LaRayne Harris Wins Third City Bowling Championship

The 16th annual City Women's Bowling Tournament came to a close at Lucky Lanes bowling alley Sunday night, and LaRayne Harris stood atop the crowd with her third city championship in four seasons.

Harris captured the number three city crown with a 1629 scratch score for the week-long tourney. Scores that gave Harris the title included a team total of 540, 558 more pins in doubles play, and a singles mark of 531. Other city titles won by LaRayne came in 1953 and 1955.

Opal McDonald won the all-events handicap division with a resounding 1781 score for the week's work.

In the Class A singles, Dorothy Bowen came off in top spot with a 609, while Doris Benedict finished in second place with a 578. Opal McDonald was third in the final round-down with a 563, followed by Bunny Addison in fourth after posting a 562. Other top scores included Marcy Hunt's 558 and Audrey Thomas' 557.

Ruth Robb captured the Class B singles laurels with a 601 pin total, while Betty Scott settled for the number two position with a 588. Scotty Bray was third, one pin down, with a 587 and Jean Rodgers closed out in fourth place with her 574. Leila Weston, Joy Adreon and Mary Thompson finished in the money with 572, 568 and 558 final scores.

Class C singles honors went to a first-year kegler, Marcy Gerich, who rolled a 591 winning margin. Cecelia Duracha and Daisy Douglas ended the C division singles race deadlocked with identical scores of 575. A score of 574 earned Eole Georges the fourth place position, with Barbara Cook finishing in fifth with the money with 572, 568 and 558 final scores.

Opal McDonald and her partner, Mabel Wachter shared the honors in the race for the city doubles championship with a grand total of 1206 pins. This score was rolled in the first shift Sunday afternoon and followed all challenges that followed. Eldina Greenwood and Juanita Misco were second with 1151. Cecelia Duracha teamed with Rolanda Rosterella for third place, while Ruth Carr and Leona Sparks grabbed fourth. The Duracha - Rosterella team rolled a 1140, and the combo of Cary-Sparks tallied a 1138. Mavis Dick and Sylvia Book placed fifth with their 1119 score.

Friday night, KC Paints displaced Shoop and Schulze, 1955 winner, as the city team champion with a score of 2648.

Scotty Bray's high game of 231 rolled last Monday evening stood up for the week, and Dorothy Bowen rolled a 230 for second best game Sunday afternoon. Dorothy Omerite bowled an all-spare game of 178, the only all-spare line reported during the week's kegling action.

In one of the many extra contests held during the 16th city tourney, Vivian White walked off with the prize that few bowlers wanted, the most splits. During the nine game-tournament, White collected 23 splits, good for the prize.

In the biggest oddity of the tournament, the laurels were kept in the family. LaRayne Harris, Dorothy Bowen and Ruth Robb are all sisters, and won the All-Events, Class A and Class B singles. What happened to Class C? It is said that there isn't a fourth sister.

Klamath Basin fight fans, who braved Saturday night's chill wind to see the second annual Moose Amateur Boxing show in the Fairgrounds' building, received a preview of "tomorrow's leather-tossers," and some of the patrons are still probably discussing the fine array of "amateur" talent that met in 11 bouts. The youthful pugilists for these bouts of three-round duration were furnished by the Moose Boys' Club of Klamath Falls, Portland's Multnomah Athletic Club, and the Medford Police Athletic League.

In the final bout of the double main event, Dale Nicely, Multnomah Athletic Club and Tennessee AAU titlist, barely captured a one-point decision over Medford's Jackie Puscas, who holds the national amateur claim. The final tally favored Nicely 50-49. The three rounds were closely-contested with Puscas forcing the fight all the way, but being unable to solve the Tennessee kid's stinging left jab. Puscas landed heavy body blows in the initial round, but failed to protect his face from Nicely's barrage in the final two rounds. The winner weighed 149 and Puscas 137.

The curtain-raiser, definitely drawing the greatest crowd approval for the entire evening, pitted two 35-pounders from Chiniquin, Randy Jones and Arnie Gallagher, who were two weary battlers, when referee Wally Moss raised both of their arms for a decision at the end of the third round. Both "paperweights" were gamblers from the opening bell. A lot of leather was tossed, but most of it cut the building air.

