B Game Selections Revealed

Three members of Malin's state B high school football championship team and two other Klamath County high school athletes were named to play in the 1956 East-West Shrine football game next August at Pendleton.

Malin coach Jim Conroy, who will direct the charges of the East Shrine team, made the announcement today. A board of coaches selected "Rambling Ray" Johnson, Norm Oliva and Glen Steyskal to represent Malin in the East-West classic, while honors were also extended to Chiloquin's Dick Siemens and Merrill's Dale McCulloch.

Two other Klamath County B League footballers gained alternate positions, and may also be called upon to perform in the Shrine's Hospital gridiron meeting. Grady Saunders and Roger Dokken, both of Malin, were selected as alternates at guard and end respectively.

"We feel that we had some very outstanding boys in the county this year," Conroy stated, "and the selection by the coaches of Siemens, McCulloch and three of my own boys is a reward for the terrific job they did this past year."

"Rambling Ray" led Malin through an undefeated and once-again season but missed all of the championship game against Siletz and most of the semifinal fracas with Union because of a knee injury. To the Malin senior, this honor should compensate in many ways for the misfortunes which kept him from the championship game. Steyskal replaced Johnson at the tailback position of Malin's single-wing powerhouse and just about "owned" the Mustangs to the title. Oliva, although a half-back in the regular season, who selected to fill a tackle position, a spot he has played up to this year's action.

McCulloch was Merrill's pride and joy line man this past year and Conroy is expecting the 6-2, 190-pounder to add a great deal to the East's squad. Siemens, another all-around athlete, was also shifted from the backfield to the line by the East coaching staff. The Panther football star will be used at end, according to Conroy and his assistant John Comisky.

These five are the first county football players to play in the Shrine game since Merrill's Jack McDrickson in 1953 and Pat Madden in 1955. Madden was from Malin High School, George Evans and Wayne Rick of Malin and Gene Centry of Chiloquin were invited to play in the contest, but didn't go because of other commitments.

The members of the East Shrine team follows:

Ends—Dale McCulloch, Merrill; Bob Crouser, Elgin; Dick Siemens, Chiloquin; Gary Sutton, Stanfield.

Tackles—Norm Oliva, Malin; Ed Brosnan, Heppner; Gene Knott, Moro; Jack King, Weston.

Guards—Dick Cantrell, Union; Doug Johnson, Enterprise; John Knight, Umatilla; Bill Lozier, Echo.

Centers—Bob Parker, Adrian; Jerry Woods, Fossil.

Quarterbacks—Norm Koltz, Joseph; Earl Torris, Huntington.

Halfbacks—Ray Johnson, Malin; Gene McKinney, Union; Rich Young, Culver; Kim Wilson, Enterprise.

Fullbacks—Glen Steyskal, Malin; Sam Clark, Union; Lad Gowen, Pilot Rock; Veri Harrison, Powder Valley.

ALTERNATES

Ends—Jim Pryse, Ione; Roger Dokken, Malin; Joe Mann, Irrigon.

Tackles—Dallas Cason, Elgin; Fred Michaels, Pilot Rock.

Next year Jess Neely, Rice, Oregon; succeeds Meyer, and Leo Harris, Siletz, is soon to retire as commissioner of officials for the PCC.

Rules Meet Opens Today

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Chairman Frit Crisler and members of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Rules committee went into formal session Thursday over possible changes in the 1956 rule book.

Crisler said he did not anticipate any change that would "be significant" when the group concludes its meeting Friday or Saturday.

The committee has some 60 suggestions, but none was put forward by the committee of the American College Football Coaches Assn. at its convention earlier this week in Los Angeles.

The NCAA committee—The bosses of college rule making—includes Crisler, Ray Elliot of Illinois, Lloyd P. Jordan, Harvard; Ellwood Geiges, Temple; Wallace Butts, Georgia; Laurence Mullins, Kansas State; Leo (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian; Jack Curtice, Utah; E. E. Wieman, Denver, and Frank McCormick of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Oregon Tech Travels For Conference Play

OREGON COLLEGIATE CONFERENCE

| Team                   | W | L |
|------------------------|---|---|
| Portland State College | 3 | 0 |
| Eastern Oregon         | 2 | 0 |
| Oregon College of Edu. | 0 | 1 |

| Southern Oregon        | 0 | 2 |

Coach Wally Palmberg's Oregon Tech Institute Owls' football team is scheduled to travel to Portland for the conference play on Friday and Saturday nights at La Grande as they prepare to face the swift-moving, sharpshooting Eastern Oregon College Mountaineers in another weekend of Oregon Collegiate Conference basketball activities.

Already two down in the conference race, the Owls will be meeting the Mounties, who are co-favorites with Portland State College, as the La Grande school seeks wins number three and four in OCC play. In the over-all season records, Oregon Tech holds a 4-7 mark. EOCE 7-3.

