BETTY CROCKER KITCHENS of General Mills suggests baking Angel Food Cake in loaf pans, splitting the loaf into layers and putting them together with a wonderful orange filling and frosting the whole with whipped cream.

ORANGE ANGEL LOAF

ORANGE FILLING

Mix in saucepan 1 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 cup cornstarch. Stir in slowly 1 cup orange juice (including pulp). Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Blend in 1 to 2 tsp. grated orange rind, 1/4 tsp. lemon juice, 2 tsp. butter. (Frozen orange juice may be substituted for fresh and orange rind omitted.)

INDOOR GARDENS

The present day trend toward indoor gardens can be a lovely addition to the home. There is not a single plant, however, which can grow without light. Insufficient light is a primary factor in almost every unsuccessful indoor garden. You can tell if your plants need more light if there is little or no new growth; if the leaves on new growth are smaller and of thinner texture than original foliage; if flowers do not appear or if they are paler than they should be; if stems stretch so that leaves are far apart. If lighting is poor in the location you have chosen for the indoor garden, try members of the Philodendron family, Dieffenbachia, Devil's Ivy, Maranta, Peperomia and others that tolerate poor lighting.

SHAMPOO GAME

Here's an idea for any mother who shampoos her little girl's hair in the bathtub. Turn the shampoo session into a game by hanging a small hand mirror over the faucet. Then she'll be able to see the silly peaks, twists and horns that you make with the soapsuds or that she can make by herself with a headful of thick lather.
