

SECURITY COUNCIL DEADLOCKED

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

This modern world note: A new gadget designed to cater to the back yard barbecue movement combines a barbecue oven and a smokehouse and uses electricity to turn the trick. It works like this:

You barbecue your meat in an electric oven. Then to give it that good, rich campfire smoke taste — you turn the switch on a hotplate and at the same time you push a button that releases hickory sawdust from a hopper. The sawdust falls on the electrically heated plate and is converted into hickory smoke.

You gear your meat on a chrome-plated fork and slide it in the smoke and thus get the good old hickory flavor.

What's that earth tremor that just rattled the area? It's the effect of the atomic bomb.

It's a great-grandfather — who lived in a cabin that he built with his own hands and barbecued his meat in the fireplace over a fire of tough hickory wood that he cut with his own ax — who by his own sturdy arms — TURNING OVER IN HIS GRAVE!

Here for a glimpse of the world of tomorrow.

One of America's top scientific scientists says the war is over. He says the world's OCEAN WATER will become a fuel resource of top magnitude when someone learns to harness the hydrogen bomb reaction for peaceful use.

He says the substitution of heavy hydrogen, an ordinary water packs more energy than its equivalent volume of gasoline. Use of this energy, he adds, awaits only the taming of thermonuclear reaction.

The trouble with these scientists is that they use such words. What he's saying is that I think is that NOW the atom war is with a SAMO. The problem is to get it to split with a mere WHOOSH.

Back to this modern world. Grain bins are now being made of some concrete blocks that cover a much greater area than a football field. Latest agreement with the government's Commodity Credit Corporation is the one that buys up the subsidized surplus grain and cotton and puts it in storage and sends it to the front.

It's time when a nation bushels your grain at 25 cents (Said you to Missouri).

The system is to pile wheat on building paper laid on the ground. Then the canvas tent, already in place, is carried up over the pile of wheat. Each tent holds about a million bushels.

Peas the political farmers? They have a great new slogan in sight. The slogan can go something like this:

Grow more cotton to be woven into more clothes to make more tent-bins — better — when we need that we'll need STILL MORE cotton to make STILL MORE tents to slash away STILL MORE wheat!

Why it's practically PERPETU-AL MOTION!

With a slogan like that, the political farmers ought to be able to control ALL the votes in ALL the wheat and cotton states.

Herald and News

Price Five Cents—18 Pages KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1955 Telephone 8111 No. 3354

FRANK JENKINS, publisher of the Herald and News, presents a check for $100 to Rex Porterfield, who capped the top prize Thursday night at the Kiwanis 4-H potato project awards banquet. Porterfield, 13, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Porterfield of Bonanza, had the top yield of U.S. No. 1's per acre of all the 4-H members participating. In the right hand photo, Scott Warren, Algona rancher, presents a certificate to Jerry Rajnus Jr., of Malin, who grew the greatest percentage of U.S. No. 1's. Next spring, Warren will give Rajnus sufficient certified seed potatoes to plant one acre.

Rex Porterfield Thursday evening became the first prize winner of the annual Kiwanis 4-H Potato Project's top award, the Frank Jenkins prize of $100. Porterfield, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Porterfield of Bonanza, had won in 1953, the first year the Kiwanis had carried out the project.

Dorman Plans Resignation

SALEM (AP) — Harry S. Dorman, 55, state director of Finance and Administration, announced Friday he is resigning on March 1.

Gov. Paul Patterson said he has accepted Dorman's resignation "reluctantly" after trying to get him to stay on the job.

Dorman became state budget director in May, 1949, on appointment of former Gov. Douglas McKay. He was promoted to state director of Finance and Administration when the department was created on Aug. 2, 1951.

Dorman said he has agreed to remain at his post until March 1 to give the governor a chance to find a successor. He said he doesn't know his future plans, except that he plans to take a good rest.

"I feel I must accept this resignation," the governor said, "as it comes after attaining his retirement age and is based on his desire to be relieved of the exacting duties of this department."

"In accepting this resignation, I wish to acknowledge the fine work done for the state of Oregon by Mr. Dorman. He took administration of a newly-created department and has made it an effective and successful part of our state government."

Gov. Patterson disclosed that Dorman has tried twice before to resign, but that the governor was able to talk him out of it.

Weather

FORECAST—Klamath Falls and vicinity: Occasional snow Friday night and Saturday. Low Friday night 30-36; high Saturday 40-45.

