BACK IN THE YEARS about 1937 when folks were collecting everything from beetles to white jade, a pair of fine china shoes with an iridescent sheen were given to Mrs. Don F. (Dorothea) Nolan, co-owner and operator with her husband of the Driftwood Cafe. That pair of flower-bedecked shoes was the springboard to her present collection of more than 800 shoes, now on display at the Driftwood.

Former KF Woman Killed

Mrs. Vernon Ward, the former Helen Maxine Miller, 32, who lost her life on January 27 in a traffic accident at Roseburg, was a former resident of Klamath Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Ward left here about one and a half years ago to make their home in Roseburg.

According to reports reaching here, she was en route to work in Roseburg about 9 a.m. when her car, in which she was traveling alone, struck an icy spot on Highway 99 about four miles south of Roseburg and went out of control. The injured woman died about half an hour later in The Douglas Community Hospital.

She was the mother of four young children, two sons, Donald and John, and two daughters, Patsy and Barbara. She was the daughter of John C. Miller, former resident of Klamath Falls, now of Wendell, Idaho, sister of Don Miller, Idaho Falls, Idaho, John C. Miller Jr., of Roseburg, and Mrs. Wayne Cutler, Bremerton, Washington. Dick B. Miller Sr., Klamath Falls, is an uncle.

Her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward, also of this city, left at once for Roseburg, upon hearing of the accident. Numerous other relatives of the young woman live in this area.

Funeral services will be held in Roseburg Monday, with interment in Brownsville.

Mrs. Don Nolan's Shoes On Display To Cafe Patrons

Golden Cinderella slippers, sealskin boots from the Arctic, sandals from Guadalcanal, a pair of tiny white bootees from the cockpit of a Royal Air Force plane that flew to Mindanao (a pilot's goodluck charm) are in the collection of the hundreds of shoes and boots, tiny skis and skates and miniature silver charms that have been gathered from around the world by Mrs. Don F. Nolan, resident of Klamath Falls since 1928.

The collection "just grew," confessed Mrs. Nolan, when friends learned of her interest in a hobby and additions came from total strangers who had heard about the "shoe shenanigans."

The collection includes a pair of slippers from South America woven with "elephant hair," a shoe of native stone, carved by a ranch hand on the Black and White Ranch owned by the late Chet Barton, from stone of Poe Valley, a slipper from Guadalcanal, still holding the sand of white beach in the tropics, woven rush sandals worn by fighting service men during leisure hours from trips across the Burma Road; a shoe carved from an Arizona cactus root.

Santas boots with candles in their boot tops, blown glass and colored ceramics, bronze, and silver slippers, embroidered sandals from Saudi Arabia and sandals made of birch bark. Smallest of the shoes is one quarter inch long.

Oldest specimans in the collection are of carved wood, made 160 years ago.

Mrs. Nolan has placed them in a glass-enclosed shelves in the cafe for the enjoyment of patrons.

Marriage Sets Surrender

George Amos McClain, 42-year-old bookkeeper, charged with embezzling $1,000 from the Willard Hotel, told Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg Friday afternoon he entered the bonds of matrimony while a fugitive from justice and after six months of married life decided to give himself up to the FBI.

McClain was before the court for arraignment. He waived grand jury investigation of his case and pleaded guilty to an information charging embezzlement filed by District Attorney Richard Beesley. Judge Vandenberg deferred passing sentence pending further investigation of the case.

McClain was returned to Klamath Falls Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Dale Mattoon. A nation-wide search was launched for him a year ago after Marvin Brown, manager of the Willard, signed the embezzlement complaint.

Under questioning by Judge Vandenberg, the defendant recounted how he traveled with a carnival for several months. He said he met his present wife who was a carnival worker at that time.

"After we had been married six months," he continued, "I decided to give myself up and pay my debt to society."

McClain also admitted to the court that he was sentenced to 12 years in Oregon State Prison for armed robbery and was once returned to the prison as a parole violator. He said he also had been previously convicted of embezzlement.

