KF Departments Report Fires

Fire that apparently started around a floor furnace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Norman at 2220 Madison, did extensive damage to the frame dwelling and furniture. A passerby discovered smoke coming from the building and sent in the alarm to the Suburban Fire Department. The call was answered at 7:08 on Sunday, January 15.

The family was away at the time. The building is owned by C. A. Champlin, Dunsmuir. Extent of the damage will run into several hundreds of dollars.

The city department answered three calls over the weekend, to 2221 Reclamation at 10:38 p.m. January 14 where a floor furnace was flooded; to 1540 Lookout Street at 1:37 p.m. Sunday where curtains in a bedroom were on fire and 4:58 to 1215 Main Street to a trash fire.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat Monday succumbed to selling pressure based in part on the possibility of light moisture in the winter wheat belt. Prices sank around 2 cents at times on the Board of Trade.

Rye was under even more selling pressure than wheat, tumbling more than 3 cents at the worst. Selling was believed to represent profit taking.

Feed grains eased on mild hedging pressure while soybeans were lower most of the day. Toward the finish, beans staged a slight recovery. Some contracts got back above the previous close.

Wheat closed 1 to 1⅜ lower; March 2.10⅜-½; corn ¼-⅜ lower, March 1.29¾-½; oats ⅜-⅝ higher, March 64½-⅝; rye 2¼-3⅛ higher, March 1.20½; soybeans unchanged to ½ higher, January 2.43½-¾ and lard unchanged to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, January 10.77.

Merideth Rites To Be Announced

Funeral services will be announced by O'Hair's Memorial Chapel for Mrs. Effie Deane Merideth, 74, who died at the family home, 1421 Oregon Avenue at 8 a.m. today. She had been in ill health for some time and death followed a stroke. Mrs. Merideth had been a resident of Klamath Falls for 37 years.

She was a member of the Christian Church.

Surviving are her widower, A. T. "Jack" Merideth, Klamath Falls; one son Richard, stationed at Hickman Air Force Base, Honolulu, Hawaii, now here on leave, and two sisters, Mrs. Albert Freeman, Klamath Falls and Mrs. J. S. Campbell, Centralia, Missouri.

Tulelake Gives Flood Aid Funds

TULELAKE—The Tulelake community has contributed more than $200 for flood relief in the Red Cross emergency campaign for funds for flood victims.

The local office of the Red Cross contributed $100 of the total.

Local Kiwanians are aiding a former member of the Tulelake Kiwanis Club, Charles Ware, of Klamath, California, whose jewelry and watch repair business were lost in the pre-Christmas flood that nearly destroyed the entire town. Cash, clothing and household goods have been forwarded to the Ware family.

President's Budget Plan Meets With Mixed Reaction

year will total $64,270,000,000, and that outlays in the next bookkeeping year will top that by $1,585,000,000. It was the first time Eisenhower had pointed spending upward.

2. Predicted that revenues next year will be $1,800,000,000 higher than this year's, resulting in a federal surplus this year of 230 million.

3. Proposed to cut the federal debt by 7¼ million by June 30 to a level of $274,300,000,000 and by the following June 30 to $273,800,000,000.

4. Called for new appropriations of $66,291,000,000 — some 426 millions higher than projected spending and 4¼ billion higher than appropriations in the current year. This indicated that federal spending may be trending upward for several years.

While he cautioned against any quick tax cut, Eisenhower's budget seemed to leave a loophole which might justify one under his guidelines.

The budget appeared to have underestimated revenues for the second successive year. A year ago Eisenhower forecast revenues of 6 billion dollars for this year — some 4½ billions less than his new revised estimate.

His estimate for the coming fiscal year forecast an increase of about 1½ billion dollars in individual tax returns. But his estimate for corporation tax returns was unchanged.

Corporation profits have been climbing rapidly. This appeared to leave considerable room for improvement of revenue estimates.

Eisenhower earmarked 902 million dollars, or almost two-thirds of the increased spending he proposed, for national security programs.

He said most of this increase would be used for the latest weapons, including guided missiles, which could be brought to bear on an enemy.

He laid new stress on continental defense through a radar fence to catch any attack on the wing, provided for a nuclear-powered Navy cruiser and a sixth giant Forrestal class aircraft carrier.

He spotlighted the administration's soil bank plan for cutting down surplus agricultural production; getting rid of present surplus crops owned by the government and abetting conservation as a major home front program.

He said the soil bank plan would cost 400 million dollars the first year. But he forecast a drop of 12 million dollars in over-all agriculture spending, due to a decline of 486 million dollars in crop price support costs. In part, this was attributable to a forecast that the government would realize much more from disposal of its surpluses.