High yesterday 52
Low last night 26
Precip. last 24 hours 7
Precip. since Oct. 1 7.06
Snow period last year 1.88
Normal for period 3.72

Wolf Given Life Sentence

PORTLAND (UP) — Victor Lawrence Wolf, 45, yesterday was sentenced to a life term in the state penitentiary for the car-bomb slaying of Kermit Smith.

The sentencing by Circuit Judge James W. Crawford was only a formality, since the second-degree murder verdict returned against Wolf by a jury Tuesday carried a mandatory life sentence.

Wolf, convicted Oct. 21 after pleading guilty under a little-known Oregon law that permitted a court hearing to fix the degree of guilt and the sentence.

He will be eligible for parole after seven years.

APPLE AWARDS
HOLLYWOOD 35 — Jane Russell and William Holden have been voted the Golden Apple awards as the most cooperative actress and actor for 1955 by the Hollywood Women's Press Club.

Porterfield Wins Spud Prize

Rex Porterfield Thursday evening became the first prize winner of the annual Kiwanis 4-H Potato Project's top award, the Frank Jenkins prize of $100.

Porterfield, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Porterfield of Bonanza, had won in 1953, the first year the Kiwanis had carried out the project.

The prize was awarded when Porterfield had the largest yield of U.S. No. 1 potatoes per acre in his project. His yield was 287.3 sacks of U.S. No. 1's, or 87.5 per cent of his total yield of 328.7 sacks.

The other top prize given at the banquet was sufficient certified seed potatoes to seed a single acre. This year, the prize, donated by Algona rancher Scott Warren, went to Jerry Rajnus Jr. of Malin, who had the highest percentage yield of U.S. No. 1's. His percentage yield was 99.3 per cent.

U.S. No. 1's out of a total of 254.6 sacks per acre.

This was the 20th year that Jenkins, publisher of the Herald and News, has presented this award. Prior to the participation of the Kiwanis in the project, he gave it as a private project.

In a short address prior to the presentation, Jenkins stated that the award program was an attempt to stress the need for quality potatoes. He said that ranchers who shipped second rate potatoes had cost the growers the 19 cents per bag premium that used to be given for Klamath potatoes in San Francisco markets.

This loss, he said, has cost the Klamath Basin economy in excess of $300,000 per year.

In addition to the two top prizes, there were club prizes in each classification given to the clubs who did not have the top winner.

Club winners in the greatest yield of U.S. No. 1 class were John Derra of Malin, Dean Hill of Merrill and Roger Thompson of Henley. Each received a $25 savings bond. Donors were Juckland Motors, Balsiger Motors and Herman's Mens Store.

Club winners for the greatest percentage of U.S. No. 1's were Dick Dehlinger of Henley, Buckle Wilson of Merrill and Jack Webster of Bonanza. Donors of the $25 bonds were C. (Bud) Larkin Insurance Agency, East Side Electric and Montgomery Ward.

Other winners
Rex Porterfield also won the $15 first prize donated by J. C. Penney for the best display of potatoes at the banquet. Bobby Peirick of Merrill was second and Bill Rajnus was third. The second prize of $10 and the third prize of $5 were both donated by J. W. Kerns.

The overall club prizes were won by the Bonanza club. Leader of the club which won the cup is Les Porterfield, father of the top prize winner, and president of the club is Jim Porterfield.

Dean Hill of the Merrill club received a tie class emblem as the award for 10 years continuous active membership in the 4-H program.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Members of the Kiwanis Club committee which handled the project were C. (Bud) Larkin, chairman, Robert Kent, club agricultural director, and Bryant Williams, club member and chairman of the Oregon California Potato Committee.

Philippines, Slavs Battle For UN Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A new round of voting failed to break the deadlock between the Philippines and Yugoslavia for a seat in the U.N. Security Council.

With 11 of the 16 newly admitted members voting, the Philippines at one point received 40 votes to Yugoslavia's 38. But on the next ballot the score was 37-32, and the result remained indecisive.

A two-thirds majority of those voting in the General Assembly was required to elect—in this case 47 votes.

After five ballots Friday morning, the 30th to 35th ballots since October—the session adjourned until later in the day to permit delegates to seek a compromise.

The Assembly was scheduled to end its 1955 session Friday night.

President Jose Maza of Chile said he would keep the delegates in session until the Council seat was filled. He pleaded:

"I beg you, gentlemen, both candidates and other delegates, to endeavor in the interim to come to some agreement, for it does not enhance the prestige of the United Nations to continue these ballots indefinitely."

The United States backed the Philippines in the voting while Britain supported Yugoslavia.

