Equipment Plans Studied

YREKA — The Skiskiyou board of supervisors is considering the matter of how to finance $30,000 worth of new road equipment needed by the county road department. Orel Lewis, county road engineer, explained to the board that in his opinion it would be advisable to purchase the equipment needed. At the present time the county is obliged to rent the equipment at high rentals. He stated that the equipment needed was for a tractor type truck for use in hauling heavy equipment for $20,000 and a crawler type crane at an estimated cost of $10,000. The board of supervisors stated that the money was not available, but requested Lewis and County Administrator Jess O'Rourke to make a complete investigation of possible plans for financing the equipment and report back to the board. In other business the county agreed to assume the cost of labor and maintenance on road signs for county roads. The request that the county aid in the labor and maintenance costs was made by the Triple A in a letter dated January 16. In the past the association has borne the cost of the signs and other expenses. The association advised that they would no longer be able to continue the full cost of county road signs.

NEW BOOKS ON THE DESK

by Addie May Nixon city librarian

As I look at the new books on my desk, I reach out and pick up a new novel by Margaret Campbell Barnes, "Mary of Carlsbrooke." Miss Barnes writes a very interesting historical novel. A few years ago I enjoyed her "Tudor Rose" very much, and before that "My Lady of Cleves," interested me. This new novel tells the story of Charles I during the period of his imprisonment in Carlsbrooke Castle, on the Isle of Wight, as seen through the eyes of Mary, the housekeeper's niece. The intrigue and adventure hold your attention until it is hard to put the book down. Another new book that will be of great interest to many people is "Critics' Choice," New York Drama Critics' Circle Prize Plays 1935-1955, edited by Jack Gaver. "Here, gathered together in one volume for the first time, are the outstanding plays of the past 20 years in the American theater, as selected by New York's drama critics. These 16 plays represent some of the greatest dramatic work of our time." Richmond P. Hobson Jr.'s new book, "Nothing Too Good For a Cowboy," is a true tale of ranching in British Columbia, and is told by a man who has built a cattle empire out of unexplored wilderness. This true story reads like a thrilling western fiction book. Here are all the hardships of wilderness life — mauling wolf packs, frozen feet and faces, spoiled food, long treks, and the simple pleasures to compensate the lonely cowboy. There is even an interesting, almost unbelievable romance. I believe men and women will both enjoy reading this book. Best Detective Stories of the Year - 1955 is the 10th edition of best detective stories selected by David C. Cooke. It includes such authors as Octavious Roy Cohen, Ellery Queen and other well known names. Quoting the blurb, "For all who like their mystery fare in short but powerful doses, Best Detective Stories of the Year - 1955 provides unsurpassed entertainment by 12 of the top names in the field."

Wheat Growers Slate Meeting

PORTLAND — Wheat producers from throughout the nation will air their views on the controversial Soil Bank plan and other major wheat problems at the 6th annual meeting of the National Association here February 1-3. The soil bank plan has received increased attention in the past few weeks. President Eisenhower's agricultural report to Congress proposed such a program to curtail wheat production and bring supply and demand into better balance. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson is expected to deal with that topic as well as the domestic party plan for wheat in his address to the convention February 2, at 2 p.m., in the Multnomah Hotel. The national association has supported the domestic party plan, a program calling for full parity to wheat producers for that portion of their crop used for domestic food consumption. The convention program includes: a special tour and luncheon for the ladies at Mt. Hood the afternoon of Wednesday, February 1; the annual banquet at 7 p.m., February 2, in the Multnomah Hotel; and a tour of wheat export facilities at 2 p.m., on Friday. Other speakers on the program will be Cliff Hope, U.S. Congressman from Oregon; Paul Patterson, governor of Oregon; Claude Gifford of Farm Journal publications; Gwynn Garnett, administrator, Foreign Agriculture Service, USDA; and Dr. Karl Quisenberry of the Agriculture Research Service.

Wildlife Photog To Show Films

Jim Bond, nationally known wildlife photographer, will return to Klamath Falls in February with new films. Pictures on hunting and fishing on the Yukon and in Alaskan waters will be shown on February 15, 16 and 17, at the Klamath Falls Armory, starting at 8 p.m. each evening. This year's showing will be sponsored by the Klamath Sportsman's Association with Harvey Morgan, chairman. Advance ticket sales will start next week in many downtown business establishments.

Letter From Washington

By HARRIS ELLSWORTH The President's budget contains considerable good news for many communities in our Fourth Congressional District. As I count it the total for the district is $8,380,100. The breakdown of that figure shows: $2,400,000 for construction on the Talent irrigation project in Jackson County; $2 million dollars to continue construction of Hills Creek Dam on the Willamette east of Eugene and $1,500,000 for construction on Cougar Dam on the McKenzie; $100,000 for construction of Eugene's Amazon project; $100,000 to continue planning of the Green Peter Dam on the Santiam; completion funds of $489,300 for Detroit Dam and $164,300 for Look-out Point Dam. On Coos Bay, $439,600 is asked to complete the Charleston project plus $613,500 for dredging the main harbor and $480,000 for the repair of structures, presumably the jetty. The Schofield River project at Reedsport will get $54,000 and $40,000 is included for dredging the harbor at Bandon. The weakness in the budget so far as we are concerned is the failure to provide enough money for needed river surveys. For the whole country only $1,850,000 is asked for preliminary survey reports such as those which have long been authorized for the Co-
