

White Fox Comes To Terms With ChiSox; Nieman Signs

By UNITED PRESS

Nellie Fox of the White Sox, a scrappy little guy who has made his name in five fancy figures, put a light on his omnipresent cigar today and said he was mightily satisfied with a 1956 contract that will pay him about $30,000.

Fox, one of the American League's most spirited performers was fourth best among the circuit's hitters last season with a .311 mark and also was among the leaders in runs with 100, in hits with 198, and in total bases with 258.

In addition to Fox, the White Sox also announced the signing of outfielder Bob Nieman, who hit .283 while driving in 53 runs and smashing 11 homers. The signing of Fox and Nieman made a total of 14 players under contract by the White Sox.

While Frank Lane was general manager, the White Sox usually were the first club in the majors to have all their players signed, but this year the Chicago Cubs, who have signed 21 of their players already, may win that distinction.

EXACTLY HALF

Outfielders Jim King and Ted Tappe signed with the Cubs Wednesday and the club now boasts exactly half of their players signed, King batted .256 in 113 games last season and Tappe .260 in 23 games.

World Series hero Johnny Podres signed a Brooklyn contract for an estimated $15,000. Even though Podres beat the Yankees twice to bring the Dodgers their first world championship, he was given only a modest raise because of his regular season record of nine victories and 10 defeats.

Pitchers Nelson King and Lino Donoso became the 14th and 15th members of the Pirates to agree to terms. King opened the 1955 season with the Pirates and won one and lost three before being sent to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League while Donoso had a four-and-six slate with Pittsburgh.

ANNOUNCED

The Indians announced the signing of catcher Hank Foles, outfielder Stu Locklin, infielders Billy Harrell and Kenny Kuhn, and pitcher Hank Aguirre.

Big Frank Sullivan, an 18-game winner with the Red Sox last season, signed his 1956 contract after receiving a substantial increase. Sullivan led the American League with a total of 260 innings pitched and also in games started with 35.

Two 18-year-old pitchers, Gordin Sundin and Roger Marquis, signed with the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles also announced the sale of veteran right-hander Don Johnson to the Toronto Maple Leafs. Johnson won two games and lost four for the Orioles last season.

Saddler Keeps Feather Crown North Carolina Upsets State

Wolfpack Topped By 'Heels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina pulled off one of the year's biggest basketball upsets last night.

The Tarheels, using only one substitute—and he didn't score—gained sweet revenge by whipping third-ranked North Carolina State 73-69. The Wolfpack had walloped North Carolina 82-60 in the finals of the Dixie Classic last month.

The Tarheels now have a 13-2 record for the year and their league-leading Atlantic Coast Conference mark is 8-1. Coach Frank McGuire's lads were 0-5 in the latest Associated Press poll.

Dayton, the nation's second-ranked team behind San Francisco, continued unbeaten by walloping Villanova 71-50 in its 13th victory of the campaign.

TRAMPLED

In other games, Louisville, No. 10 dunned Memphis State 85-75. St. Louis beat DePaul 89-71. West Virginia defeated Pitt 84-70. Georgia Tech knocked over Furman 85-75 despite Darrell Floyd's 36 points, and Columbia trampled Yale 80-54 in an Ivy League tilt.

Lennie Rosenbluth, North Carolina's sharp-shooting junior, led his team with 23 points although high man for the night was State's Ron Shavlik with 26. The Wolfpack, who are 12-2 for the season, almost tied the game in the closing seconds but Carolina's Jerry Vayda deflected hard-charging Vic Molodet's driving layup shot which would have made it 71-71.

Midyear examinations will leave first place in the ACC unchanged until Feb. 4 when the Tarheels take on Duke's Blue Devils, who are runners-up with 8-1.

Dayton's Flyers had some trouble before Villanova's zone defense early in their game, but they forged ahead 13-12 and never were headed. Bill Uhl of Dayton paced the scorers with 19 points.