Negotiations have become urgent over the past two weeks. Delegates feared that if the Assembly adjourned without filling the seat, the Council would be out of business. Under the U. N. Charter, the 11-nation body cannot function without full membership.

ROTATION PLAN
The United States has tried to resolve the problem by proposing a rotation plan calling for election of the Philippines this year and Yugoslavia in 1957.

Both Yugoslavia and Britain gave a cold reception to the American proposal. The British and Russians argued that such a move would breach the London big power agreement giving an East European state the seat on a regular basis.

The United States argued that the 1946 agreement was binding for only one year and added that Asia should have wider representation on the council.

When the marathon balloting began two months ago, the race was between the Philippines and Poland. But after the Poles bogged down early in the running, the Soviet bloc switched its support to Yugoslavia.

THIRD VETO
Russia yesterday cast its third veto in three days against Japan's application for U. N. membership. The action came after Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American representative, introduced a resolution favoring Japan's application.

The Russians took the same stand against Japan Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lodge angrily denounced the Soviet act as an "abuse of the veto power."

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev replied that Lodge, by pressing more resolutions, was trying to force more negative votes.

KF Building Plans Told By Chamber

An optimistic note was sounded for the building of new housing in the Klamath Falls area at a meeting of the Housing Division of the Military Affairs Committee of the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Thursday night in the chamber offices.

Ed Bell, chairman of the housing group, conferred recently with J. Guy Arrington, regional director of the Federal Housing Administration, in Portland, Arrington at that time said that a 36 unit building project for Klamath Falls is at present being planned by the FHA and the builders. He did not divulge the name of the builders.

The FHA director also reported to Bell that the U.S. Air Force and the FHA are considering the building of an undetermined number of housing units for military personnel near the jet base under Title VIII of the FHA regulations.

TITLE VIII
Under this title the Capehart Amendment, the sponsor of the building is either the military or an independent corporation. The FHA supplies the funds for the building while in normal FHA operation it merely insures the funds loaned by the financing institutions.

After building is completed, the project is then turned over to the Air Force and is amortized over a period of years by the rents the Air Force will collect from its personnel occupying the units.

It was pointed out by both military and civic leaders at the meeting that this building will only alleviate a part of the needs for military housing in the Klamath Falls area.

Lt. Col. Robert Larson, senior project officer at the jet base, said that despite the building of military housing near air bases all over the U.S. there never is enough housing near these bases to meet the needs of married USAF personnel.

PERMANENT BASE
The officer pointed out that this building of military housing near the base highlights the fact that the defense department considers this base a permanent one and indicates its long term plans for the installation.

This new military housing plan is really a continuation of the original 74 unit plan which was authorized by Congress last session, it was reported. Congress failed to appropriate any funds for this project at its last session.

Although this military housing will absorb part of the housing needs it will not in any way solve the entire problem. There will be continuing needs for housing of civilian workers at the base and to take care of the inevitable overflow of military personnel who cannot be housed by the Air Force.

FINANCING
Banking officials in attendance at the meeting said they have always encouraged the financing of new building. They stressed the fact that their organizations will continue to offer and encourage the financing of responsible builders in the Basin.

In closing the meeting Bell requested R. Frank Tucker, manager of the chamber, to write a letter to the Department of Defense, Washington, D.C., for more definite information as to the planned size of the military housing project.

McCloud Wage Pact Voted

Workers at McCloud River Lumber Company, McCloud, California, have voted to accept an average 8 1/2 cents per hour wage increase, effective December 1, 1955, according to information telephoned to the PIRC office Friday morning.

The PIRC office said the company management representatives, the increase will be applied on a graduated basis, with higher skills getting a larger raise.

IWA Local Union 6-94, the representative of McCloud employees in collective bargaining, has urged the company in signing the pact several days ago, subject to ratification by union members. Union officials reported to the company that the agreement was approved by a 73 per cent majority.

C. L. Irwin, PIRC managing vice president, says he understands the wage agreement closes wages and wage rates, and contractual issues, until June 1, 1957, except that either party may open for a general wage change by 60 days notice prior to January 1, 1957. Irwin understands that the vacation and holiday eligibility has been relaxed in a manner similar to the recent Weyerhaeuser settlement.

He says the new agreement, by mutual consent of the parties, substitutes for one negotiated last January that raised wages and contractual issues until April 1, 1956. The new agreement appears to assure a long period of industrial peace at McCloud.

Pair Charged With Bombing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A blind man and his sister-in-law were charged early today with bombing the big Meier and Franz Co. department store in a $30,000 extortion plot eight months ago.

