Bend Tops Klamath

Pelicans Toppled By Bears

BEND (Special)—A pair of fast-moving and sharp-shooting guards led the Bend High School Lava Bears to a 74-65 non-league basketball victory over the Klamath Union High School Pelicans here Saturday night on the Bears home floor, otherwise known as the "Cracker Box."

Bob Bonsell, a 5-10 senior, and Denny Olsen, a 6-0 junior, proved to be more than what the invading Pelicans from Southern Oregon bargained for in their kings-X encounter with the Bend cagers as the point-happy twosome powdered the net for 55 points between them. Bonsell claimed 30 on 10 field goals and 10 from gift shot alley, while Olsen countered with 25. Bonsell tallied 18 of his 30 in the final two periods of play, while Olsen dented the twine for 16 in the first half.

Klamath held only one lead during the race-horse affair, that a 2-0 margin in the opening moments of the first quarter. Jerry Burke opened the game's scoring with a bucket off a Klamath fast break, but from then on out, it was all Bend.

Roland Coleman, Bend center tied the game up at 2-2, and Ron Anderson pushed the Lava Bears out in front 4-2 on two free throws with just less than three minutes gone in the encounter. From this point Bend worked their way to a first period lead of 18-12 as Olsen punctured the Pelican defense with some fancy jump shot artistry.

The Klamath delegation outscored Bend in the second eight-minute period of play, 20-19, but still trailed at halftime by a 32-37 count. During the second quarter's play Klamath drew to within two points of the Bears, 32-34 on a field goal by Butch Kimpton, but Olsen and Bonsell contributed a free throw and field goal in the closing seconds of the half to give the Lava Bears their five point halftime lead.

As the second half's play opened, Earle Tichenor opened the scoring for Klamath to slice the lead to three points, but Olsen hit a jumper and Bonsell added a pair of shots from the field to hand the Bend quintet another safe margin from which to work. Midway through the third quarter, Coleman pushed through a shot from close in to give Bend an 11-point, 47-36 lead. The third period closed with Bend heading the Pels into the final canto, 55-46.

Throughout most of the fourth quarter, Bend maintained their nine-point lead that they held after three full periods of play, but Bonsell cashed in on four straight field goals and Dave Hodge added another as Bend zoomed their lead into a 17-point difference as the Pels stalled, 74-57, with about two minutes left to play. Then the Pels sliced the large deficit down to the final nine points on free throws by Denn Taucher a field goal by Kimpton and two out of four gifters by Mike Runge, Pelican reserve.

The win marked the sixth straight cage victory posted by Bend and gives them a season's record of 10-5. For the Pels it drops their season's reading to an 8-5 level.

Following Bonsell's 30 points and Olsen's 25, came Klamath's Taucher with 16. Tichenor aided the Pels with 14, while Kimpton tallied 10 counters. Other than the double-barreled attack by Bonsell and Olsen, no other Bend hoopster tallied more than five points.

Coach Don Peterson of Klamath was hurt tremendously by the loss of 6-6 Glenn Moore, sophomore standout who was not dressed down because of a wrist injury suffered earlier this week. Moore's 14 point per game average and backboard strength might have made a difference to the Pels, but the Klamath coach said prior to game time that he would not risk a chance in reinjuring the wrist in this fray.

In the preliminary contest, Bend's junior varsity turned back Klamath's jayvees 76-63. Stan Williams topped the scoring for Bend with 20, while Klamath's Tom Ankeny and Dave Robinson totaled out with 13 apiece.

Freeman Hits 46

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ohio State's Robin Freeman with 46 points came within one point of breaking the Big Ten scoring record, but Julius McCoy supplied the last minute heroics to give the Michigan State Spartans a 91-91 basketball victory Saturday night.

Dayton '5' Upset

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Capt. Gerry Moreman of Louisville scored with two seconds remaining in overtime Saturday night for a 66-64 victory that knocked second-ranked Dayton from the ranks of the unbeaten. The Flyers had won 14 straight basketball games.

Rod Hundley of West Virginia made 238 points in the first 10 games for the Mountaineers this season.