Eisenhower proposed to spend 150 million dollars next year to help the states build new schools. He called for a quick start on his 10-year program to build 40,000 miles of highways, but assigned only a 56-million-dollar increase to highway building. That seemed to indicate he contemplated that the cost of any expanded roads program would be met by higher taxes.

He asked for 58 million dollars to expand the State Department's diplomatic and consular services, and increase U. S. Information Service work abroad.

New foreign aid appropriations amounting to $4,860,000,000 were asked in order to refill the pipeline of foreign aid funds with which to contract for items to be delivered months or years hence.

The budget proposed an 86-million-dollar increase in spending on veterans services, to a total of $4,679,000,000. Any major revisions of veterans services or benefits should await the report of a special commission due late this year, Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower asked Congress to increase postal charges by enough to bring in 350 million dollars additional money in fiscal 1957, but he did not specify what increases he had in mind. His budget counted this 350 million dollars as a decline in government costs. If Congress should not increase postal fees as requested, most of the projected 435-million-dollar surplus for the year would vanish.

The farmer would benefit from the one small tax cut — a proposal to refund to farmers the two-cent federal tax on gasoline used in farm operations. This, he said, would cost the government an estimated 60 million dollars next year.

He proposed to increase spending on atomic energy development — including peaceful applications — by 230 million dollars, to a record of nearly two billion. He renewed his plea to Congress to authorize a nuclear powered vessel to tour the world as an "atoms for peace" exhibit.

He said Secretary of Welfare Folsom is working out a plan under which insurance companies would pool risks to "extend and improve" health insurance for the public. If this is not successful, he said, federal underwriting of health insurance should be reconsidered.

Eisenhower asked for money to start work on three steam electric generators in the Tennessee Valley Authority grid, "so that work may begin promptly." This by-passed, and perhaps dropped, his earlier proposal to finance such projects by sale of revenue bonds, in favor of a return to direct federal financing.

Speaking of international affairs, Eisenhower reiterated that this country seeks a just and durable peace, and he voiced regret "that the Soviet leaders have not as yet given any tangible evidence of an intention to agree upon a plan of disarmament that can be verified by adequate inspection."

Until they do so, he said, "we must follow the course reflected in this budget of steadily strengthening the defense of the United States and its allies."

Three Injured In Car Crashes

Three minor accidents occurring over the weekend were reported today by Oregon State Police.

Three persons suffered minor injuries as a result of the accidents, police said.

Two persons were injured as the result of a two car collision at the intersection of the State Line Highway and California State Route 139. Autos driven by William Hillis Short of Medford and Carl Lyle Thomas of The Dalles collided at the intersection. Short, who was eastbound on the State Line Road, was cited by a California Highway Patrol officer for failure to observe the stop sign.

Both drivers were taken by ambulance to Klamath Valley Hospital, where they were treated and released.

California and Oregon officers jointly investigated the incident.

The other injured driver was Reba Mannerheim of Bend, whose auto went out of control late Saturday afternoon and smashed into a bridge on U.S. 97 near Algoma. She was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital by a passing motorist, police reported. Her auto, which was heavily damaged, was towed in.

There were no injuries in the third accident, which occurred approximately six miles west of Lenox Junction on state Highway 66.

An auto driven by Charles Thomas Sumpter, 2622 Eberlein, was attempting to pass a California Oregon Power Company owned vehicle driven by Frank Nunley, 509 North Third Street, when a vehicle with no headlights came from the opposite direction, forcing Sumpter to crowd the Copco vehicle into the ditch. Both vehicles were severely damaged, but the unidentified car was not hit and left the scene, police reported.

The incident occurred late Saturday afternoon.

Judge Sentences Drunk Drivers

Three weekend accidents, two of them involving drunk drivers, were reported today by Klamath Falls city police.

Frank L. Hamilton of the Anchor Hotel and Wallie R. Hembree, 4118 Bisbee were both sentenced today to pay $100 fines and serve 30 days in the city jail by Police Judge Frank Blackmer. Hamilton was also sentenced to pay $5 or serve two and one half days in jail for not having an operators license.

According to police, Hamilton was pulling away from the curb at Main and Fifth streets when he hit an auto driven by Melton M. Dougan of Fort Ord, California. Hembree is reported to have hit a parked auto owned by Bruno Morehaus of Klamath Falls. The auto was parked on South Sixth near Washburn Way, police said.

In the third accident, police said an auto driven by Rodney Holter of Oretech hit a pedestrian, Charles A. Wittemore, 6660 South Sixth Street, at the intersection of Sixth and Klamath Avenue. Wittemore was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital where he was treated and released.