William B. Browne, detective captain, said William Clarence Peddicord, 38, snatched the job and planted the bomb, assisted by his sister-in-law Mrs. Joyce Keller, 28.

Browne said they were charged with injuring persons and property by explosives. Bond was set at $75,000 each.

The bomb exploded in a men's washroom in the 12-story store, Portland's largest. April 15 a few persons were hit by flying debris, but no serious injuries were reported.

A note demanded $30,000 on threat of another bombing the next day. Police said the payoff attempt failed. The store was closed the next day but no bomb was found and it reopened without further incident.

Browne said the two admitted the plot, but lost their nerve and did not attempt to contact the payoff man.

Browne said a report that a blind man and a woman had been seen near the washroom just before the mid-afternoon explosion led detectives to Peddicord, unemployed father of five children. His only income is state aid for the blind.

Browne said Peddicord admitted making the bomb from 12 sticks of dynamite, writing the note with his sister-in-law's assistance, and planting the bomb after she led him to the washroom.

Crater Lake Skiing 'Good'

Skiing conditions were reported as "good" today at 8 a.m. by the Crater Lake Ranger station with powder snow and a hard-packed base.

There are four inches of new snow with 56 inches of snow on the level as compared to 24 inches last year at this time. The maximum temperature Thursday was 55 with the minimum 36. It was 29 degrees at 8 a.m. Friday.

Highway 62 is open with chains advised. The highway from Annie Springs to the rim is open with chains or abrasive snow tires required.

Weather conditions permitting, the sking trails will be open over the weekend, the ranger station reported.

Shooting Hours

OREGON
December 17
OPEN CLOSE
7:00 4:36
December 18
OPEN CLOSE
7:01 4:36
CALIFORNIA
December 17
OPEN CLOSE
6:59 4:36
December 18
OPEN CLOSE
7:00 4:36

Pair Charged With Bombing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A blind man and his sister-in-law were charged early today with bombing the big Meier and Franz Co. department store in a $30,000 extortion plot eight months ago.

William B. Browne, detective captain, said William Clarence Peddicord, 38, snatched the job and planted the bomb, assisted by his sister-in-law Mrs. Joyce Keller, 28.

Browne said they were charged with injuring persons and property by explosives. Bond was set at $75,000 each.

The bomb exploded in a men's washroom in the 12-story store, Portland's largest. April 15 a few persons were hit by flying debris, but no serious injuries were reported.

A note demanded $30,000 on threat of another bombing the next day. Police said the payoff attempt failed. The store was closed the next day but no bomb was found and it reopened without further incident.

Browne said the two admitted the plot, but lost their nerve and did not attempt to contact the payoff man.

Browne said a report that a blind man and a woman had been seen near the washroom just before the mid-afternoon explosion led detectives to Peddicord, unemployed father of five children. His only income is state aid for the blind.

Browne said Peddicord admitted making the bomb from 12 sticks of dynamite, writing the note with his sister-in-law's assistance, and planting the bomb after she led him to the washroom.

Concerts

The KUHS band, orchestra and a cappella choir will present a special program tonight at 8 o'clock in Pelican Court raise funds for the New Years Day appearance at the Shrine All Star game in San Francisco.

Those wishing to do so may contribute at the concert. In addition to the school bands the barbershop chorus under the direction of John Houston will appear. The concert is open to the public.

O'clock Special

BILL VANNICE, 2446 Reclamation, was making deliveries this morning when the 9 o'clock photographer "put him on ice." Vannice is employed with the City Ice and Supply Company on Spring Street.

7 SHOPPING DAYS LEFT

Help Fight TB
1955 CHRISTMAS GREETINGS 1955
Buy Christmas Seals

Band Fund

Andrew Loney, director of music education in the city schools, announced today that the following firms and individuals have contributed to the fund to send the Klamath Union High School band to the New Years Shrine East-West game in San Francisco:

- Syan Lake Moulding
- Ward's Klamath Funeral Home Lions Club
- New Method Cleaners
- Superior Troy Laundry and Cleaners
- Cascade Cleaners and Laundry
- Cashon Cleaners
- Klamath Cleaners
- Vanity Cleaners
- Chapman Cleaners and Dyers
- Howard's Cleaners
- Model Cleaners and Dyers
- Broadway Cleaners
- Everett L. Miner
- Swansea's Barber and Beauty Shop
- Miller's Inc.
- Bend-Portland Truck Service
- Star Drug
- The Laundry Co.
- Klamath Ice and Storage Co.