

Aloha Chapter

A stated meeting of Aloha Chapter No. 61 OES was held Tuesday evening January 24 at the Masonic Temple with Martha Powell, worthy matron and Harold Rusb, worthy patron presiding. Lynn A. Martin, Jennie Hurn and James Fowler, past matrons and patron, greeted all members and visitors upon arrival.

The installation decor was used with sprays of pink cherry blossoms to brighten the chapter room. Edna Jones and Jack Rhodes, junior past matron and patron were escorted and seated in the east. An original poem of appreciation dedicated to the junior past officers was read by James and Betty Hunter. James Hunter composed the poem.

First time visitors were: Florence and Theo Schonebaum from Bemidji Chapter No. 171, Bemidji, Minnesota, and Gladys Eager from Doric Chapter No. 53, Coos Bay. Refreshments were served in the banquet room by co-chairmen, Betty Alexander and Arlo Andrus and their committee: Vera Likenback, Myrtle Ackerman and Anna Bean. The tables were decorated with clusters of pine needles and vari-colored cones.

The next stated meeting will be February 14. A Valentine party is planned with the Friendship ladies and escorts in charge of entertainment and refreshments.

DAR MEETS FEBRUARY 6

Eulonia Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold their regular meeting on Monday evening, February 6 at the home of Mrs. Arthur Denison, 437 North Third Street at 7:30 p.m. The new officers for the chapter will be elected and installed at this meeting.

Mrs. Phillip Brixner is in charge of the program for the evening and the program topic is the "Role of the Patriots."

Members are asked to remember that the chapter is holding a rummage sale on Saturday, February 11 in the Pelican Theater Building at Eighth and Klamath. Members are asked to take their rummage either to the February 6 meeting or to the Pelican Theater Building on the afternoon of February 10.

Also during February, the Oregon State Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, are celebrating their 60th Anniversary since founding of the organization.

Mrs. Longmire New RN Oracle

Elsie Longmire was installed as oracle of the Royal Neighbors of America at a ceremony January 27 in the K.C. Hall.

Serving with her will be Estella Shulmire, vice oracle; Karen Lancaster, past oracle; Kathleen Hepburn, chancellor; Jessie Steele, recorder; Deola Wryn, receiver; Frances Lillian, marshal; Nancy Yancy, inner sentinel; Louise LaSalle, outer sentinel; Millie LaMothe, faith; Alice Hoover, courage; Thelma Morris, modesty; Helen Dixon, unselfishness; Julia Williams, endurance; Anna Shaffer, flag bearer; Kathryn Smith, musician and Ada Barleen, degree captain.

Alice Hoover, past oracle, was installing officer. Kate Hogue was ceremonial marshal. Ada Barleen was assistant ceremonial marshal. During the social hour T-Sgt. J. B. Shrum of the Ground Observer Corps played the harmonica; Shirley Winterringer and Bruce Elliott sang several numbers. Freda Ustick was at the piano.

Dinner Party

LANGELL VALLEY—Frank W. Brown was honored guest at a turkey dinner January 28, at the Bill Burnett home to celebrate his birthday. A social evening followed the dinner. Helping him celebrate were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Grallan, Steven, Michael, Danny and David Grallan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noble and Charlotte Noble, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burnett, Richard, Monte and Marla Burnett.

CELEBRATING HER 94TH birthday at an open house on February 5, pictured is Mrs. Urana Arthur. She was born during the early part of the Civil War between the states near Walla Walla when Washington was still a territory, and has been a Lakeview resident since 1914.

LAKEVIEW—One of Lakeview's oldest citizens, Mrs. Urana Arthur, will celebrate her 94th birthday on February 5. That afternoon from 2 until 4 p.m. her granddaughter, Mrs. R. J. Carmody, will hold an open house at her home for Mrs. Arthur's friends. Although known as Rena to her Lakeview friends, Mrs. Arthur states her correct name is Urana.

ALOHA PAST MATRONS CLUB

Betty Hunter, Norma Uerlings and Gladys Eager were hostesses to the Aloha Past Matrons Club at a 1 o'clock luncheon Friday January 27 at the parlor of the Masonic Hall.

Delightful refreshments were served and Valentine motifs were used as decorations on the tables. Twenty-seven sisters were present. Florence Shonebaum of Bemidji Chapter No. 171, Bemidji, Minnesota was a special guest of the afternoon.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Grace Cole.

Clair Alice Epperson told of visiting an Eastern Star Chapter in Montgomery, Alabama and that she greatly enjoyed the wonderful Southern hospitality extended to her.

Norma Uerlings, Betty Hunter, Gladys Eager, Alma Cofer and Alma Getz put on a clever and humorous skit in which they imitated and welcomed Edna Jones, junior past matron of Aloha Chapter into the Past Matrons Club. During the social hour cards were played.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held on February 24 in the Masonic Hall. There will be potluck luncheon at one o'clock.

She was born on February 5, 1862 to Mr. and Mrs. Burr Beebe in Washington Territory near Walla Walla. Her parents had come West from 2 until 4 p.m. her granddaughter, Mrs. R. J. Carmody, will hold an open house at her home for Mrs. Arthur's friends.

When she married her first husband, Jess Robert Sweet, and they had two children, Maude and Alfred. While the children were small Mr. Sweet died and his widow did nursing in Surprise Valley before moving to Plush, in Warner Valley, where she opened a rooming house. In 1914 she moved to Lakeview and in 1915 married Gil F. Arthur, who died about 1931.

Her son Alfred Sweet now lives in Cedarville. Her daughter, Mrs. Maude O'Callaghan, died in 1950. She has seven grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and 15 great-great-grandchildren.

A dainty woman, just a few inches over five feet, with brown hair just slightly grey, Mrs. Arthur can't understand why everyone is fussing about the cold weather. "This doesn't seem like a bad winter to me for I've seen lots colder ones in Lake County," she said.

With a chuckle she remarked, "You don't need to raise your voice when speaking to me. My hearing is so good I can hear a pin drop."

STEYSKAL-FLINK VOWS EXCHANGED, SACRAMENTO

TULELAKE—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steyskal of Tulelake will be interested to learn of the wedding of their daughter, Mary, on January 7 in Sacramento, to Andrew Flink of that city. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Flink, Sacramento.

The petite bride, graduate of the Tulelake High School with the class of 1955, chose white lace over satin for her street length wedding gown made with a deep, rounded neckline, tight bodice and full-flared skirt. Her short tulle veil fell from a pearl-studded tiara. She carried an arrangement of white carnations centered with red rose buds.

Mary was given in marriage by her fathers The Rev. James Brecheise read the marriage service. Jean Taylor, Tulelake, maid of honor wore a short, full-skirted frock of blue taffeta and carried white carnations.

The best man was Ray Fuentes, Sacramento. Ushers were Kenneth Steyskal, Tulelake, and Merle Amick, Sacramento. Roberta Hammer, Tulelake, presided at the guest book.

A reception followed the 7:30 o'clock ceremony. Among those present for the ceremony and reception were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steyskal and son Kenneth, Jean Taylor, Roberta Hammer and Mrs. Joe Schmidli, all of Tulelake; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Walgreen and daughter Barbara, Hay Springs, Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. William Steyskal, Sacramento and Lewis Davis, University of California, Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Flink will make their home in Sacramento where Mr. Flink is with Sears, Roebuck and Company and Mrs. Flink is with the Bank of America.