Bylines from the SIDELINES

BY CLAYTON HANNON

WHEN WE TAGGED THE "jack of all trades" label on Jerry Burke, Klamath Union High School senior, during last fall's football season, we didn't realize just how true it was.

Burke, a 5-11, 165-pounder, is one of the very few athletes that a person might find that can do anything in the line of sports and do it very well, yet not have any one sport where he surpasses all others. Let's look back through the KU sports past and just see what we're trying to drive home.

In the 1955 football season, Jerry came up to the Pelicans from the junior varsity club of '54 where he was a quarterback. But coach John McGinnis already had two very good quarterbacks in Donn Taucher and Butch Kimpton at the time. McGinnis expressed this fact to Burke, and asked if Jerry might try his hand at end, a spot where the Pelicans really needed help. Without any hesitation, Burke snapped out with a "yes."

JERRY BURKE

So McGinnis moved Jerry to a second string wing position, where he worked without much notice. Later, Taucher was hurt, so Burke was called upon to back up Kimpton. Later Kimpton and Taucher were used to alternate at halfback when Dave Pepple was sidelined with a broken foot, making for more importance the roll of "second" quarterback. Meanwhile Burke was still holding tight to an end spot.

Then in the Medford game, Burke was being used at end, and the Pels were trailing 13-7 with less than a minute to play. At this time Burke moved to quarterback and Kimpton shifted over to Jerry's end position. On the first play, Burke faded back and calmly flipped a 26-yard pass right into the arms of Kimpton, who was covered by three Medford defenders and Klamath came out with a 13-13 tie. As Kimpton said following the game "it wasn't hard, Jerry just the same as handed the ball to me. It was a beautiful pass, not catch."

Besides the end and quarterback positions, Burke also found time to master the plays from a halfback position, where he was used at times. But to make the job even more outstanding, Jerry played halfback, linebacker and end on defense, and did a first-rate job at all three.

But football isn't the only sport where Jerry has given up his "own" position to help his coach and team.

Take for instance the last baseball season at KU. Jerry was a catcher, but McGinnis had veteran receivers Bob Kelly and Modesto Jimenez to rely on. But there was a hole in the infield left by the graduation of Ron Conner, Don Dexter and Gene Metler the year before. So, you guessed it, Burke turned in his catcher's mitt for a fielder's glove and went to work at second base. Here again he turned in a brilliant performance.

Following the high school diamond season, Burke turned out for Junior Legion baseball under coach Don Peterson. "Pete" was lacking a catcher since Kelly and "Mo" were too old. And Burke returned to his old spot behind the plate, a spot that the Legion club needed held. But there came a time when Peterson had a younger catcher, Kenny Bellum on hand, and short in the infield. Back again went Burke, and without a resistance

At the present time, Burke is holding down a spot on the Pelican basketball squad, and if he turns in many more showings such as he did in the Ashland series last weekend, that "number five" man Peterson has been looking for, will have been found.

Always hustling, and a true competitor must be the bywords in describing Burke. When graduation claims Jerry this spring, KUHS coaches are going to miss one of the finest "jack of all trades" one could find in high school athletics.

Although the big college scouts may pass Jerry for the "name" athletes, some medium or small college coach will pick up a prize.

WE HEARD JUST A FEW weeks back that Southern Oregon College was doing its best to attract students from Klamath Falls and the surrounding communities. If this is so, SOC has two strikes against it at the start if last Tuesday evening's SOC-Oregon Tech basketball game is of any importance.

The actions of Southern Oregon fans were not what one would classify as enticing to students interested in attending the Ashland college. One doesn't gain popularity by antics such as were pulled during the game Tuesday night, especially when you are visiting someone else's home.

The OTI-SOC rivalry is fine, but let's keep it at the proper level where it belongs. It takes a lot more courage to be a loser than a winner, on or off an athletic field.

One more thought that came to us during the same Tuesday night game, was the spirit displayed by OTI students. It was the first time in several seasons that we can say the Mile High Campus students have really gotten out and given their best for an OTI athletic squad. Keep up the good work members of the Tech student body, but remember, you are the ambassadors for your college, and your actions have a great deal to do with the popularity of your school just the same as the students at SOC.