But the picture isn't all dark for coach Palmberg as he awaits the collision of his Owls and Bob Quinn's Mounties. "The club is coming every week, and before the year is over, we'll give any of these clubs a fight," Palmberg said this week. "It's rough to compete a junior college team, such as ours, against top-notch four year schools, such as our conference members, and always come out on top," the Tech mentor added.

The same 10-man traveling squad which journeyed to Portland last weekend will be making the jaunt to the Mountaineers' home den. Slated to pack their bags for the fourth straight week of road running are Bob Frost, John McCutcheon, Terry Blair, John Foster, Richie Perkins, Al Cunningham, Charlie Bogle, Ted Fischer, Jerry Easton and Bobby Whitman. Manager John Bolthwell will also be making the trip with Palmberg and the Tech hostpers.

Eastern Oregon will be calling upon their one-two scoring punch, Ted Schadewitz and Lowell Kolbaba, to keep their untarnished conference record in tact. Schadewitz is currently riding along at an average of 19 points per game, while Kolbaba is down just a notch at 17 points per contest. The smooth-working Schadewitz is number nine among the leading Northwest college scorers, while Kolbaba ranks in the 14th position.

To counter the Schadewitz-Kolbaba combination, Palmberg will have Charlie Bogle, 5-9 center and Johnny Foster, 6-3 forward. Bogle has tallied 230 points for an average of over 25, while Foster has a 20 point average in seven games with 145 points.

Last year, Eastern Oregon swamped the Owls three out of four games to finish second in the final OCC standings. The Mountaineers rolled to 104-71, 78-61 and 73-65 victories over the Owls, while dropping a surprising 87-78 verdict to Palmberg's Mile High Campus quintet.

This series will be the final cage action for the Owls until their return to their home court on January 24 to face the Red Raiders of Southern Oregon College.

Northwest Scorers Led By Anderson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So you think the little man is lost in the game of basketball?

Take a peek at half a pint of Anderson. The 5-foot-9-inch tall adds up to Seattle Pacific's Loren Anderson is the biggest thing right now in the Pacific Northwest scoring picture.

The little poker-face of the Northwest has tallied 253 points to rank this week as the region's pace-setter in collegiate circles. And a teammate, Max Jerman, is tied in second place with a Linfield sophomore, Bill Machamer, each with 235 points.

Jim Winters of Portland University is running third with 233 and rates as the chief threat to take over top spot. Winters is averaging 21.2 points per game and needs only to maintain his pace to grab the tally lead. Anderson's average in 13 games is 19.4, ranking him fourth in per-game production, with Don Porter of Linfield second at 19.7 and Machamer third at 19.5.

Another torrid sophomore, Dave Gamble of Oregon State, holds fifth spot in the scoring list with 231 points. He and Jerman are leaders in field goal production with 87 each. Jerman, spanking the hoop for a 49.4 shooting percentage.

Seven players have 200 points or more each. Dick Stricklin of Seattle University and Larry Beck of Washington State squeezing into the list with 209 and 200, respectively. Following them in the top 10 are Porter with 197, Ted Schadewitz of Eastern Oregon with 190 and Jack Thiessen, Whitworth, with 183.

It took 152 points to land a player in the top 20. The leaders: (including games of Jan. 7):

LETTERMAN RICHARD BERG will be counted upon heavily by Coach Dutch Simons and other members of the KUHS wrestling team as the Pels face Redmond and Prineville this weekend. Redmond, one of the top mat teams in the state, threatens the KU victory streak, which has stood since the first match of the 1948 season.

Pelican Matmen Face Central Oregon Foes

Coach Dutch Simons' Klamath Union High School wrestling team has its work cut out, and then some as they prepare to invade Central Oregon and weekend grappling bouts with Redmond and Prineville.

Friday night the Pels take on the potent Redmond prep mat squad, then Saturday afternoon the Whitebird grapplers face the challenge of Prineville High School's Cowboys.

The string of 59 consecutive victories without a defeat will be at stake as the Pel matmen square off with Redmond tomorrow evening. And the Central Oregon mat squad may have the power to hand Klamath Union their first loss since the opening of the 1948 season when Springfield turned the trick. Since that time, no high school team has been able to stop the teams of Dutch Simons.

The KU bone-bending mentor insists that Redmond will be the toughest test his club will face this season, and if the Whitebirds are destined to lose their streak this year, tomorrow night will probably be the time.

Redmond will have eight district champions back this year, more than enough to provide a team with a strong nucleus. The Pels have state champion Richard Berg and district champion Dave Leeling to count upon for points. Berg was also a district winner.

Little is known of Prineville, but as Simons' stated earlier in the week when a small school, such as Redmond or Prineville, is itching to take a crack at you, look out. The Cowboys have been one of the main contenders in the Central Oregon District for the past few years, and are expected to again have some very good boys on hand to face the Pels.

These will be the second and third meets for the Pelicans this year. Last Saturday Klamath turned in a victory over Roseburg, 25-11.

| Bly          | 0 | 1 |
| Gilchrist    | 0 | 0 |

Malin takes the weekend off from counting County B League basketball action, but the other six league members take aim on three important games, featuring a battle between Chiloquin and Merrill.

