Fess Parker Admits Davy Crockett Fad About Over

By ALINE MOSBY
 United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Fess Parker has turned in his coonskin cap, officially buried his Davy Crockett character and admitted that the nationwide storm he caused is down to a drizzle.

A year ago Parker's furry top and shooting iron launched the country's sub-sub-deb set on the biggest hero worship craze since Hopalong Cassidy. But Parker confesses that the kids have left their coonskin caps to the moths.

"Too much heat in too short a time," drawled the lanky actor as he sat in his modern hillside home. "But I'm grateful to old Davy. I only feel we should let him rest in peace—and give him back his cap."

The second of this year's two-part Crockett television series was aired on "Disneyland" last week. Unless Disney runs them again in the spring, that's the last of Davy. Parker meantime has starred in a Disney color feature, "The Great Locomotive Chase," a Civil War story. He was promoted to a fancy frock coat with black velvet piping and a wide-brimmed gray hat.

"My wardrobe will knock you out," grinned the slow-talking actor. "Before I had a full beard, but now I'm clean-shaven. I still get killed in this movie, though. But in my next Disney picture, 'Westward Ho, the Wagons,' I live. And I even get the woman."

Although Parker's role in Disney's TV series is over, "The Great Locomotive Chase" was filmed for home screens also. The program, "A True Life Adventure With Fess Parker," will be televised next spring and "that will help me make the transition."

"Actually, I've switched from Davy more successfully than I imagined," said Parker. "When we were on location in Georgia, the kids would come up and say, 'Mr. Parker, can we have your autograph?' They didn't call me Davy. Most of my fan mail is addressed to Fess Parker."

"I'm grateful to Mr. Disney for this opportunity to do other pictures. Otherwise, my career would have ended right where it began."

Types Of Coins Listed By SA

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Have you ever wondered how many of what kinds of coins go into the Salvation Army's street corner kettles at Christmas time?

A Salvation Army breakdown yesterday showed by latest count, 30,748 pennies, 17,416 nickels, 16,442 dimes, 13,798 quarters, 4,088 half dollars, 2,468 dollar bills, 97 45 bills, 18 silver dollars, 17 10 bills and 11 $20 bills.

"We receive some substantial checks through the mails," said Lt. Col. Frank Wilmer, and, with the small change in the kettles, "we feel that the Salvation Army is receiving help from all segments of society." The organization hopes to help 100,000 individuals and families in this area this week.

Eden Reshuffles Cabinet; Air Power Gets Major Boost

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden reorganized his cabinet from top to bottom today to meet the threats of inflation at home and new Soviet provocations abroad.

A key feature of the reshuffle was a decision to stress air power in Britain's armed forces at the expense of the Army, whose authorized first-line reserve strength was slashed Tuesday from 12 to two divisions.

Four major posts and many minor ones were involved in the reorganization, in which Eden replaced ministers inherited from Winston Churchill with younger men of his own choice. The average age of the cabinet was reduced from 58 to 55 years by the changes.

The major replacements were affected by transfers within the existing cabinet, but seven minor ministers were dropped. Six of them were either elevated to the peerage or promoted within their ranks.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler was promoted to lord privy seal and majority leader in the House of Commons, making him in effect deputy prime minister.

Harold Macmillan, whose policies as foreign secretary have been under opposition fire for some time, was shifted to the exchequer post to replace Butler as head of the fight against Britain's ominous inflation.

Defense Secretary Selwyn Lloyd replaced Macmillan as foreign secretary to lead the diplomatic fight against Russia, and Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton moved up to the defense post to protect Britain if diplomacy fails.

Health Minister Iain MacLeod replaced Monckton as labor minister, and was replaced in his turn by R. H. Turton, who is new to the cabinet.
