Weed Citizens Escape Injury

WEED — Early this week several persons escaped serious injury when their cars went out of control on icy highways.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conte of Weed were uninjured when their car overturned on Highway 99 near the Shasta View Studio on the icy spot.

Mrs. Everett Baker of Corvallis was treated at Weed Hospital for a cut forehead and other minor injuries when the car, driven by her husband, skidded and hit the railing of the Shasta River bridge at the foot of 99 Hill. The car lodged in the mud and did not overturn. The driver was not injured.

Father Joseph Carton of the Holy Family Church of Weed, escaped without injury when his car went 30 feet over an embankment south of Weed on Highway 99. Mountain Motors wrecker pulled the car back onto the road and Father Carton continued to San Francisco where he was to board a plane for Chicago.

Club Women Hold Meeting

BONANZA — President Janet Fernlund called to order the January 3 meeting of the Bonanza Womens Club. She announced the next meeting will be held February 7, starting at 10 a.m. at the library. Project will be cooking. Members voted not to lend anything except the coffeemaker and dishes from the library building.

Mrs. Irene Hartley spoke on oil painting and gave brief instruction. She displayed several paintings made by members, also an oil painting she had done from a recent Herald and News photograph taken by staff photographer Don Kettler.

A potluck supper and social evening is planned in February for members and their husbands. Refreshments were served by Margaret Burnett and Cora Leavitt to more than a dozen members.

Fish Releases Tabulated

During the month of November, a total of 225,819 trout and salmon were released from Oregon Game Commission hatcheries raising the yearly total to 11,896,098 fish released during 1955 according to Reino Koski, chief of fish liberations, Oregon Game Commission.

Although approximately 50 thousand more salmon and steelhead were on the release schedule for December, adverse water conditions delayed plantings, and the fish are being held for later plantings.

Tabulations show that 2,945,187 fish were of catchable size when released — six inches or over in length. Of this number, 2,181,845 were rainbow trout, 284,317 steelhead trout, 133,914 cutthroat trout, 78,534 eastern brook trout, and 24,198 lake trout. The remaining 239,389 yearling releases were chinook and silver salmon. The great majority of the yearling fish were released in the stream systems through the state.

All remaining fish were classed as fry or fingerlings with the vast majority being released in the lakes, reservoirs, and other impoundments of the state. Total weight of all fish released was 865, 637 pounds.

Barker Reveals Work Figures

With worse than usual weather conditions to contend with, this area has maintained employment approximately 50 per cent higher for the month of December, 1955, than for December, 1954. Guy Barker, manager of the Oregon State Employment Service office reported this week.

"With new projects ready to start and old industries more than holding their own, Klamath Basin can look forward to a big year in 1956," he declared.

Construction was responsible for most of the increase in employment during 1955, but logging and lumbering also increased over 1954, he reported.

More than 75 per cent of workers now unemployed expect to return to regular employers within a few weeks. That leaves a very small labor force available for the many new jobs, expected to develop during the first six months in 1956. A scarcity of experienced workers is expected to develop, he warned.

During December, 1955, a total of 2,045 man weeks of unemployment was recorded compared to 4,042 weeks in December, 1954. Less than half the number of workers filed claims for unemployment in December, 1955, than in December of the previous year.

Big Three Said To Okay Censure

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The Western Big Three reportedly have agreed that the U.N. Security Council should adopt a "reasonably strong" resolution censuring Israel for her raid on Syrian outposts along the Sea of Galilee.

An informed Western source predicted last night such a proposal would be submitted to the council. He added it was not yet clear whether the United States, Britain and France would act together in introducing a council resolution.

The eventual resolution, he said, "will not be completely consistent" with the wishes of either the Israelis or the Syrians.

The raid Dec. 11 on the Syrian posts left 36 Syrians and six Israelis dead. The sea is inside Israel but near the Syrian border.

"SABRINA FAIR," one of the three New York Civic Drama Guild plays to be presented here this winter and next spring, received New York critic "rave" during its two-year run in the metropolis. The three act comedy is the last in the 1956 series to be presented under sponsorship of the Klamath Falls Business and Professional Women's Club. Tickets for the season only are still on sale with plenty of good seats available. The three plays will be presented at Mills School auditorium; "The Letter," on May 23, "Picnic" on February 21 and "Sabrina" on April 10.