The Friday night menu for the seven County B League quintets finds Malin hosting Henley in a Kings-X fracas, while Chiloquin travels to Merrill. Bonanza journeys to Sacred Heart in Klamath Falls and Bly is at home to the Gilchrist Grizzlies.

Preliminary games pitting the B teams will open at 7:30 and the varsity game will follow at 8:45. Sacred Heart's grade school team will meet the Yreka grade school basketball club in a special attraction for academy cage fans starting at 5:30 on the Sacred Heart maple court.

The featured game of the Friday night schedule pits Merrill's Huskies and Chiloquin's Panthers in a mix that will leave the league with only two undefeated clubs. Malin's 1-0 record is safe, but either the Huskies or Panthers will fall from the undefeated ranks in league play.

Gilchrist opens its county league season for the first time at Bly, which has a 0-1 mark after losing to Malin in their opener last Friday night. Bonanza and Sacred Heart, both 0-1 going into this week's play, will meet the number three spot in the standings. In a non-league game earlier in the year at Bonanza, the Trojans of EHA dumped Bonanza.

Temple Rolls To 9th Straight Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temple wasn't supposed to set the college basketball world on fire this season, but it's rapidly becoming the nation's Cinderella team.

The Owls had an 11-10 record last season. They were hopeful, but not overly optimistic, going into the current campaign. Duke's sixth-ranked Blue Devils were the only others among the country's top 10 teams to see action. They beat Clemson 100-80 in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

In other games, St. Louis tripped Bradley 75-67 in a Missouri Valley skirmish, Carnegie Tech pulled the upset of the night by edging West Virginia 68-66. Louisville beat Notre Dame 80-75 in overtime. Tennessee defeated Georgia 63-59 in the Southeastern Conference and Columbia knocked off Pennsylvania 82-74 in the Ivy League.

Hal (King) Lear scored 37 points to lead Temple to its victory. Villanova battled the Owls on even terms at 70-70 until Hal Reinfield hit on a three-point play. Guy Rodgers connected on a jump shot and Lear converted two free throws for a seven-point spree.

The Owls' other victims this season include fifth-ranked Kentucky and two Ivy League clubs, Princeton and Penn.

Duke took command in the ninth minute of its game against Clemson, raced to a 53-38 halftime advantage and then turned the game into a rout. Bill Yarborough netted 38 points for the losers.

Underdog Carnegie Tech, which won only its third game in 10 starts, had to come from behind in the last two minutes. Allen Frank put Tech in front 68-63 with quick baskets. Rod Hundley had a hot night for West Virginia with 28 points and 17 rebounds. Louisville, ranked 13th, came from behind in the second half and then registered five straight points in the fourth minute of the overtime to nip the Irish.

The NCAA voted to inaugurate its own national so-called small college basketball championship tournament, over the protests of the already well-established National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, which conducts its tournament at Kansas City. Best guess is that the new NCAA college division will eventually kill, or swallow, the NIAA.

Effective next year, the basketball season will start Oct. 15 instead of Nov. 1, and spring practice was abolished.

The convention tightened to some extent its recruiting rules, but another proposal to limit the number of visits by an athlete to a campus to one was withdrawn for further study.

The Infractions Committee reported that 25 schools are presently under investigation for 14 offenses in the area of recruiting. Neither the identity of the schools nor the alleged infractions was divulged. Frank N. Gardner of Drake, the chairman, said that in all, 77 cases were dealt with by the committee in 1955.

The continued probation of Miami of Florida until the next convention was ratified without debate. The school has been on the ban for several alleged violations, including a loan fund for students, athletes particularly.

The NCAA voted to ban its coaches and officials from functioning in high school all-star football and basketball events, effective Sept. 1, 1956.

The California Basketball Assn. ruled Jones eligible for regular season play, but he will be dropped when the Dons enter tournament competition in March.

USF athletic public director Richard Drake tried to take Jones' case before the NCAA's eligibility committee Wednesday, but Henry P. Hardt of Texas Christian, a member of the NCAA council, objected.

"The establishment of hardship machinery is not feasible," said Hardt.

In San Francisco, USF Coach Phil Woolpert said he hadn't expected the NCAA to grant the request but urged that steps be taken to handle such cases in the future.

NCAA Meeting Breaks Up

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The golden anniversary convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. must go down as one of the calmer, cooler sessions of an organization that has produced many a stormy meeting.

Today the delegates were heading home, and all that remained on the scene was the council, or policy-directing body, to appoint new members of the important Television, Executive and Tournament committees.

Little happened in the convention that was not anticipated. Here is a wrap-up of some of the main items of interest:

The NCAA voted to continue controlled football television in 1956. It probably will be in similar fashion to regional and national TV last fall but the plan itself will be mapped out by the 1956 TV Committee and approved by two thirds of the voting members via mail poll.