BASIN BRIEFS . . . . . .

For those of you who have been calling and inquiring about the status of John Witte, Oregon's All-American football tackle and varsity wrestler, the injury keeping him out of this year's grappling program is not expected to hinder his chances for next season's football . . . coach Tommy Prothro informed us this past week that doctors are certain that Witte's shoulder will come around in six or eight weeks . . . the former KUHS football and wrestling star suffered a split muscle in his shoulder early last fall . . . in our talk with Prothro, the OSC mentor said he expects John's shoulder to be in A-1 condition by the time spring football rolls around . . . . . Dean Michaelis hit a high for the season, and possibly a new County B League scoring record last Tuesday night at Bly as his Sacred Heart teammates dumped the Bobcats in a non-league game . . . . Michaelis, a scooting little guard for Dino Obisso's club, potted 32 points against the Bly defenders, most of which came from in close to the basket from the pivot position . . . Michaelis, an all-county basketball and football selection, will be back for another year of county sports since he is only a junior . . . in fact, Obisso is only losing Dick Wickline from this year's basketball club . . . . the academy athletic future seems bright for next year . . . . . .

Paul McCall, former Klamath Union basketball and assistant football coach, must draw big basketballers like drawing a deep breath . . . . when McCall was at KUHS he had several big men in basketball and two state tournament teams that averaged around the 6-3 level, quite a figure for prep bounce ball . . . . now in his second year at Portland's Grant High, McCall has a 6-7 sophomore on the way up . . . and Portland prep writers see a bright high school career ahead of Mike Ledgewood. Grant's answer to Lincoln's Swede Halbrook and Franklin's Bjarne Jensen, who still has another year in high school lines . . . . . Television viewers who have been following the Pacific Coast Conference basketball games on Saturday afternoons, probably saw one of McCall's ex-Pelican tall firs . . . . . when Oregon State College took it on the chin while playing USC and Stanford before the video lenses, you might have seen 6-8 Ralph Carroll, a member of the 1950 Pelican team that finished second in the state tournament . . . . . Carroll didn't do much against Southern Cal, but tallied two points on a neat tip-in basket against Stanford last Saturday afternoon . . . . . .

Those of you who get a chance to take in the finals of the Women's City Bowling Tournament this afternoon and early evening shouldn't pass up the opportunity . . . . . some very fine kegling has been witnessed so far this past week as the gals entered their 16th consecutive tournament here in Klamath Falls . . . . this next week the pins get little rest as the men open their challenge city honors in the annual men's alley extravaganza . . . . . Lucky Lanes action starts at 1 o'clock and continues until the singles, doubles and city champions — all-events — are crowned sometime around 9 this evening . . . . . Guy Munsell was the second ex-Klamath high school product that has broken the backs of the basketballing Oregon Tech Owls this season . . . Munsell led a second half drive in last Wednesday's game at Ashland as SOC came from 10 points down to win 69-66 . . . . earlier in the season, Jack Sunitsch of Shasta Junior College sparked his team in the first game of an interstate series as the Redding JC split with Tech . . . . it just so happens that both Munsell and Sunitsch are freshmen and played together last year for the Pelicans . . . . George Jensen, sports editor of the Redding Record Searchlight, informs us that Shasta Junior College is interested in several Klamath County high school seniors . . . . the SJC athletic program seems to be on the upswing with the outlook very good for next year's football program and basketball is improving every . . . Jensen says the reason Shasta has turned towards the Klamath Basin at this time is that Sunitsch has "come through" in fine fashion for the Knights . . . .

Dons Set New Hoop Record

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of San Francisco Dons set a new major college record for successive basketball victories Saturday night—40 straight—with a 33-25 victory over California before a standing room crowd of 7,200 fans.

The Dons scored only once from the field in the second half as Cal at one stage held the ball for nine straight minutes without attempting to shoot.

The new win mark wiped out the old mark set by Long Island University in 1935-37 and equalled by Seton Hall in 1938-41.