Holter is scheduled to appear at 4 p.m. today in police court on charges of failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian.

Hearing Waived By Ex-Convict

Fred (Teddy) Walker, 25-year-old ex-convict, waived preliminary hearing Monday morning when arraigned before District Judge D. E. Van Vactor on a charge of burglary. He is alleged to have broken into the residence of C. E. Thomson and to have stolen two rifles.

According to County Jailer Fred Calfee, Walker was released a few weeks ago from Oregon State Prison where he served 27 months for burglary.

Judge Van Vactor ordered the alleged prowler held for the grand jury. Bail was set at $500.

Former Resident Dies In Medford

A former resident of Klamath Falls, Meael Ingram, died January 13 at Medford. He was about 66 years old and retired. Mr. Ingram worked in local packing houses during his long residence here. He had been ill for some time and death followed a stroke.

Word of his death was received by Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Persell, 2224 Biehn Street.

Since moving to Medford he has made his home with a sister, Mrs. Dellie Machado Gaines, also a former resident here.

Mr. Ingram was a member of the local Fraternal Order of Eagles lodge.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, January 17, in Medford.

AN ALL OUT FIGHT against heavy odds to keep flood waters from inundating the entire community of Alturas was spearheaded by Charles Lederer, Modoc County civil defense director. He is shown at flood relief headquarters directing operations on the field by telephone. With him is his daughter, Sandra.

Jaycees Plan Chiloquin Vote

CHILOQUIN — Officers for the first organized year of the Klamath Reservation Junior Chamber of Commerce will be chosen tonight, January 16, at 7:30 in the Chiloquin High School.

Candidates are as follows: president, John Heilbronner and Bill Wiest; vice presidents (two), Belvie Dillstrom, Glen Kircher, Bud Gienger, Remo Minato, George Foster and Frank Hale; secretary, Dick Souers, Joe Brewer and Homer Williams; treasurer, the Rev. Edmund Stanton, Chester Jack; directors (three), Elnathan Davis, Robert Oates, Noble Sanderville, Victor Sisson, Duane Moxon, Bill Wampler, Allen Jeffries, Jim Rodgers. Election chairman is Hirigo Zakaji.

The nomination of officers took place at a spaghetti and meatball potluck dinner at the Chiloquin grade school cafeteria.

Acting chairman John Heilbronner extends an invitation to other men in the Modoc Point, Klamath Agency, Sprague River, Beatty and Chiloquin areas to join the group. If dues are paid at tonight's meeting, new members may take part in the election.

The first action of the Jaycees will be to investigate the possibility of the group sponsoring the All Indian Basketball Tournament to be held in Chiloquin during March. A Reservation tournament will be held in advance to select two local teams to take part in the larger tournament.

Klamath Police Report Thefts

Two burglaries over the weekend were reported today by Klamath Falls police.

About $10 in cash from a vending machine, a half case of cigarettes and an unknown amount of wine and beer were taken from the Oregon Food Store at 2410 South Sixth Street sometime Saturday night, police said.

Entry was gained by drilling a series of holes in the roof and then punching out a square in the roof similar to punching out a perforated boxtop.

The other burglary, which occurred sometime Friday night, was at the Community Lounge, 117 North Seventh Street. About $18 was taken from a soft drink vending machine, police said.

According to police, the janitor, Jim Power, 2241½ Eberlein, said he found a door open when he reported for work Saturday morning. Investigators said there was no sign of forced entry, indicating that the person entering the building probably had used a key on the door.

Emergency Message Held By KF Police

Klamath Falls police have an emergency message for Joseph William Bloom, 34, of Brownwood, Texas.

Police believe that Bloom is seeking logging or mill employment in the Klamath Falls area. Any person having information concerning his whereabouts is asked to get in touch with police.

Sweetland Plans State Post Race

PORTLAND (AP)— Monroe Sweetland, Democratic national committeeman since 1948, said Sunday he will file soon for his party's nomination as secretary of state.

Sweetland, 45, publisher of the weekly Milwaukie Review and a state senator, announced his candidacy with the declaration:

"Our state government has been dominated too long by a few selfish economic interests, and Oregon must make a new beginning."

PEOPLE'S NEEDS

He said a government "responsive to the people's needs requires a liberal and a Democratic Legislature. It requires also that the Board of Control must at least be bi-partisan. 1956 offers the occasion to elect democratic members as secretary of state and state treasurer, a majority of the important three-man Board of Control."

Republican Gov. Paul Patterson is the third member of the board. Secretary of State Earl Newbry, a Republican, is barred by law from seeking another term.

