A NEW YMCA CENTER has been opened at Oregon Technical Institute, announced Paul Campbell, Y executive secretary, today. The students at OTI will have the use of facilities in the Y Center established there in the rear of the engineering building. The center was made possible through the efforts of Winston Purvine, OTI director, and the student steering committee with the assistance of Campbell. Pictured here, left to right, are Sally Collins, steering committee member; Purvine, Bob Roy, steering committee member, and Paul Campbell.

Opening Of YMCA Center To Climax National Week

(Editor's Note: The week of January 22 to 28 is National YMCA Week. This is the final article of a series describing various phases of YMCA activities.) The Klamath County YMCA program among Oregon Technical Institute students will get a big boost Saturday when the OTI-YMCA Center is officially opened in a climax of the local observance of National YMCA Week. The present location of the center, in a school building in back of the Engineering Building, is only temporary, but equipment and space at the present facility includes a well furnished clubroom, a library, a hobby shop, a snack bar, a social room containing a juke box, pool table, shuffle board, chess and checker boards, a dance floor and other recreational equipment. At the north end of the center, there are facilities for athletic events, including some apparatus loaned by the Institute. The program at the center was developed after a questionnaire had been submitted to OTI students. Policies of the downtown YMCA will apply at OTI, and membership regulations will be the same. An OTI student steering committee, which aided in the organization of the center, will have the overall responsibility for program planning and center leadership. The committee will, in turn, be advised by YMCA staff secretaries Bill Cornell and Paul Campbell. Center operation will be restricted to one week night and on week-ends until an additional staff member can be added. The center will be open from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Tuesdays and all day and evening on Saturday and Sunday. The original organizers of the center were a group of students desiring a recreational center on campus. After a meeting with Campbell, the student steering committee was formed with Jack Douglas, OTI business manager, as its adviser. After several planning meetings, a fund of $500 was raised and the center began to take form. Participating students number about 200, and this figure is growing daily. YMCA leaders have acknowledged the cooperation received from W. D. Purvine, institute director, and other OTI officials, and much of the equipment has been donated by the state of Oregon at the capital in Salem. The proclamation was presented by the governor to Roy L. Orem, treasurer, Portland Council of the Navy League, and Commander J. E. Lundstrom, USN, Thirtieth Naval District representative for Portland. Lieutenant junior grade, M. W. Thompson, assistant officer in charge of the Oregon Navy Recruiting District and commander "Navy Sign-up Month" state of Oregon was present for the ceremony. A special recruiting drive will be conducted in Oregon in February to assist in "Operation Sign-up" which is being held throughout the United States by the Navy Recruiting Service and all Naval commands. The purpose of the drive is to get Oregon to the top of the list in the national standings, percentage-wise of men enlisting in the Navy.