The game, one of the lowest scoring duels in this collegiate season, saw the Dons rally for 10 points in the final five minutes of the first half to take a 20-16 lead at the intermission.

The nation's No. 1 team pulled to a 26-21 lead in the first five minutes of the second half. Then Cal went into its wierd antics.

Joe Hagler, replacing starting center Duane Asplund who fouled out attempting to guard the Dons' All-America, Bill Russell, took the ball on the sideline in the fore court. He held it—and held it.

The remaining players, with the exception of Russell, milled around under the basket. Russell stood motionless some 15 feet from Hagler. He made no attempt to harrass the Bear pivot man. Nine minutes passed with the action at an almost complete standstill as the other players relaxed too.

Finally Cal Pete Newell called a time out.

When play resumed the Bears took a shot, missed and the Dons went into a stall of their own.

After the game Cal Coach Newell explained that his strategy was to reduce the playing time in an attempt to make a last minute break and whittle down the five-point deficit.

"It didn't quite work that way," Newell said ruefully.

Newell said he had hoped to lure Russell, a key defensive man, from his post under the basket and thus open the lane for a quick pass and layup. Russell refused to take the bait despite loud catcalls from the packed stands.

K.C. Jones was the game's high scorer with 15 points, 13 of them on free throws. Russell got only nine points with two field goals and five out of 10 free throws.

California jumped off to an early lead. The Bears were ahead 13-3 after 13 minutes of play, with USF having scored only once from the field during that time.

Dale Nicely Nips Puscas In Am Tussle

Basin fight fans received 11 action packed three round bouts Saturday night in one of the finest "fight - for - fun" programs ever staged in Klamath Falls by the Klamath Falls Moose Club. In a flurry of leather, the night's listic action culminated at the Fairgrounds' Exhibition Building in the final bout which pitted Jackie Puscas, Medford, National AAU champ, against Portland Multnomah Athletic Club's Dale Nicely, Tennessee State champ. Nicely won the bout by one slim point, capturing 50 of the points to Puscas' 49. The match was well-received, with both boys nearing exhaustion at the end.

The curtain raiser between Randy Jones and Arnie Gallagher, both of Chiloquin in the 35-pound class, ended in a draw. Both paperweights were game, but few punches landed.

In the other bouts: Bob Little, Medford, knocked out Randy Smith, Coos Bay, in the second round; John Peterson, MAC, was declared winner in a "no-bout" match over Klamath Falls' Boggie Gallagher; Chuck Boyd, MAC, decisioned Eddie Cole, Klamath Falls; Dave Peters, MAC, TKO'd Walter Mose, Klamath Falls, in the third round; Larry Nored, Medford, decisioned Bruce Chambers, Coos Bay.; Darrell Erdman, MAC, decisioned Jackie Gibbons, Klamath Falls; "Porky" Cole, Klamath Falls, decisioned Wayne Koloiss, unattached; Lorean Christean, Medford, and Mose Martinez, Klamath Falls, fought a two-round exhibition, and Larry Lewis, Medford, TKO'd Darryl McQuary, MAC, in first round.

Marshfield Tops Medford In Upset Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Marshfield, steadily growing more impressive, upended strong Medford, 57-50, in high school basketball play Friday night.

For Marshfield, ranked fifth in the latest Associated Press poll in Oregon, it was the ninth win of the season. There were two losses, suffered early in the season when the Marshfield players, fresh from the football squad, had not yet shaken off all the gridiron kinks.

For Medford, the No. 3 team in the poll, it was the third defeat against 12 wins.

Other top-ranked teams came through with victories, although two of them had to struggle hard.

Eugene, No. 2 in the state, poured in 12 points in the last minute and 40 seconds to defeat Roseburg, 50-46.

South Salem, ranked No. 6, got all the argument it wanted from its cross-town rival, North Salem, before emerging with a 52-49 decision.

Milton-Freewater, ranked No. 8, rolled to a 58-44 victory over The Dalles.

The state's No. 1 team, Jefferson of Portland, was idled by snow as were the other teams in Portland.

John Landy Turns In Second Fastest Mile

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Long-striding John Landy, the world's fastest miler, cracked the four-minute mark again Saturday with a sensational 3:58.6 clocking —second fastest mile ever run.

