the various classifications of children receiving special instruction and individualized attention in and out of the regular classroom, the handicapped, the retarded, the remedial student, and the emotionally maladjusted. The term "handicapped" is used to include those children in whose personal makeup or environment there is some handicapping condition which is or has been preventing the child from using the full power of his capacities. The retarded child is one who for some reason or reasons is slightly behind the achievement or development to be normally expected at his chronological age or grade placement in school; these children may be retarded in physical development, speech, academic achievement, or social adjustment. The reason may be due to a problem of vision, hearing, environment, or education.

The remedial student is one who has a retarded condition of speech, reading, spelling, or other academic category which will respond favorably to additional, personalized instruction. The mentally retarded is specifically excluded from this classification. The emotionally disturbed child may be receiving educational and personal help and may be remedial or retarded because of the handicapping condition due to lack of emotional adjustment. At the present time, although it is now authorized as an area of Special Education, the Klamath Falls public schools do not have special facilities for the education of the mentally retarded child.
