Biggest Range Bull Sale To Open In Red Bluff For Three Day Run Feb. 2-4

RED BLUFF — More than 421 of the West's finest range bulls from nine Western states will be auctioned at the 15th annual Red Bluff Range Bull Sale, to be held here February 2, 3 and 4, according to Charles F. Stover, commercial cattleman and sale chairman. The sale, originated in 1942 by the Tehama County Cattleman's Association as a means of improving beef cattle in its local area, has grown to the nation's largest sale of strictly graded and inspected service age bulls. Stover added that the event is a non-profit one, with consignors bringing animals from California, Oregon, Washington, Nebraska, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Idaho and Wyoming. Last year, buyers from four Western states purchased $201,400 worth of Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus bulls. This year's sale will see 287 horned Herefords, 45 polled Herefords, 65 Shorthorns and 40 Angus bulls offered through the sales ring. Feature of the sale will be the auction of the 1,300 pound registered Hereford bull for the March of Dimes, Saturday morning, February 4. The 1956 March of Dimes bull has been donated by Frank and Margaret Day of Montague, California. He was sired by the Red Bluff reserve champion bull purchased by Day in 1953. To date the bull sale committee has raised nearly $66,240 for the polio fund through this method. The sale features the University of California record-of-performance grading program, under which each individual bull is given a rating on the basis of conformation. It also emphasizes soundness and range usefulness in all consignments. The following breeders from the Northwest are consigning bulls to the famous Red Bluff Sale:

Pacific Northwest Congressmen Stick To Party Lines On Ike Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — With one eye apparently on this fall's elections, Pacific Northwest members of Congress split generally according to party in reaction to President Eisenhower's State-of-the-Union message.

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.) typified Democratic reaction. He said the message "expresses great faith" but is "regrettably deficient in works."

Morse said the message "promises much," but added: "This administration has yet to demonstrate that it will do anything but continue its programs of big business-banking favoritism, while the general public interest receives lip service."

A contrasting view came from Rep. Coon (R-Ore.) whose bill to permit local utilities to join with the government in building John Day Dam on the Columbia River was the lone piece of Northwest legislation singled out for specific presidential endorsement.

Coon said the recommendation "will be a tremendous boost towards favorable action at this session." He said he was "gratified that he (Eisenhower) has been able to devote his attention to the specific needs of Eastern Oregon and to help us get the power we need, when we need it and not after a long, long wait."

Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore.), who debated merits of the John Day bill with Coon throughout Oregon this fall, charged the administration with "abandoning" the Columbia River project to the private utilities. Endorsement of the more costly upper Colorado project, he

Five Frozen Bodies Found

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The five frozen bodies of the Simeone Wassela family were found yesterday on the snow-swept tundra near Lake Iliamna, 250 miles southwest of Anchorage.

Only two of their nine sled dogs remained alive. Dead were the 40-year-old father, his 35-year-old wife and their three children, ranging in age from less than a year to 14.

A Civil Air Patrol plane made the discovery. Searchers said the family apparently died from exposure.

The Wasselas started from their home at Newhalen Dec. 27 for an overland trip to the native village of Igluigig, 50 miles away.

AUSTRALIAN SHEPHERD "KING", 12-year-old dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurd, Wocus, was the first dog to be licensed in Klamath County this year, according to Klamath County Clerk Charles DeLap. King has been a resident of Klamath County for all of his 12 years—he reigns supreme over the Hurd's residence. DeLap warned all dog owners that the licenses are now due, and can be obtained at the county clerk's office in the Klamath County Courthouse.

Nation Sees Odd Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There was a variety of weather in the nation Friday with rapid changes in temperature in many areas.

A fresh surge of arctic air crossed the border into the Northern Plains and Northern Rockies and sent temperatures falling nearly 40 degrees in some areas. The cold air, which spread over Montana, the Dakotas and northwestern Minnesota, moved southward and eastward. It was expected to reach central Illinois and Indiana by Friday night.

At Havre, Mont., it was near zero after Thursday's top mark of 42. It was -4 at Glasgow, Mont.

Southerly winds brought a warming to the upper Mississippi Valley and the Western Great Lakes region. Readings were 10 to 20 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier.

There was also some warming along the central and West Gulf Coast and readings Friday morning were in the 50s. Similar temperatures were reported in Southwest Arizona and Southern California.

More rain fell along the rain-soaked West Coast. Falls were generally light in most areas although they were heavy in Western sections of Washington and Oregon.

HOME ON THE RAILS was what a Yuba City family went home to after being forced to flee the flood waters of the Feather River in California. Herald and News Photographer Don Ketter took the above picture a few hours after the swirling waters subsided.

Actor James Stewart Nurses Sore Back

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor James Stewart was nursing a wrenched back today, his studio said, after being dragged 50 feet in a parachute harness during the filming of "The Spirit of St. Louis."

The actor was pulled over rough ground when a battery of wind machines, producing a blizzard, caught his parachute. Stewart, playing the role of Charles Lindbergh, was supposed to have billowed out and landed in a snowstorm.