The night's second bout saw Bob Little, Medford, knock out Coos Bay's Randy Smith in the first minute of the second round. Both boys weighed 100.

Referee Pete Belcastro halted the third bout shortly after its beginning in the first round, declaring "no bout." John Peterson, MAC, matched against Klamath Falls' Boggie Gallagher, received the winner's trophy. Peterson, a head taller than Gallagher, had a reach advantage, and was delivering real punishment to the local battler, when Belcastro intervened. Peterson weighed 128 to Gallagher's 130.

Chuck Boyd, 154-pounder from MAC, battered Eddie Cole, Klamath Falls' Boggie Gallagher, received until the bout's end for defending his real punishment to the local battler, when Belcastro intervened. Peterson weighed 128 to Gallagher's 130.

Walter Mose, Klamath Falls, found Multnomah Club's Dave Peters and mid-section blows too rugged, and the bout ended in a TKO for Mose. Boyd's powerful attack included terrific body blows and sledge-hammer uppercuts. Cole weighed 155.

Other hopefuls seeking NCAA berth return to the task tonight after layoffs for exams. Illinois (4-0) gets back to the Big Ten race against Minnesota with a chance to tighten its first-place grip. Kansas State, tied with Colorado and the Big Seven lead against Oklahoma, K-State and Colorado have at it Saturday, with Kansas meeting fourth-place Iowa State.

Pels Host U of O Frosh

University of Oregon's Frosh wrestling squad invades Pelican Court tonight at 7:30 to tangle with the Klamath Union High School Pelicans in a rematch of an early season meeting at Eugene.

Coach Duich Simons' Pelican grapplers will be seeking to avenge a 25-12 loss to the Frosh a few weeks back, and are going after win number six against three losses for an overall season's mark.

Ron Conner, former state high school champion for KUHS, will be helping against his ex-teammates and coach tonight as he will be carrying the U of O's colors. In the first match of the year between the Pels and Frosh, Conner, a 133-pounder, defeated KU's Gary Roberts 4-0 in a 133-pound bout.

The 13-bout program is expected to bring together some of the finest freshman grapplers on the Pacific Coast, and one of the leading contenders for the Oregon high school crown.

USF's Success To Grow

By ED WILKS
The success of the San Francisco Dons...

It's not likely. But that's about the only thing that figures to trouble the all-winning Dons until they put their major college basketball championship on the line in March in the NCAA Tournament.

Coach Phil Woolpert's club has leveled everything in sight, ringing in 40 straight victories for an all-time major college record. And the 11 games remaining on their regular season schedule wouldn't scare your timid Aunt Minnie.

What's more, top-ranked San Francisco now is really all alone atop the national rankings. Dayton, which gave the Dons at least token opposition for the No. 1 spot while rolling to a 14-0 mark, was chopped down by Louisville 66-64 in overtime last weekend.

All that stands between the Dons and a 51-0 record are the weak sisters of the California Bakers, who became victim No. 40 last Saturday in a 77-57 rout. A victory No. 41 (tomorrow night), Santa Clara, College of the Pacific and the like.

The Dons never ran into anybody quite like the California Bears, who became victim No. 40 last Saturday in a 77-57 rout. A victory No. 41 (tomorrow night), Santa Clara, College of the Pacific and the like.

Tulelake steamrolled over the visiting Klamath Union Wildcats Saturday night, 64-27, in a non-league game at Tule. The Hoopsters led all the way including a 24-8 half-time margin. Ron Stump topped the game's scoring with 17.

In the preliminary game, Tule's B team knocked off the Klamath Frosh 44-38.

Tenley Albright Moves Into Early Figure Skating Lead

By TED SMITH
CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — Graciel Tenley Albright, America's bright gold medal hope, covered Campezzo Valley to win in 49 minutes, 39 seconds. The distance covered nine miles, 560 yards.

Sednen's sister Jernberg, who was second in last Friday's 20-kilometer grind, captured the silver medal in 50:14 while Russia's Pavel Kolchin took third in 50:17 to boost the Soviet's commanding team lead.

America's two entries finished out of the running. Andrew Miller, a 24-year-old Army man from McCall, Idaho, was 41st in 56:08 while Larry Damon, 22-year-old collegian from Burlington, Vt., was 51st with 57:18.