Louisville had to come from behind to pick up its 14th victory in 15 games. Trailing 21-13, Louisville capitalized on its superior height and a series of field goals by Charley Tyra, Jim Morgan and Herb Havrah to forge ahead 47-41 at the half.

Grady Smith was the big gun as St. Louis grabbed a 22-2 lead over DePaul and breezed in. He wound up with 29 points.

Elorde Stopped On TKO

SAFETY SADDLER, his world featherweight crown still intact although somewhat battered, set his sights today on a crack at the lightweight title.

The 32-year-old Saddler, trailing by one point on all three official scorecards after nine rounds, retained his 128-pound championship with a technical knockout of Filipino Flash Elorde at 59 seconds of the 13th round last night. Referee Ray Flores stopped the scrap, a bloody melee in the final rounds, because of a long, deep cut over Elorde's left eye.

The game little challenger, who weighed 125 pounds to Saddler's 126, suffered the cut in the eighth round and appeared virtually blinded the rest of the way. He insisted, though, that he could have gone on.

BOOED DECISION

The crowd, almost 100 per cent on his side, booed lustily when Flores' decision to stop it was concurred in by ring physician Dr. Robert Laddon.

"I finish strong," Elorde declared in his dressing room. "The eye was not bothering me. He never did hurt me."

Dr. Laddon disagreed on his third look at the cut. Twice previously—in the 10th and 11th rounds—Flores had stopped the action for an examination and both times Dr. Laddon sent Elorde back. In the 13th, at the obviously worried Flores' request, he called a halt.

Saddler, whose infighting tactics brought frequent boos from the crowd, took full advantage of the bleeding cut to swing the fight in his favor. Several times in the clinches the crowd thought he was using his thumb to rub across the eye. When he was in the open, the champion shot left after left into the Filipino's battered face.

IN FRONT

Young Elorde was leading on Flores' card and those of both judges—Eddie James and Johnny Bassinelli—by 50-49 at the end of nine rounds. He was awarded the final three by a 6-5 margin on all cards to finish with a 67-65 bulge. The Associated Press card showed Saddler in front 68-64 when it ended.

Elorde's manager Lope Sarreal declared, "We would like to fight Saddler again but I don't believe he'll agree to it because Elorde is too good."

Elorde was awarded a 10-round non-title decision over Saddler in Manila.

Saddler said he'd like a crack at Wallace (Bud) Smith's lightweight crown and his manager Charley Johnston agreed it was a good idea.

"No featherweight can punch with Sandy," Johnston said. "He's as strong as any welterweight."

The approximately 6,000 who saw the bout paid $28,273. Saddler had a $25,000 guarantee. Elorde's take was not estimated.

AMERICAN ICE SKATE STARS SUFFER INJURY

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy's top Olympic ski jumper, took a nasty spill and suffered a minor back or rib injury. The husky blond from New Gamsau, Conn., tumbled after landing in his first practice jump in "Italia" hill. He planned to resume jumping Friday.

Finland's Auli Kallakorpi led jumpers from eight nations in preliminary workouts with a leap of 282 feet. America's best showing was by Art Devlin of Lake Placid, N.Y., with 249 feet, 5 inches.

In the Swiss international speed skating races at Davos, Oleg Goncharenko of Russia set a new Davos course record of 7 minutes, 59.4 seconds to win the 5,000-meter (3 miles, 188 yards) event.

The two best American skaters were far back in the list. Pat McNamara of Minneapolis had a clocking of 8:33.7. Ar Longsojo of Pittsfield, Mass., registered 8:59.3. The Russians finished 1:33 in the 500 meter sprint Wednesday.

On Cortina's bobsled run, Italy's favored two-man sleds flashed down the course one-two-three but Americans showed improvements, placing fourth and fifth.

As an example of how tough the competition will be in the Winter Olympics, Jan. 26 through Feb. 2, the Finns left their world champion skier at home and brought along 10 guys you never heard of who they say are better.