In running the first sub-four minute mile ever recorded in Australia, the lanky schoolteacher may have convinced himself that he should definitely give up retirement and stick around for the 1956 Olympic Games starting here Nov. 22.

Landy was only six-tenths of a second off his world record of 3:58 flat as he whirled around the Olympic Park track to defeat Merv-Lincoln and Ron Clarke.

But, he didn't think his time would be good enough to win the 1,500-meter race in the next Olympic Games, although he said he was "reasonably satisfied."

"It was a good run, but not what I wanted to do," said Landy, in his third race after a year of retirement.

"To win the Olympics I must be able to run a mile in 3:55 or 3:56. I was trying to anticipate today what will be needed then. I have gone so far now I must keep on but this time today can easily be duplicated overseas."

Lincoln finished second to Landy, and the crowd went wild as he gave the champion a battle all the way until the final yards. Lincoln was hot on Landy's heels until near the finish when Landy pulled away. As it was, Lincoln was timed in 4:00.6, good enough to get his name among the world's top 10 milers.

Landy amazed the sports world June 21, 1954, at Turku, Finland, with his 3:58 record, which clipped 1.4 seconds off the mark of England's Roger Bannister.

Saturday's effort was the third time Landy has broken four minutes. He did 3:59.6 at Vancouver, B. C., in the British Empire Games Aug. 7, 1954, but was defeated by Bannister, who won in 3:58.8.

After that famous "Mile of The Century," Landy retired and became a professor of agriculture. But the running bug bit him again with the approach of the 1956 Olympic Games.

Five men now have broken the four-minute mile. In addition to Landy and Bannister, they are Laszlo Tabori of Hungary, and England's Chris Chataway and Brian Hewson.

Stanford Batters Webfoots

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Stanford's pressing defense was too much for the Oregon Ducks Saturday and the Indians won a Pacific Coast Conference basketball game, 73-60. Stanford also beat Oregon Friday night 74-55.

It was Stanford's sixth league victory against two losses. Oregon has a 2-4 mark in the conference.

Stanford has a 13-2 season record. This was its ninth staight home victory.

Stanford held a 32-28 lead at the half and opened up in the second period with a tight, aggressive man-for-man defense that threw the Oregon play patterns out of joint. Oregon made only 16 of its 63 shots from the floor, only 25.4 per cent.

George Selleck hit for seven Stanford field goals in the first half and ended the game with 23 points. Barry Brown, Indian center, scored 17 points and held Oregon's Capt. Max Anderson to three field goals.

Anderson got 10 additional points at the free throw line. His teammate, Charlie Franklin, led the Ducks with 18.

Three Indians and one Duck fouled out. The officials called a total of 48 personal fouls and one technical foul.

The score was tied 12 times in the first half before Selleck hit on four long jump shots in a row That put Stanford ahead to stay.

Trojans Down Idaho Vandals For 73-59 Win

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Southern California's Trojans took almost complete control of the backboards Saturday night to whip by Idaho's disorganized Vandals for a 73-59 Pacific Coast Conference basketball win.

The winners, held to a 5-point lead at the half, spurted ahead after intermission and were safely in front 46-33 with only three minutes gone of the second half.

Idaho was hurt by a combination of injuries and fouls.

Starting forward Jack Mitchell injured an ankle Friday night and was unable to play. Jerry Jorgenson, the other regular forward, hurt a knee and did not play in the second half. Jim Branom, 6-foot-8 sophomore center, fouled out in the first half and regular guard Jay Buhler left on fouls after less than a minute of the second period.

Led by Jack Lovrich, Tony Psaltis and Jack Dunne, the Trojans stayed completely in command throughout the second half.

CORVALLIS (AP) — Washington, after trailing at the half turned the game into a rout in the second period Saturday night to win, 83-63, for a sweep of its Pacific Coast Conference series with Oregon State.

The score was tied 11 times in the first half, and just before intermission guard Ken Nanson sank a 20-foot shot to give Oregon State a 37-35 lead.

