Police Hold KF Trucker For Robbery

Robert Lee Williams, 21-year-old ex-convict, under treatment Friday at Klamath Valley Hospital for a bullet wound in left shoulder, has been formally charged with assault and robbery and being armed with a dangerous weapon...

The youth was arrested in the hospital after he applied for treatment for the bullet wound. He was alleged to have robbed her of $45 in cash.

Lawrence B. (Grady) Gaylord, the attendant, fired two shots at an armed man who fled the scene when he apparently saw the service station worker was holding a gun Wednesday morning.

According to the district attorney's office, Williams was convicted of armed robbery in San Diego approximately two years ago and was placed on probation.

It is believed that prohibition order is still in effect. Since his return to Klamath Falls, Williams has been working for a livestock concern.

City Police Investigate Arms Theft From Restaurant

A transient farm worker was held Friday morning at the Klamath Falls city jail for questioning concerning the theft of two firearms from the 58 Cafe on Highway 58 a short distance west of its junction with Highway 97.

The burglary occurred between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Thursday, State Police reported. According to city police, the man held is Fred Teddy Walker, 25, who said he "has no address."

City officers said he claims to have owned the gun for about three years. No charge had been filed against him at press time. The proprietor of the cafe is scheduled to attempt to identify the gun Friday afternoon.

Three other burglaries occurred Thursday evening or Friday morning in the Klamath Falls area, police said. Two were reported by the city police, Barney's Chat 'N' Nibble Cafe, 1319 Esplanade, operated by Christopher H. (Barney) Barnstable, was entered sometime between 8:30 p.m. Thursday to 6:35 a.m. Friday, and an unknown amount of cash from the coin boxes in the juke box and cigarette machine was taken. Some money in the kitchen was untouched, police said.

The second burglary reported by city police was at the residence of Jim Maguire, 103 Washington Street. A fifth of whiskey was taken from the house sometime between 7:40-9:40 p.m. Thursday, but Maguire told police nothing else was touched.

The last burglary, which was reported this morning by State Police, occurred Thursday night at Grigg's Superior Food store at 4214 Greensprings Drive. Police were still investigating, and did not have any information on what was stolen.

YREKA - The Pine Mountain Lumber Company has announced the purchase of the Costello and Deiter sawmill, which they will operate on a year-around basis and with increased personnel.

New owners Paul and Farrier Penberthy stated that the mill is one of the finest in this section of the state. Completed only last year, it is an eight-foot band mill constructed by the Klamath Machine and Locomotive Works of Klamath Falls and replaced the old mill which was destroyed by fire.

Designed to cut 25-foot timber, the equipment has a capacity of 50,000 feet a shift. The modern mill building is of all-steel construction. The edger, gang trimmer and roller cases were furnished by the Albany Machinery Company.

The Pine Mountain Lumber Company was established in Yreka about eight years ago, and owners say that with the acquisition of the additional property, with its sawmill processing, surfacing and shipping facilities, they have a complete working unit which rounds out their operation.

Judge Gives Prison Terms

Four persons involved in bogus check cases and a young United States airman charged with carrying concealed weapons appeared Friday before Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg.

Mary Louise Cuthshaw, 25-year-old practical nurse, charged with passing a spurious check at the Payless Drug Store, pleaded not guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses. Her attorney, Donald A. W. Piper, filed notice with the court that she will offer testimony that she is mentally defective at her trial.

Judge Vandenberg remanded her to the county jail. He did not set a trial date. Keith Laverne Wolf, 26-year-old construction worker, who pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses, was sentenced to three years in Oregon State Prison. His wife, Dee Ann Wolf, 20, was placed on two years probation. Attorney Edwin E. Driscoll.

William Thomas Brodgen, 36-year-old itinerant ranch worker, was sentenced to five years in prison after pleading guilty to a forgery charge. He admitted trying to pass a forged check in three Merrill taverns before he was arrested. Defense Attorney Robert Kerr asked for leniency on grounds his client was intoxicated at the time of the crime. Brodgen has a prior record of conviction on check charges.

Phillip Gardner, airman second class, stationed at the Klamath Falls Airport, was fined $50 when he pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons. Gardner was arrested after a shooting affray at the Plaza Tavern on December 17. No one was injured. Deputy District Attorney Robert Nichols told the court that Gardner fired four shots in the air after an argument with other tavern patrons outside the drinking establishment.

KPCCA Planning Annual Dinner - The present low scale of prices for farm products and a review of prospects for farmers during the coming year, are expected to be the subject for the talk to be given by A. R. Robertson, Spokane, vice president of the Production Credits Corporation.

Robertson will be present for the 22nd annual membership dinner and meeting of the Klamath Production Credit Association, to be held Saturday, January 14 in the Klamath Falls Armory.

Don Krider, association secretary, said today that approximately 400 members have signified intention to attend and that the number by time for registration will probably reach 500.

Members and their wives from Klamath, Lake, Siskiyou and Modoc counties are expected. New members of the board of directors will be announced during the session.

Brink's Robbery

"beer" about not getting his "dough." SHOT AT - After that, he said he was shot at twice in Dorchester.

One shooting, attributed to Elmer "Trigger" Burke, New York gunman, now facing execution for murder in New York State, is on record. The second shooting is unknown.

O'Keefe said Burke was not in on the Brink's robbery in any way. O'Keefe also stressed "there was no inside connection. We had keys to every lock in the joint. We had a complete layout, and we didn't need an inside man."

O'Keefe was poked-faced as he stepped from the office of Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne and walked into the grand jury room. He showed no sign of emotion as flash bulbs went off and movie cameras roared.

O'Keefe was the fifth witness of the day. The others were Brink's employees who were in the office the night of the holdup, January 17, 1935. None of the previous witnesses presented by Byrne spent more than 20 minutes with the grand jury of 19, including three women.

RELENTLESS WORK - The FBI has been working on the case relentlessly since the men went through six locked doors of the Brink's money-carrying firm on the second floor of a waterfront garage and surprised five guards.

The federal government turned the case over to the state for prosecution because state penalties (up to life imprisonment) are heavier than federal law allows.

O'Keefe was closeted with Byrne for more than five hours last night in a secret discussion of the Brink's case.

O'Keefe was one of the men in jail at the time of Hoover's announcement yesterday. He is doing 27 months in Hampden County Jail, Springfield, for violating his probation on a gun-carrying charge.

He was brought to Boston to confer with the district attorney and later at the time of Hoover's announcement yesterday. He is doing 27 months in Hampden County Jail, Springfield, for violating his probation on a gun-carrying charge.