In addition to the evident increase in competition among the usual Olympic nations, Russia will unveil its "mystery" team in its first appearance at the winter games. From what the Russians have shown in warmup meets, it may be an auspicious debut.

Only yesterday the Russians swept the 500-meter race in the international speed skating meet at Davos, Switzerland. The former USSR team in its first appearance at the winter games, from what the Russians have shown in warmup meets, it may be an auspicious debut.

Just hours after he was named to the WSC post, Wednesday succeeding Al Kircher, Sutherland announced the selection of Leon McLaughlin as an assistant. The former UCLA star, who was lately with the Los Angeles Rams, joins holdover assistant Dan Stavelly on the Cougar staff.

"Washington State had to get the best football coach available," Sutherland said. "I don't think that's been done. Now there's a lot of work ahead."

The Canadian-born, California-reared head coach comes here after being released as an assistant at Washington following a player revolt.

Johnny Cherberg was retained as Washington coach following the flare-up and Sutherland said he was being made a "scapegoat" for a situation that existed when he arrived at the Seattle school.

Sutherland was formerly head coach at Santa Monica High in California and an assistant under Pappy Waldorf at California.

The new coach will reportedly receive $12,000 annually on a 3-year contract, $500 a year less than the salary given Kircher, whose contract was bought up following a 1-8-1 season.

"This job needed the best football brains and coaching available and I believe it has that now," Sutherland said. "From here on, we'll be building. It will take time, but I'm confident it can be done."

Pelicans To Host Grizzlies

Southern Oregon Conference basketball action resumes here this weekend as the Klamath Union High School Pelicans take on the unpredictable Ashland High Grizzlies in Friday and Saturday night games at Pelican Court.

And what important games they are for the Pels.

Coach Don Peterson's Whitebirds are currently riding in second place with a 2-2 record, but Ashland and Grants Pass are close behind with identical 1-3 marks. A double loss to Ashland this weekend or even a split with the Grizzlies could throw a stumbling block in the path of the Klamath quintet as they seek conference and district laurels. Medford holds the top spot of the four-team race with a perfect 4-0 record. To maintain any hopes of catching the fast moving Medford, the Pels must capture both frays this week.

Ashland, known in the past few seasons as the league's "easy" entry has pulled up stakes and are staging a tough fight against their three larger foes—Medford, Grants Pass and Klamath. The Tornados rolled over Ashland fairly decisively, but Grants Pass had to contend with a split last weekend.

COMBINATION

This week, reports from the Lithia city are that Ashland High's cagers have found themselves with a "right" combination and are ready to tangle with the Pels, either on the road or at home. Coach Al Simpson juggled his lineup somewhat last week, and in doing so shattered almost every scoring record established by Ashland teams as they slaughtered Grants Pass, 86-61.

Four of Ashland's regulars hit in double figures, with the other starter collecting nine points. Harry Johnson and Phil Swind, two of the Grizzlies' old-pros, led the barrage against Grants Pass with 20 and 16 points apiece, a feat they are hoping will duplicate itself this week against the Pels.

NFL Ends Annual Grid Pick

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Professional football counted its draft choices today, wondering which of the big-name college stars would turn out to be all glitter and which of the little-known talents from the hinterlands might prove to be tomorrow's pro grid stars.

The clubs finished the annual draft with the final 10 rounds Wednesday.

Most of the big names had gone before the final round. The draft, chosen by the International League, started with the first three choices Nov. 28 and resumed Tuesday.

However, there were some surprises today. Guard Carl Nystrum, one of Michigan State's Rose Bowl heroes, didn't go until the final round, when selected by the Washington Redskins. The pros drafted guards, usually drafting heavy weight tackles and converting them to guards.

The Cleveland Browns drafted only one quarterback, Ed West, North Carolina State, picked on the 17th round. However, the Browns are counting heavily on former Kentucky star Vito Parilli, who is returning from the service. The champs lose their old-time star, Otto Graham.