That was the last stand of the Staters, however, for Bruno Boin, Karl Voegtlin and Jim Coshow began grabbing all rebounds in sight for Washington in the second period. The visitors moved in front, 39-38, on a Boin push shot and moved steadily away from there.

Their longest lead was 22 points, shortly before the end of the game.

Boin, the 6-6 sophomore center, again led Washington in scoring with 24 points. Voegtlin added 18 and Coshow 11.

Dave Gambee, Oregon State's 6-6 sophomore center, and senior forward Bob Allord had 16 each for the Staters.

The win gave Washington a 5-1 conference record. Oregon State dropped to 2-6.

A crowd of 5,351 watched Washington duplicate the victory of Friday night, when Oregon State made a close game of it through the first half only to fade as Washington began to dominate the backboards.

Washington sank 45 per cent of its shots Saturday night, 29 or 64, while Oregon State was sinking 23 of 73, 31 per cent.

Olson's Manager Faced With Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former welterweight fighter, now a Modesto policeman, filed a $297,000 suit Friday against Sid Flaherty, fight manager whose stable includes dethroned middleweight champion Bobo Olson.

Johnny Miller, 32, charged Flaherty with fraud and deceit on two counts. Miller said he signed a California Athletic Commission contract with the manager in 1947 and said he was led to believe that Flaherty also had him under a worldwide contract for seven years.

Miller said the State Athletic Commission rejected an application for the worldwide contract and Flaherty destroyed it. If he had known that, said Miller, he would have fought under his own management outside of California. He charged also that Flaherty refused to allow fights he could have obtained in the state after expiration of the California contract.

Owls Win Saturday OCC Tilt

MONMOUTH (Special) —Oregon Technical Institute of Klamath Falls bounced back from their Friday night 62-49 loss to Oregon College of Education here last night as the Owls toppled the OCE Wolves 66-61 in an Oregon Collegiate Conference cage battle.

The victory boosted the Owls from last place and lowered the OCE cagers back into the conference basement, after one day out of the low spot in the league standings. The win was Tech's second against six losses, while OCE has a 1-6 standing.

Johnny Foster poured 26 points through the net to lead the winners as they gained a split in their weekend series. Tech held a half-time margin of seven points, 38-31 after a nip and tuck first half's action.

OTI took an early lead in the game, but could never work their way too far ahead of the always charging Wolves. With only two minutes remaining to play in the first half, three quick field goals, one each by Foster, Paul Hatcher and Bobby Whitman, pushed Tech into their halftime bulge of seven counters.

In the second half, Oregon Tech moved out in front 51-41 with about 11 minutes left in the fracas. At this point the Mile High Campus hoopsters took up their slow and deliberate style of ball that won them a 69-49 upset victory over Southern Oregon last Tuesday night at Klamath Falls. Oregon College narrowed the count down to five points late in the game, but that was the closest the Wolves could get as the Owls pulled the contest out of the fire.

Following Foster's 26 high point efforts came Barry Adams of OCE with 16. Daryl Girod of Oregon College added 14, while Tech's John McCutcheon tallied 13.

Oregon Tech hit 23 of 63 shots from the field for a .317 per cent, while OCE hit on .373 of their attempts with a 22-59 record. In the rebound department, OCE topped OTI 37-31, but Foster led the individual efforts with 11 snares.

In Friday night's win by Oregon College, Tech couldn't standup under a potent second half attack paced by Cecil Miller and Ron Jones as they tumbled into the conference basement position, and OCE climbed out for the first time this year.

The win for the Wolves marked the end of a 13-game losing streak, five of which were in league play.

The teams were tied 26-26 at the half, and Oregon Tech boomed into a quick 30-26 lead just as the second half opened, but OCE bounced back with a spurt of their own.

Led by Miller and Jones, the Wolves began to run and were not slowed by the Tech quintet. After OCE built their lead to a 10-point, 40-30 margin there was little doubt as to the outcome of the OCC battle. Miller topped the scorers with 32 points for game honors, while OTI's Johnny Foster added 19. Jones hit 11 for the winners.

This Friday and Saturday, OTI hosts Portland State College in another Oregon Collegiate Conference series.