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP) — The powerful Russians continued their cascade of gold medals

Monday when two young speed skaters, Yuri Mikhailov and Eugeny Grishin, tied for the 1500 meter metric mile championship in the identical world record breaking time of 2 minutes, 8.6 seconds.

In the women's special slalom, defending champion Andrea Mead Lawrence of Parshal, Colo., hit a gate on her first descent, and may have jeopardized her chances. The 23-year-old mother of three was clocked in 57.5 seconds for the first of her two tries down the twisting, hazardous course.

The best opening run was recorded by Renee Collard, a pretty Swiss miss in her first bigtime competition, who did 55.6.

The slalom favorite, Madeleine Berthod of Switzerland, like Lawrence, fell at the next-to-last gate and just about eliminated herself. She was timed in 64.4 seconds.

Mrs. Dorothy Sargen of Seattle, Wash., subbing for the injured Betsy Sutte, turned in a creditable 1:00.1, the fastest of the last third of the field. Miss Sutte, from Norwich, Vt., injured her left knee in a practice spin Sunday.

Gladys (Skeets) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was times in 1:13.9. Penny Pitou, 17-year-old schoolgirl from Laconia, N.H., had 1:26.2.

In figure skating Miss Albright, who gashed her left leg in a pre-Olympic rehearsal, took up where Hayes Alan Jenkins, in the world men's figure skating king, took off Sunday. Jenkins has piled up a big lead in the men's competition.

In scoring for the first figure, Miss Albright was given 169.5 points and the 16-year-old Miss Heiss was given 162.9. The ladies must skate three of the five compulsory or fixed figures—Monday and the free skating phase Thursday.

Yvonne Sargent of Britain was third in the standings with 159 points, followed by Hanna Eigel of Austria with 157.2 and Catherine Machado of Long Beach, Calif., with 151.2.

The Russian's third place in the cross country boosted the Soviet Union's unofficial team total to 64 points, more than twice that of the runner-up Austrians, who had 29. The U.S. is far back with 61.

Cherberg Lashes Out After Being Released

SEATTLE (AP) — Johnny Cherberg, the lonesome "Cowboy" whose bow-legs were hustled off the University of Washington football range last Friday has come out a-gring after his Friday, Saturday, until last Friday afternoon the head football coach at Washington, had answered all the six-shooters of his foes with a "no comment" the past couple of months.

But now that he's out, the Cowboy has come out with some uppercase yip-ee-yays, which—he says—explain some of the reasons the Cherberg grid coach ground to an unceremonious stop. For instance, Jim Sutherland, was named as an "unhappy alliance" of Washington "brass" and "sabotage" by the new Washington State College grid coach, Jim Sutherland, were named as leading to the firing.

Cherberg was canned after the rekindling of the feud which resulted in 30 or so of his critics protesting what they called his tyrannical coaching methods. The protests came after the end of the 1955 season.

During the turmoil Cherberg remained silent. But after getting the axe, he touched off his counter-artillery. Here are some of the things he had to say:

About UW vice president H. P. Everest and athletic director Harvey Cassill—Cherberg said he inherited the product of an "unhappy alliance" of Everest, Cassill and Roscoe C. Torchy, Torrance, an alumnus, businessman, and reportedly key man in athletic recruiting. Players were threatened with having outside aid cut off if they backed Cherberg, the ex-coach said.

Cherberg added that the feud might have been settled amicably but for outside interference and lack of cooperation from Everest and Cassill.

Everest declined comment. Cassill was out of town. There was no comment from Torrance.

About the new WSC football coach, Jim Sutherland—Sutherland was accused of "deliberate insubordination and sabotage" in changing Washington's starting signal in the Washington-Idaho game last fall.

Washington finally won the game 14-7, but committed 11 fumbles, a Pacific Coast Conference record.

Cherberg said Sutherland, then the backfield coach, had instructed the Washington center, Bert Watson, to pass the ball to the quarterback a half-count sooner than the starting signal used in practice. Cherberg said he and his other assistants were not told of the change—which wasn't detected until viewing of motion pictures of the fumble-filled fray.

Cherberg said: "It was obvious the timing was completely off. The coaches watching the film asked Sutherland what was going on, and he told them 'I was just trying an experiment.'"

Cherberg said he wanted to fire Sutherland immediately. But he said Cassill advised him to wait. Sutherland, reached by telephone by The Seattle Times, declined comment.