Among better-known names drafted in the final rounds were Glenn Kapish, Notre Dame end, to Cleveland; Sam Brown, UCLA back, Cleveland; Tony Branch, Michigan back, Chicago Cardinals; Bob Davenport, UCLA fullback, Cleveland; Rommie Loudd, UCLA end, San Francisco; and Bud Benson, Arkansas halfback, Pittsburgh.

Many choices came from little schools which sometimes furnish big talent.

Among these picks were Jim Murphy, Stephen Austin tackle, chosen by the Chicago Cards; Milt Robichaux, Sam Brown, UCLA back, Cleveland; Tony Branch, Michigan back, Chicago Cardinals; Bob Davenport, UCLA fullback, Cleveland; Rommie Loudd, UCLA end, San Francisco; and Bud Benson, Arkansas halfback, Pittsburgh.

Seattle Cager Jumps in NW Scoring Race

By JACK HEWINS

The little fellow still ride tall in the basketball saddle this week but there's a highboy glaring up at them, a demanding roping room in the Northwest scoring roundup.

He's Dick Stricklin, 6 foot 7 inch Seattle University center whose scoring outburst lifted him from sixth last week into a tie for second with Jimmy Winters of Portland and U. Winters and Len Anderson of Seattle Pacific, who ran his point string to 276 to lead tightly to first place, couldn't touch 6 feet with elevator shoes.

Stricklin and Winters each had 269 points at the close of shooting Saturday. And the two of them were tops in the region on percentage production, averaging 20.7 lances per tilt.

It took 234 points to land a player in the top 10 this week and 183 for a spot in the first 20. Bill Machamer of Linfield was fourth and Dave Gambee of Oregon State fifth. Other Top Tenners were Larry Beck of Washington State, Max Jermer of Seattle Pacific, Ted Schadewitz of Eastern Oregon and Bill Hollingsworth and Lloyd Hoffine of Southern Oregon College.

The scoring leaders (through Jan. 14):

G	F	G	F	T	P
Anderson, SePa	14	89	98	276
Winters, Port U.	13	93	83	269

Commission May Bar Ray In California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—The California Athletic Commission will probably bar Sugar Ray Robinson from fighting in California if the world middleweight champion refuses to meet the demands of the state.

The commission is scheduled to meet in Los Angeles next week.

"Assuming the return bout contract was properly written in the clause, I am certain that Robinson will not be allowed to fight again in this state if he refuses to comply with the provisions," Kilroy said.

He said the commission would notify the National Boxing Association of its action and ask other states to ban Robinson.

Sugar Ray regained the crown by knocking out Olson in the second round at Chicago last Dec. 9. He was slated to meet Olson in a return bout at San Francisco Feb. 24, but has claimed he needs more time to get into shape.

Cougars Hire UW Castoff As Grid Boss

PULLMAN, Wash. (UP)—Jim Sutherland, 42, started out his new career as head football coach at Washington State College with confident words and a quick appointment.

Just hours after he was named to the WSC post, Wednesday succeeding Al Kircher, Sutherland announced the selection of Leon McLaughlin as an assistant. The former UCLA star, who was lately with the Los Angeles Rams, joins holdover assistant Dan Stavelly on the Cougar staff.

"Washington State had to get the best football coach available," Sutherland said. "I don't think that's been done. Now there's a lot of work ahead."

Ray Bell Sent To UO Infirmary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Injuries and illness struck the Idaho and Oregon basketball squads Wednesday as they prepared for the weekend Pacific Coast Conference basketball series at Moscow.

Idaho center Gary McEwen twisted an ankle and reserve guard Gary Simmons strained a muscle. Both were sent to the infirmary but are expected to be ready for the opening game Friday night.

Influenza sent Oregon forward Ray Bell to the infirmary at Eugene. Coach Bill Borchert said he would know Thursday whether Bell will be available for the Idaho series.

Detroit '9 Purchasing Factors Told

DETROIT (UP)—The Detroit Tigers' franchise—considered one of the finest in baseball—remains up for sale, but President Spike Briggs said today it won't necessarily go to the highest bidder.

