Town Slates Ike Festival

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP)—The town of Gettysburg will sing a Merry Christmas salute to President Eisenhower in the town square tonight, but the President will miss his neighbors' Yuletide greetings.

Because of his doctors' orders to slow down for a while, Mr. Eisenhower is accepting no outside social invitations for the rest of this week.

Mr. Eisenhower also is keeping his work to a minimum. He planned brief conferences with his staff today but otherwise will spend his time resting and walking around his farm.

Gettysburg has decorated Lincoln Square in the center of town with a colorful Christmas scene that includes a "Santa Shanty" where St. Nicholas arrives during the evening.

The idea that the President might be a participant in the Christmas celebration started when Leroy E. Smith, vice president of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, wrote Presidential Press Secretary Hagerty on Dec. 9.

The combined choirs of Gettysburg will sing a Merry Christmas salute to President and Mrs. Eisenhower, the White House press secretary and his wife, and the White House press corps at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, December 15th, in front of the Hotel Gettysburg, Lincoln Square. The salute is an expression of our appreciation for the world-wide recognition all of you have given Gettysburg.

Buffet refreshments served to the 100 persons attending were planned by the junior past master and Mrs. Scribner and were served by the Mount Shasta Bethel 130, International Order of Job's Daughters. Mrs. R. G. Gaynor, junior past master of White Pine Chapter 487, Order of Eastern Star, served the complimentary cake which centered the buffet table from which a turkey smorgasbord was served.

TRAFFIC SIGNS
LOUNSVILLE, Ky. (P)—New light-reflecting traffic signs on county roads are aiding motorists as well as motorists. Fiscal court noted yesterday a sharp increase in bullet damage to the signs since they were made into better nighttime targets for autoists with guns.

COMPLAINT
NOWATA, Okla., Dec. 13 (P)—Nowata City manager G. F. Hill received a complaint a sow with a suckling pig was wandering loose in the town's outer business section. When city employees caught the sow, there were seven little pigs. "And all 24 hours old too," groaned Hill.

Malin Pupils Join Crusade

Among the young ambassadors of good will in the Northwest are the pupils in the Malin grade school, who have joined CARE's surplus food crusade. Through their contribution, they have sent over 200 pounds of surplus dairy products to the most hungry children and families overseas, food allocated to CARE by the U.S. government for distribution to the needy in eight foreign lands.

CARE, the foreign relief agency, has repackaged the food into 22-pound parcels, each going in the name of the donor. Each $1 contributed sends a package to one of eight areas in Europe or Asia. Each provides a person-to-person gift not only of much-needed nutritious food, but reassurance of friends in America.

Contributions in any amount may be sent the Northwest CARE office, Seattle, Washington.