Chiloquin Police Chief Resigns

CHILOQUIN — Police Chief Lewis Jones of Chiloquin announced Saturday that he has resigned the post he held for three years to devote his time to youth programs.

Jones took the Chiloquin police job after serving two years on the police department of Toppenish, Washington. He plans to continue to make his home in Chiloquin.

Although a successor to Jones has not been named by the Chiloquin City Council, it is reported Assistant Police Chief Frank Reed is being considered for the job.

Stock Arena Bids Opened

Sealed bids were opened Friday afternoon at the office of Howard R. Perrin, architect, for construction of a new stock arena at the Klamath County fairgrounds.

Bidders on the job were:

Thompson and Georgeson, Portland, $69,784; Charles Kerr, Klamath Falls, $70,963; Mann Construction Company, Redmond, $71,700; Eldon Alt, Klamath Falls, $76,258; Duncan Construction Company, Klamath Falls, $78,000; A. E. Fitzgerald, Klamath Falls, $83,036.10.

The fair board was calling a meeting to study the bids.

Thieves Strip Auto Behind Local Garage

Several parts were taken from a wrecked auto parked in a lot in back of Parker Pontiac Company, 606 South Sixth Street, Klamath Falls police reported today.

Police said the thefts were discovered on Friday when a tow truck came to remove the wrecked vehicle, but that it might have happened several weeks ago when there was a break in a fence around the lot.

Missing were a radio, tail light and two tires and two wheels.

UAL Elects Curtis Barkes

Election of Curtis Barkes as a director of United Air Lines and of C. F. McErlean as a vice president and assistant to the president with responsibility for the company's legal affairs was announced today following a meeting of United's board of directors in Chicago. At the same time, the resignation of Otis E. Kline as a director and as vice president was announced.

United's board also declared an increased regular quarterly dividend of 37½ cents per common share, payable March 15 to stockholders of record February 15. This compares with quarterly dividends of 25 cents per share paid by the company in 1955 which supplemented, however, by a yearend extra dividend of 50 cents per share.

Barkes, vice president of United and a 30-year veteran of the company, started with National Air Transport one of the company's predecessors, and has been in various financial department capacities virtually all of his career. In addition to handling United's financial affairs, he is president of the United Air Lines Foundation, which allots contributions to various charitable organizations, and a director of the East Side, West Side, and Central Airline Terminal Corporations of New York.

McErlean, who has been director of law for United, joined the company in 1945 as assistant to W. A. Patterson, president. Before that, he was for six years with the National Labor Relations Board in Washington, D.C. He is a graduate of Georgetown University and practiced law in Chicago before going with the NLRB.

Kline, in announcing his resignation, said that for the time being he will devote his attention to personal interests.

Elephant Sale To Be Held

Quotarians are reminded of the "white elephant" sale to be held at the regular Tuesday noon luncheon on January 31, at the Winema Hotel, when each member is asked to bring something she no longer wants but someone else does.

On January 24, a large group of members and guests of uota had the pleasure of hearing a first-hand account of the White House conference on education with Lucile O'Neill, an Oregon delegate, as guest speaker.

Mrs. O'Neill described this hard-working, serious-minded conference as the most gigantic undertaking in the history of this country, attended by 1,800 delegates and about 1,200 observers. She explained the reasons it is necessary to arouse public opinion to this critical period in education, outlined the goals and the various criticisms on the conference at which federal aid to schools was the burning number one issue.

In closing, Mrs. O'Neill stated that she returned home feeling happy about this state's high quality of education and the fact that Oregon's schools have already accomplished what others are attempting.

Another interesting program during this month was on January 17, when Lieut. E. W. Tichenor and Officer Christensen of the Oregon State Police were guests of Quota to discuss the appalling and mounting death rate from accidents while showing slides of fatal accident scenes in Kalamath County.

GREASE FIRE