"Nor is it essential that the club must be sold by a fixed date. A lot of people think that whoever makes the highest bid will get the Tigers," Briggs said. "That's not so. There are other factors to be considered—factors which we (trustees of the Tigers) consider important."

"We don't want to sell out to some money-mad people who will milk the franchise dry in two or three years, make a big profit and then pull out, leaving a depleted ball park and nine old men on the field."

The trustees of the Tigers are Briggs and his four sisters. Their children are the eventual heirs to the estate left by the late Walter O. Briggs Sr., Tiger president who died in 1952.

The sisters decided that a baseball franchise was not a sound trust investment and decided to sell out. Briggs formed a syndicate to buy the club last fall but his $1 million dollar offer was turned down by his sisters.

"There is no time limit on the sale of the club," Briggs said. "It could happen this year, or next year, or even in 1958."

Briggs said that, thus far, there have been 25 "inquiries" into the sale of the club.

He said the name of Bill Vecek, former owner of the Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns, keeps popping up.

"Several of those who have inquired into the sale of the club have mentioned Vecek's name," Briggs said. "It seems odd to me that he should be mentioned by several groups, and not just one."

When the sale of the Tigers is eventually completed, Briggs said it probably will mean the end of his job as president of the club.

Skets Waxes Eagle 88-24; Jets Triumph

Skets continued their torrid shooting in City League basketball Wednesday night at Altamont Junior High as they spanked previously one-beaten Eagle with a one-sided 88-24 decision. In the other game, Klamath Jets measured the National Guard "Reds" for a 52-44 win.

In Skets' rout of the Eagle, five of the winners collected double figure scoring totals for the evening. Gary Dawes and Tom Schubert paved the way with 18 point efforts, while Dick Doege averaged for 12 and Gary Dorn and Ed Whitney each pumped through 10 points. High for the losers was Modesto Jimenez with eight. The halftime score favored the Skets club 37-11.

The two Bobs — Gahimer and Mosser—led the air force to town last night as the Jets knocked off the "Red" National Guard team. Bob Gahimer collected 18 points, while Bob Mosser took the evening's scoring honors with 24 lances. High for the losers was Leo Davis with 16. National Guard trailed the Jets 31-20 at halftime.

FOREST GROVE, Ore. (UP)—Pacific University used timely baskets by Ron Barendse and Danny French Wednesday night to upend Willamette, 63-48, in a Northwest Conference basketball game.

Barendse took scoring honors with 15 points, including four long set shots that cracked Willamette's zone defense and helped Pacific move away from a 22-22 halftime tie. French chipped in 12 including key shots in the second half rally.

S.L. Keglers Set New Highs

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The Budweisers and St. Louis who are after the National match game, bowling championship, set two national season highs Wednesday night with a 3,729 three-game block and a second-game 1,269.

Little Dick Weber shot a perfect 300 game to lead off the first game, but he wasn't high man for the night and the Bud's first game, 1,228 was the worst of the block. They hit 1,232 in the last game.

The Buds' 3,729, scored in a league match with another St. Louis team, was just 76 pins off the world record of 3,799, set in 1937 by the Hermann Undertakers of St. Louis.

It was 248 pins better than the season's previous high of 3,551 set by a Pittsburgh team.

The Buds led the defending champion Strohs of Detroit by 965 pins at the halfway-point of their 24-game match for the title.

Streak Ends For Montreal

By UNITED PRESS

The long scoring famine was over today for the Montreal Canadiens, who in the bargain also snapped their longest losing streak in the current National Hockey League season at four games.

The Canadiens, held scoreless through one hour, 53 minutes and one second, finally got their siege guns in action against the Toronto scoring three times for a 3-2 victory. Maple Leafs Wednesday night, 10-7.

The win enabled the Canadiens to move eight points up on the idle second-place New York Rangers, while the loss prevented the Leafs from breaking their fourth-place tie with the Chicago Black Hawks.