NO COMMENT

There was no comment on Sweetland's announcement from Terry Schrunk, Multnomah County sheriff. Schrunk has indicated interest in running for the Democratic nomination for secretary of state or for mayor of Portland. He said he will make known his plans after conferring with friends.

If Schrunk stays out of the race it could turn out to be a hot contest next November between Sweetland and another state senator, Mark Hatfield, Salem, who already has announced his candidacy for secretary of state.

Pat Dooley, Portland attorney who has served two terms in the state House of Representatives, said he was interested in running for Democratic national committeeman but that he would not commit himself until later.

Crater Reports Poor Skiing

Skiing was poor at Crater Lake National Park over the weekend. In spite of adverse conditions, one carload of skiers visited the park Saturday and 17 cars drove to the park Sunday. Eighteen of Sunday's 60 visitors were skiers.

The skies were overcast in the park this morning and snow was falling. Rain during the last few days has dropped the snow depth to 96 inches compared with 67 inches on this date last year. An inch and a half of new snow fell during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today.

Maximum temperature Sunday was 38 degrees; minimum 22 and it was 23 degrees at 8 a.m. today.

Highway 62 is open through the park with chains advised. The road from Annie Springs to Headquarters was open this morning and the rangers expected to reopen the road from Headquarters to the rim by noon, weather permitting. Chains or abrasive snow tread tires are required.

KF Authorities Probe Vandalism

Ten high school students were under investigation Monday by county juvenile officers for alleged participation in a series of destructive raids on summer homes and business establishments in the Rocky Point resort area.

According to juvenile officers Francis Mathews and Faye Blackmer, who already have questioned several of the suspects, they may be prosecuted in federal court as the property is on government land.

Mathews said, according to information given him by the state police, vandals did hundreds of dollars damage to buildings and their contents in a series of three raids by three separate groups. The raids were staged December 21, 23 and 30.

In many of the dwellings, plumbing fixtures were uprooted, furniture smashed and window panes shattered.

Both Mathews and Mrs. Blackmer are continuing to question suspects and formal complaints may be filed later this week.

DROWNED

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Two persons were drowned, hundreds of families were endangered, and several million escudos damage was done in weekend floods throughout Portugal.

Rains Cause

water was high this morning in the swamp land and Gift Flat as it was during the December floods. Water in Cy's Branch, a canal from the Gerber Reservoir that is used for irrigation water for the W. D. Campbell property and others was higher than it has ever been and it was being watched, she said.

DITCHES FULL

The Herald and News correspondent at Malin, Mrs. Paul G. Bloom, said all irrigation ditches and canals were running full Sunday noon but had started subsiding by mid-afternoon.

One of the main irrigation ditches east of Malin broke and several headgates have washed out. Ditches and headgates will have to be repaired and some of the land drained — seems to be the extent of the damage out there.

Truck Driver Taken To Jail

Robert Lee Williams, 21-year-old truck driver, who police say, admitted three holdups and an attempted holdup last week during which he was wounded in the shoulder was transferred to the county jail from Klamath Valley Hospital Monday morning.

Williams, who is held under $20,000 bond, will be arraigned Tuesday before District Judge D. E. Van Vactor on a charge of assault and robbery.

Williams was arrested at the hospital an hour after an attempted holdup at Yaden's Service Station early last Thursday morning. He had applied for medical attention for the wound in his shoulder.

District Attorney Richard Beesley said Monday morning that Williams had given him a statement admitting holdups at a Shell and a Fortune service station, Idella's grocery store and the attempted holdup at the Yadeh station.

Lawrence B. (Grady) Gaylord reported to city police that he fired two shots at an armed man who attempted to rob him.

FIRED

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — The West German Construction Workers Union Monday dissolved 10 locals representing 40,000 workers because of Communist infiltration. The union simultaneously fired 15 officials of these locals from their union jobs.

Car Wreck Due

Geo. N. Taylor

A clear sunny day with the driver of the oncoming car either asleep—or else. His car seemed to steer itself over to the wrong side of the road—a wreck was due. To escape smash, the driver who was on his own side of the road and had the right of way, steered off into the ditch to let the wild car pass. So you see the car that had the right of way, forced off into the ditch.

But underneath that bouncing car there in the ditch, were the everlasting arms. The Angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him and delivers them." Ps. 34:7 BBLE. Trust him and God stands back of his word. As God put your sins on Christ and He died for ya, now receive Christ into your heart. Let Him be your Lord and Saviour. He will uphold you until your work is done. So what for you? The passing show or eternal life? ThisMessage sponsored by a lumber mfg. and Wife. Adv.
